That's my kind of friend!

- ▶ Discuss personalities and qualities
- ▶ Discuss likes and dislikes

1 SNAPSHOT

ROMANCE AND MARRIAGE IN THE UNITED STATES

When choosing a spouse or partner, single Americans want to find someone with . . .

In your opinion, which of the things above are most important to look for in a partner? Did any of the items surprise you? Which? Why? Are there other important qualities missing from the list?

2 CONVERSATION What are you looking for?

▶ A Listen and practice.

Joe: What are you doing?

Roy: I'm setting up my profile for this online dating site. I have to describe the kind of person I'm looking for.

Joe: I see. And what are you looking for?

Roy: Oh, I like people who aren't too serious and who have a good sense of humor. You know, someone I can have fun with.

Joe: OK. Uh, what else?

Roy: Well, I'd like someone I have something in common with – who I can talk to easily.

Joe: I think I know just the girl for you: my cousin Lisa. She's a lot of fun and she loves sports, just like you.

Roy: Well, why not? I'll give it a try.

Joe: OK, I'll invite her over for dinner, and you can tell me what you think.

▶ B Listen to Joe and Roy discuss Lisa after they had dinner together. What did Roy think of her?

3 GRAMMAR FOCUS

Relative pronouns

As the subject of a clause

I like people who/that aren't too serious.

I like people who/that have a good sense of humor.

As the object of a clause

I want someone (who/that) I can have fun with.

I'd like someone (who/that) I can talk to easily.

GRAMMAR PLUS see page 132

- g. can give me good advice.

B Put a line through who/that in part A if it's optional. Then compare with a partner.

C PAIR WORK Complete the sentences in column A with your own information.

Do you and your partner have similar opinions?

A: I don't like to work with people who are too competitive.

B: Neither do I. I like to work with people who are friendly and helpful.

4 WORD POWER Personality traits

A Match the words with the definitions. Then decide whether the words are positive (P) or negative (N). Write P or N after each word.

- h 1. easygoing P
- _____ 2. egotistical _____
- _____ 3. inflexible _____
- _____ 4. modest _____

- f. a person who enjoys being with other people
- g. a person who has unpredictable or irregular moods
- h. a person who doesn't worry much or get angry easily
- i. someone who doesn't brag about his or her accomplishments

B PAIR WORK Cover the definitions. Take turns talking about the adjectives in your own words.

"An easygoing person is someone who . . ."

C PAIR WORK Think of at least two adjectives to describe your favorite relative. Then tell a partner.

5 LISTENING What's new?

- A Listen to conversations that describe three people. Are the descriptions positive (P) or negative (N)? Check (✓) the box.

1. Emma	<input type="checkbox"/> P	<input type="checkbox"/> N
2. Mrs. Leblanc	<input type="checkbox"/> P	<input type="checkbox"/> N
3. Pablo	<input type="checkbox"/> P	<input type="checkbox"/> N

- B Listen again. Write two adjectives that describe each person in the chart.

6 DISCUSSION The right qualities

- A What is the ideal friend, parent, or partner like? Add your own type of person under People. Then write one quality each ideal person should have, and one each should not have.

People	This person is . . .	This person is not . . .
The ideal friend
The ideal parent
The ideal partner
The ideal

- B GROUP WORK Take turns describing your ideal people. Try to agree on the two most important qualities for each person.

A: I think the ideal friend is someone who is supportive and who is a good listener.

B: I agree. The ideal friend is someone who isn't critical . . .

C: Oh, I'm not sure I agree. . . .

7 WRITING A good friend

- A Think about a good friend. Answer the questions. Then write a paragraph.

What is this person like?
 How long have you known each other?
 How did you meet?
 How are you similar?
 How are you different?
 What makes your relationship special?

My friend Nolan is easygoing and doesn't take life too seriously.
 He's someone who loves to have fun, and he makes sure everyone else has a good time, too. We met about six years ago . . .

- B PAIR WORK Exchange paragraphs. How are your friends similar? How are they different?

8 PERSPECTIVES Are you difficult to please?

- ▶ A Listen to some common complaints. Check (✓) the ones you agree with.

Do you get ANNOYED easily?
Take the quiz and find out.

- ☐ I can't stand it when a child screams in a restaurant.
- ☐ I can't stand it when I'm upset and people tell me to calm down.
- ☐ It bothers me when my doctor arrives late for an appointment.
- ☐ I don't like it when someone takes the last cookie without asking.
- ☐ It upsets me when a close friend forgets my birthday.
- ☐ I don't like it when people call me early in the morning on the weekend just to chat.
- ☐ It bothers me when a friend answers the phone at the dinner table.
- ☐ I hate it when people text the message "Call me."

Score: If you checked . . .

- 1–2 complaints: Wow! You don't get annoyed very easily.
- 3–4 complaints: You're fairly easygoing.
- 5–6 complaints: You get irritated pretty easily.
- 7–8 complaints: Relax! You get upset too easily.

- B Calculate your score. Do you get annoyed easily?
Tell the class what bothers you the most.

9 PRONUNCIATION Linked sounds

- ▶ A Listen and practice. Final consonant sounds are often linked to the vowel sounds that follow them.

It upsets me when a friend is late for an appointment.
I love it when a friend is supportive and kind.

- ▶ B Mark the linked sounds in the sentences below.
Listen and check. Then practice saying the sentences.

1. I hate it when a cell phone goes off at the movies.
2. I can't stand it when a person is inflexible.
3. Does it bother you when a friend is unreliable?

- C PAIR WORK Take turns saying the sentences in Exercise 8. Pay attention to linked sounds.

10 GRAMMAR FOCUS

A: I can't stand it when someone takes food off my plate.

B: I feel the same way. Especially when the person didn't order his or her own food!

C: Yeah, but it bothers me more when . . .

11 INTERCHANGE 1 Personality quiz

Interview a classmate to find out about his or her personality.
Go to Interchange 1 on page 114.

A Are you a frequent social media user? What kinds of things get your attention on social media?

HOME NEWS ABOUT CULTURE

SOCIAL NETWORKS THAT AREN'T FOR EVERYONE

Since social networking websites first appeared, many have come and some have gone. However, their purpose has generally been the same: keeping up with old friends, making new friends, and sharing pictures, videos, and bits of interesting news. In addition, some sites make it possible to pursue new relationships, either online or in the real world.

For some people who have very specific interests, generic sites like Facebook or Twitter are not sufficient. They want to be part of a supportive online community that shares their particular passions.

A good example is Stache Passions, a social site for people who wear, admire, or have an interest in moustaches. It features photos of men with all sizes and styles of moustaches, forums for discussing the history, growing, and styling of the 'stache, and even a meet-up page to help you meet other moustache-lovers.

Purrsonals is a specialized site for those who love cats. Here you can meet and chat with cat-loving friends, set up feline play-dates with local people and their pets, and even find a home for a cat in need. And if your friends don't like it when you share endless cute cat videos on your regular social site, Purrsonals is where people are sure to appreciate them!

On a more serious note, Horyou is a website for people that want to do good in the world. On the site, you can connect with other social activists and entrepreneurs, plan meetings, share fund-raising strategies, and keep up with thousands of people who are working hard to make the world a better place. There are no funny videos here, but Horyou offers its own web-based video channel that features programs and documentaries about efforts to improve people's lives around the globe.

B Read the article. Which website is good for the people below? Write S (Stache Passions), P (Purrsonals), or H (Horyou).

This site would be good for someone who . . .

1. has a strong interest in personal appearance. _____
2. is hoping to adopt a new pet. _____
3. wants to watch a bit of light entertainment. _____
4. wants ideas for improving others' lives. _____
5. is interested in styles from the past. _____
6. wants to raise money for a charity. _____

C Find the words in the article that mean the following.

1. enough for a purpose _____
2. places where a discussion can take place _____
3. to like and be grateful for something _____
4. people who want to accomplish political or social change _____
5. plans of action _____

D PAIR WORK Do you belong to any specialized social networking sites? If yes, what is the focus? If not, what type of specialized site might you join?

Working 9 to 5

- Discuss opinions, advantages, and disadvantages of jobs
- Compare various jobs

1 SNAPSHOT

What do you want from your career?

☐ Security

If you want to have stability, choose a job that you can keep for your whole life. You could be a federal judge, a public school teacher, or a university professor.

☐ Adventure

Perhaps you can't picture yourself doing the same thing, at the same place, for years and years. In that case, be something that will allow you to explore other places and other cultures, like an environmentalist or a tour guide.

☐ Money

Do you want to have a high-paying job? You may want to look into being a financial analyst, a doctor, or a stockbroker.

Rank the factors from 1 (most important) to 3 (least important). Compare with a partner.
Which factors did you consider when you chose your present job or your future career? Why?

2 PERSPECTIVES Career choices

- A Listen to students discuss career choices. Do you agree or disagree?
Check (✓) the speaker you agree with more.

I'd like to work in the video game industry. Playing games all day would be lots of fun.

I disagree! Playing the same game every day for months would be boring.

Designing clothes is not a man's job. Women are much more fascinated by fashion.

Being a flight attendant sounds very exciting. Traveling all the time would be really interesting.

But flight attendants get tired of traveling. They spend most of their time in airports!

That's not true! Many great fashion designers are men. Just look at Michael Kors!

- B Compare your responses with your classmates. Give more reasons to support your opinions.

I'd enjoy working with animals. I think working as a veterinarian could be rewarding.

I'm not so sure. Animals can be very unpredictable. Getting a dog bite would be scary!

3 GRAMMAR FOCUS

▶ Gerund phrases

Gerund phrases as subjects

Playing games all day would be lots of fun.

Being a flight attendant sounds exciting.

Designing clothes is not a man's job.

Working as a veterinarian could be rewarding.

Gerund phrases as objects

She'd be good at testing games.

He'd love being a flight attendant.

He wouldn't like being a fashion designer.

She'd enjoy working with animals.

GRAMMAR PLUS see page 133

A Look at the gerund phrases in column A. Write your opinion of each job by choosing information from columns B and C. Then add two more gerund phrases and write similar sentences.

A	B	C
1. working from home	seems	awful
2. doing volunteer work	could be	stressful
3. having your own business	would be	fantastic
4. working on a movie set	must be	fascinating
5. being a teacher	wouldn't be	pretty difficult
6. making a living as a tour guide	doesn't sound	kind of boring
7. taking care of sick people		really rewarding
8. retiring at age 40		very challenging
9. _____
10. _____

1. Working from home could be very challenging.

B PAIR WORK Give reasons for your opinions about the jobs in part A.

A: In my opinion, working from home could be very challenging.

B: Really? Why is that?

A: Because you have to learn to manage your time. It's easy to get distracted.

B: I'm not sure that's true. For me, working from home would be . . .

C GROUP WORK Complete the sentences with gerund phrases. Then take turns reading your sentences. Share the three most interesting sentences with the class.

- I'd get tired of . . .
- I'd be interested in . . .
- I'd be very excited about . . .
- I'd enjoy . . .
- I think I'd be good at . . .
- I wouldn't be very good at . . .

"I'd get tired of doing the same thing every day."

4 WORD POWER Suffixes

- A Add the suffixes -er, -or, -ist, or -ian to form the names of these jobs. Write the words in the chart and add one more example to each column.

software develop er _____	freelance journal _____	marketing direct _____	politic _____ computer technic _____	guidance counsel _____	project manag _____	psychiatr _____
-er	-or	-ist	-ian
software developer

- B PAIR WORK Can you give a definition for each job?

"A software developer is someone who creates apps for computers and other devices."

5 SPEAKING Career paths

GROUP WORK Talk about a career you would like to have. Use information from Exercises 1–4 or your own ideas. Other students ask follow-up questions.

A: I'd enjoy working as a guidance counselor.

B: Why is that?

A: Helping kids must be really rewarding.

C: Where would you work?

A: Well, I think I'd like to work at a high school.
I enjoy working with teens.

6 WRITING What's more satisfying?

- A GROUP WORK What would you choose: a job that you love that doesn't pay well, or a high-paying job that you don't like? Discuss and list the consequences of the two alternatives.

- B Use the list to write a paragraph justifying your choice.

Having a high-paying job that you don't like could be very frustrating. First of all, you'd have to do something you don't like every day. You would have a lot of money. However, it's not worth it if ...

- C PAIR WORK Read your partner's paragraph. Do you agree or disagree? Why or why not?

useful expressions

First of all, ...

In addition, ...

Furthermore, ...

For example, ...

However, ...

On the other hand, ...

In conclusion, ...

7 CONVERSATION It doesn't pay as much.

▶ A Listen and practice.

Tyler: Guess what? . . . I've found a summer job!

Emma: That's great! Anything interesting?

Tyler: Yes, working at a beach resort.

Emma: Wow, that sounds fantastic!

Tyler: So, have you found anything?

Emma: Nothing yet, but I have a couple of leads.
One is working as an intern for a news website – mostly answering emails and posts from readers. Or I can get a job as a camp counselor again.

Tyler: Being an intern sounds more challenging than working at a summer camp. You could earn college credits, and it's probably not as much work.

Emma: Yeah, but the internship doesn't pay as much as the summer camp job. Do they have another opening at the beach resort? That's the kind of job I'd really enjoy.

▶ B Listen to the rest of the conversation. What is Tyler going to do at the resort?

▶ Comparisons

A Complete the sentences using the words in parentheses. Compare with a partner.
(More than one answer is possible.)

- In my opinion, being a firefighter is _____ (stressful) being a sales associate.
In addition, sales associates have _____ (hours) firefighters.
- In general, doctors need _____ (training) nutritionists. However, they usually _____ (earn) nutritionists.
- Game testers don't need _____ (experience) software developers.
As a result, they _____ (earn) software developers.
- A career in banking is often _____ (demanding) a career in sales, but it is also _____ (paid).

B PAIR WORK Compare the jobs in part A. Which would you choose? Why?

9 PRONUNCIATION Stress with compound nouns

- ▶ A Listen and practice. Notice that the first word in these compound nouns has more stress. Then add two more compound nouns to the chart.

•	•	•	•
firefighter	game tester	guidance counselor
hairstylist	flight attendant	project manager

- B GROUP WORK Which job in each column would be more challenging? Why? Tell the group. Pay attention to stress.

10 LISTENING It's not what I thought.

- ▶ A Listen to Caden talk to Janelle about his job as a video game tester. Which parts of the job does he like and dislike? Check (✓) Like or Dislike.

A Skim the web posts. Which person works in the most traditional workplace? the least traditional?

THE PERFECT WORKPLACE?

What is your workplace like? Tell us and see how other places compare!

My workplace is cooler than any office I've ever seen. Working here is really stimulating. I share a table with my co-workers, and the workplace is flooded with light. Getting free meals is great, and there are relaxing activities like billiards and board games. Plus we get a membership to a local gym! It isn't all play, of course – we work very hard – but the perks make it better than any other job I can imagine.

Lauren L., Palo Alto, California

When I got my job as a project manager for a finance company in London, I imagined a modern building with views of the city and open workspaces. When I arrived for my first day, I was pretty surprised. I found a typical cubicle farm, with desks as far as the eye could see. It works for me, though. I can concentrate in my own space and then talk with colleagues in the meeting rooms. We do have a great gym on the ground floor, so that's a bonus!

Catherine D., London, UK

I work in a research laboratory at a botanical garden. Working in a lab isn't as tedious as it sounds. That's because a lot of my work takes place in the greenhouses or outdoors. I love spending time among plants, and I enjoy working with other scientists who share my interests. True, the workplace isn't very luxurious. We have a tiny break room that some people complain about, and there isn't a place to work out or anything, but being outdoors so much makes up for the disadvantages.

Mark T., Bronx, New York

B Read the web posts. Who would have written these sentences about their workplace? Write the names.

1. Working in different environments keeps me from getting bored. _____
2. It's a perfect environment for sharing new ideas with co-workers. _____
3. There's nothing unique about it, but it's fine for the kind of work we do. _____
4. Visitors might get the idea that we don't take our work seriously. _____
5. Some employees are dissatisfied with the workplace, but I don't mind it. _____
6. I love being able to exercise without leaving the building. _____

C Find the words below in the web posts. Then complete the sentences with the words.

A Circle the correct answers. Then practice with a partner.

1. A: Is it OK if / Would / Do you mind I use your cell phone? Mine just died.
B: No problem, but can you keep it short? I'm expecting an important phone call.
2. A: Would you mind if I stay / staying / stayed at your place for the weekend?
B: Not at all. It'll be fun to have you stay with us.
3. A: I was wondering I could / if I could / if I would borrow your car tomorrow.
B: Sure, that's fine. Just be careful. I've only had it for a couple of months.
4. A: Could you lend / lending / lent me $20?
B: I'm sorry. I don't have any money to spare right now.
5. A: Would you mind help / helped / helping me pack my stuff this weekend?
B: No, I don't mind. I'm not doing anything then.
6. A: Would you mind / Can / Is it OK if you feed my cats while I'm on vacation, please?
B: Sorry, I don't get along with cats.

B Rewrite these sentences to make them more formal requests. Then practice making your requests with a partner. Accept or decline each request.

1. Come to my cousin's wedding with me.
2. Can I borrow your notes to study for the test?
3. Can you lend me your camera to take with me on my vacation?
4. Drive me to the airport.
5. Help me paint my apartment.
6. I'd like to borrow your cell phone to call a friend in London.

CAN YOU TELL IT LIKE IT IS?

There are some things that are almost impossible to say to our close friends – especially if we want them to be our friends for life. Are you wondering what problems others have with bringing up difficult subjects? Read on.

1. “I can’t stand your other friends.”
My best friend sometimes hangs out with some people that I really don’t like. I think they have a bad influence on her, and she only spends time with them because they are “cool.” Could you tell me if I should bring the matter up with her, or if it would be better for me to keep quiet? I don’t want to lose her as a friend. – Carly

2. “I won’t help you cheat.”
My closest friend has lost interest in school and studying. He says he’s bored with the whole thing, so he often asks me whether I’ll do him a favor and let him copy my homework. So far I’ve said no, but he keeps asking me. I told him that I think we’ll get in trouble, but he just laughed and told me not to worry. I don’t want to put my grades at risk, but I’m afraid to confront my friend about this, so I just keep avoiding the topic. How can I get him to stop asking? I was wondering if you could give me some tips for handling my problem. – Matt

3. “No, I CAN’T do that for you!”
My best friend and I get along really well, but she is constantly asking me to do things for her. “Could you help me pick out some new clothes? Would you mind if I borrowed your car? Can you look after my apartment while I’m away?” And these are just a few examples. I’ve said yes so many times that now I’m afraid I’ll hurt her feelings if I say no. Any ideas? – Dana

B Read the article. Then answer the questions.

- Why is Carly concerned about her friend? _____
- What is Matt most worried about? _____
- Why is Dana afraid to say no to her friend? _____
- Who is this advice best for?
 - Say that you know your friend can handle the work himself. _____
 - Agree to some requests, but only if your friend does something in return. _____
 - Tell your friend there are more important things than being popular. _____

C What do the underlined words in the article refer to? Write the correct word(s).

2 PERSPECTIVES Listen up.

- A Listen to what people are listening to on their way to work. Which stories from Exercise 1 are they related to?

Hey, I just downloaded this incredible app. I used it this morning and I think you're going to love it. While I was working out, it calculated exactly how many calories I burned. The bad thing is, it tells me I still need to run about 4 miles to burn off last night's dinner.

As scientists were doing some research on the effects of sleep deprivation, they discovered that women need about 20 more minutes of sleep a night than men do. They think the reason is that women tend to do several tasks at once, which makes their brains work harder.

Hi, Jeff. We're canceling our meeting in the downtown office this morning. We just learned that the police have closed all the streets in the area. It seems that a man was looking for his lost cat when he found a suspicious package inside a trash can. In the end, it was just an old box of chocolates.

Believing More Than We Should

Is everything you read on the Internet true? If your answer is “no,” you are absolutely right. Many stories and even photos are not to be trusted. And don’t believe that because a good friend or a well-known news source has posted something that it is necessarily trustworthy.

There are many reasons for the spread of inaccurate content on the Internet. One reason is that satirical websites can create very believable stories, which they invent in order to make a point or to make people laugh. Other reasons might be an attempt to gain more readers, a desire to damage someone’s reputation, or simple curiosity about how far a fake story can spread.

One story that spread throughout the media before anyone had checked the facts involved teenagers, selfies, and head lice. The article claimed that when teenagers were posing together for selfies, their heads often touched and the tiny insects were jumping from head to head. The article went on to say that this was causing a massive outbreak of lice. Some major websites and news outlets picked up the story, not even bothering to consult the experts. It turned out that some entrepreneurs who were marketing a new treatment for head lice had made up the story and posted it. Their motivation was to get attention and more business.

The spread of this story is understandable. It involved one epidemic (selfies) causing another (lice), and the “ick” factor was irresistible. Because there is so much false information online, there are now websites, such as Snopes and Factcheck, which exist specifically to find out if stories are true or not. So the next time you see a story that sounds too good to be true, at least you have somewhere to turn for verification before you spread false information to all your friends.

1 ROLE PLAY Save the date!

Student A: You are planning a class party at your house. Think of three things you need help with. Then call a classmate and ask for help.

Student B: Student A is planning a party. Agree to help with some things, but not everything.

"Hi, Martina. I'm calling about the party. Would you mind . . . ?"

Change roles and try the role play again.

2 DISCUSSION Who said it?

A GROUP WORK Take turns reading each request. Then discuss the questions and come up with possible answers.

Tell Rita that I'm going to be a half hour late for our meeting. Ask her to wait for me in her office.

Tell your officers that he's white and wears a blue collar with his name on it – Rex. Please call if you find him.

I'm sorry to bother you, but I really need it back for the office party on Friday. Please ask Sue to bring it over before that.

1. What is the situation?
2. Who is the request for? Who do you think received the request and passed it on?
3. Give an indirect request for each situation.

"Could you tell Rita . . . ?"

B CLASS ACTIVITY Compare your answers. Which group has the most interesting answers for each message?

3 SPEAKING And then . . . ?

A PAIR WORK Choose a type of event from the box. Then make up a title for a story about it. Write the title on a piece of paper.

disaster emergency lucky break mystery triumph

B PAIR WORK Exchange titles with another pair. Discuss the questions who, what, where, when, why, and how about the other pair's title. Then make up a story.

C Share your story with the pair who wrote the title.

The Mystery of the Message in a Bottle

I was walking on the beach when I saw a bottle with a message inside. The bottle looked very old, and it was hard to open it. Inside there was a message: "My beloved Catherine, I hope you . . ."

Expanding your horizons

- Discuss living in a foreign country
- Describe cultural expectations and differences

1 PERSPECTIVES Challenges of living abroad

- A Listen to people talk about moving to a foreign country.
Check (✓) the concerns you think you would share.

- ☐ "One thing that I'd really miss is hanging out with my friends." _____
- ☐ "Something that I'd be worried about is the local food. I'm a picky eater." _____
- ☐ "Getting used to a different culture might be difficult at first." _____
- ☐ "I'd be worried about not knowing how to get around in a new city." _____
- ☐ "The people that I'd miss the most are my parents. We're very close." _____
- ☐ "Not knowing the local customs is something I'd be concerned about." _____
- ☐ "I'd be nervous about getting sick and not knowing how to explain my symptoms." _____
- ☐ "Communicating in a foreign language could be a challenge." _____

- B Rate each concern from 1 (not worried at all) to 5 (really worried).
What would be your biggest concern? Why?

2 WORD POWER Mixed feelings

- A These words are used to describe how people sometimes feel when they live in a foreign country. Which are positive (P)? Which are negative (N)? Write P or N.

anxious	_____	embarrassed	_____	insecure	_____ comfortable	_____	enthusiastic	_____	nervous	_____ confident	_____	excited	_____	uncertain	_____
curious	_____	fascinated	_____	uncomfortable	_____
depressed	_____	homesick	_____	worried	_____

- B GROUP WORK Tell your group about other situations in which you experienced the feelings in part A. What made you feel that way? How do you feel about the situations now?

A: I felt very embarrassed yesterday. I fell down the stairs in a restaurant.

B: How did it happen?

A: I think I slipped on something.

C: Did you get hurt?

A: Just a couple of bruises, but the restaurant manager was worried, so he convinced me to go to the hospital.

3 GRAMMAR FOCUS

▶ Noun phrases containing relative clauses

Something (that) I'd be worried about is the local food.

One thing (that) I'd really miss is hanging out with my friends.

The people (who/that) I'd miss the most are my parents.

The local food is something (that) I'd be worried about.

Hanging out with my friends is one thing (that) I'd really miss.

My parents are the people (who/that) I'd miss the most.

GRAMMAR PLUS see page 136

- A Complete the sentences about living in a foreign country. Use the phrases below. Then compare with a partner.

my friends	trying new foods	being away from home	getting lost in a new city
my family	feeling like an outsider	my grandmother's cooking	not understanding people getting sick	making new friends	speaking a foreign language	learning about a different culture

- ... is something I'd be very enthusiastic about.
- The thing I'd probably be most excited about is ...

- The thing I'd feel most uncomfortable about would be ...
- ... are the people who I'd miss the most.
- One thing I'd be insecure about is ...
- ... are two things I'd be anxious about.

- B Now complete three sentences in part A with your own information.

1. Going to different festivals is something I'd be very enthusiastic about.

- C GROUP WORK Rewrite your sentences from part B in another way. Then compare. Do others feel the same way?

1. I'd be very enthusiastic about going to different festivals.

4 PRONUNCIATION Word stress in sentences

- A Listen and practice. Notice that the important words in a sentence have more stress.

Uruguay is a country that I'd like to live in.

Speaking a foreign language is something I'd be anxious about.

Trying new foods is something I'd be curious about.

- B PAIR WORK Mark the stress in the sentences you wrote in Exercise 3, part A. Then practice the sentences. Pay attention to word stress.

5 DISCUSSION Moving to a foreign country

GROUP WORK Read the questions. Think of two more questions to add to the list. Then take turns asking and answering the questions in groups.

What country would you like to live in? Why?
What country wouldn't you like to live in? Why?
Who is the person you would most like to go abroad with?
What is something you would never travel without?
Who is the person you would email first after arriving somewhere new?
What would be your two greatest concerns about living abroad?
What is the thing you would enjoy the most about living abroad?

A: What country would you like to live in?

B: The country I'd most like to live in is Zimbabwe.

C: Why is that?

B: Well, I've always wanted to work with wild animals. Besides, . . .

	Where was the person?	What was the custom?	How did the person react?
1. Carla
2. Nate
3. Shauna

B PAIR WORK Which custom would you have the most trouble adapting to? Why?

10 SPEAKING Local customs

A PAIR WORK What should a visitor to your country know about local customs? Make a list. Include these points.

greeting and addressing someone eating or drinking in public taking photographs giving gifts

dressing appropriately visiting someone's home using public transportation tipping

When you ride in a cab, you're supposed to tip the driver.

B GROUP WORK Compare your lists with another pair. Then share experiences in which you (or someone you know) didn't follow the appropriate cultural behavior. What happened?

A: Once, when traveling abroad, I took a cab, and I didn't give the driver a tip.

B: What happened?

A: Well, he looked kind of angry. Then my friend gave the guy a tip, and I realized my mistake. It was a little embarrassing. . . .

11 WRITING A tourist pamphlet

A GROUP WORK Choose five points from the list you made in Exercise 10. Use them to write and design a pamphlet for tourists visiting your country or city.

WE HOPE YOU ENJOY YOUR STAY.

When you visit Italy, there are some important things you should know. For example, you can't buy a bus ticket on the bus in most big cities. Actually, you are supposed to . . .

CULTURE SHOCK

I'm an exchange student from Spain navigating life in the United States. Lina M

PROFILE | PHOTOS | BLOG | COMMUNITY

JANUARY 15

My hometown of Seville, Spain is a city with active, passionate people and a lively nightlife, so coming to Seattle, in the United States, has been quite an eye-opener. Americans think of Seattle as an exciting city, but the first time I went out with friends on a Saturday night, there was hardly anybody out in the streets. I actually thought something was wrong! Then my friend explained that most of their social life takes place indoors. In Seville, people fill the streets year-round, and Saturday nights are like a big celebration.

JANUARY 22

After a couple of weeks of classes, I've begun to notice some differences between Spanish students and American students. In Spain, students talk a lot during class, and it's not always related to the lesson. On the other hand, when Spanish students are enthusiastic about a lesson, they often ask unusual questions, and it's common to stay after class to talk to the teacher. American students are expected to talk less and listen more, and many of them take detailed notes. Most of them leave the room as soon as the class ends, though, and are already focused on the next lesson.

FEBRUARY 8

Before I came to the United States, a friend who had studied here told me that American friends don't greet each other like we do in Spain, where we touch cheeks and make kissing sounds. Americans often hug each other, but kissing is not common, and I've gotten used to that. So imagine my surprise when I was introduced to a new girl, and she immediately gave me the Spanish-style double kiss. When I asked my friend about this later, she explained that the girl was from a family of actors, and that "air-kissing" was a usual greeting for artistic people. My friend also said that some outgoing people greet their friends or family this way, but that it would make other people feel uncomfortable. I think I'll stick to handshakes and hugs while I'm here!

Ask the Fixer!

Our problem-solver Marci Davis addresses a common problem with ride-sharing services.

After a meeting downtown, I used my phone to book a ride with a private car service in order to get home. As soon as the pick-up was confirmed, a friend came out of the building, spotted me, and offered me a ride home. I immediately canceled the car. But the next day I got an alert on my phone – the car service had charged my credit card $10! I contacted the service, and they said it was for a late cancellation. I didn't realize they were going to charge me for that! Can you fix this? – Lawrence, New York City

The fact is, Lawrence, that you need to read the terms of your ride-sharing app. It states clearly – somewhere in all those thousands of words – that when you cancel your ride less than ten minutes before your car is scheduled to arrive, you have to pay a fee. After all, the driver has already refused other possible passengers and is driving in your direction, so it's a loss when you cancel.

On the other hand, I do think something needs to be fixed. Do you know anyone who reads all the way through the terms of use for any app? There isn't enough time in the day! I talked to a representative at your ride-sharing company and made two suggestions. First, they need to highlight their cancellation policy at the beginning of the terms, where people will see it. Then, when you cancel a ride, a notification needs to be sent that tells you about the cancellation charge. That way, riders won't keep getting this annoying surprise. Let's hope the company pays attention.

What do you think? Post your comments, suggestions, complaints, and anecdotes.

4 ROLE PLAY Haggling

Student A: You want to buy this car from Student B, but it's too expensive. Describe the problems you see to get a better price.

Student B: You are trying to sell this car, but it has some problems. Make excuses for the problems to get the most money.

A: I'm interested in this car, but the door handle is broken. I'll give you $. . . for it.

B: That's no big deal. You can fix that easily. How about $. . . ?

A: Well, what about the windshield? It's . . .

B: You can't really see that. . . .

Change roles and try the role play again.

5 DISCUSSION School improvements

A GROUP WORK Imagine you are on a school improvement committee. You are discussing changes to your school. Decide on the five biggest issues.

A: The Wi-Fi connection needs to be improved. It keeps disconnecting, and it's not fast enough.

B: Yes, but it's more important to replace the couch in the student lounge. It has a big hole and stains.

B CLASS ACTIVITY Share your list with the class. What are the three most needed improvements? Can you think of how to accomplish them?

WHAT A WASTE!

The United States generates 254 million tons of waste a year. The average American produces almost 2 kilograms of waste a day.

Americans throw away around 130 million cell phones a year. Much of this e-waste ends up in landfills.

Fifteen hundred plastic bottles are consumed every second in the United States.

It takes at least 500 years for a plastic bottle to decompose.

In the U.S., 30–40% of the food supply is wasted. That could feed millions of hungry people.

How could we reduce the waste of each of these items?

What do you throw away? What do you tend to recycle?

What are two other environmental problems that concern you?

2 PERSPECTIVES Vote for a better city!

- ▶ A Listen to an announcement from an election campaign.
What kinds of problems does Grace Medina want to fix?

VOTE FOR GRACE MEDINA FOR CITY COUNCIL

Grace Medina's ideas for Riverside!

Have you noticed these problems in our city?

- Our fresh water supply is being contaminated by toxic chemicals.
- The roads aren't being repaired due to a lack of funding.
- Our community center has been closed because of high maintenance costs.
- Our city streets are being damaged as a result of heavy traffic.
- Many public parks have been lost through overbuilding.
- Low-income families are being displaced from their homes due to high rental prices.

GRACE MEDINA – THE CHANGE WE NEED

- B Which of these problems affect your city? Can you give specific examples?

3 GRAMMAR FOCUS

▶ Passive with prepositions

Present continuous passive

Our water supply is being contaminated by toxic chemicals.
 Our city streets are being damaged as a result of heavy traffic.
 The roads aren't being repaired due to a lack of funding.

Present perfect passive

Our community center has been closed because of high costs.
 Many public parks have been lost through overbuilding.

A PAIR WORK Match the photos of environmental problems with the sentences below.

1. High emissions of carbon dioxide are causing climate changes. (by)
2. Rapid urbanization is depleting our natural resources. (through)
3. Water pollution has threatened the health of people all over the world. (due to)
4. Livestock farms have contaminated the soil and underground water. (because of)
5. The destruction of rain forests is accelerating the extinction of plants and wildlife. (as a result of)
6. Oil spills are harming birds, fish, and other marine life. (through)

B Rewrite the sentences in part A using the passive and the prepositions given. Then compare with a partner.

1. Climate changes are being caused by high emissions of carbon dioxide.

C PAIR WORK Cover the sentences in part A above. Take turns describing the environmental problems in the pictures in your own words.

4 PRONUNCIATION Reduction of auxiliary verbs

- ▶ A Listen and practice. Notice how the auxiliary verb forms is, are, has, and have are reduced in conversation.

Food is being wasted.

Our community center has been closed.

Streets are being damaged.

Parks have been lost.

- B PAIR WORK Practice the sentences you wrote in Exercise 3, part B. Pay attention to the reduction of is, are, has, and have.

5 LISTENING Saving the environment

- ▶ A Listen to three people describe some serious environmental problems. Check (✓) the problem each person talks about.

	Problem		What can be done about it?
1. Morgan	<input type="checkbox"/> landfills	<input type="checkbox"/> poor farmland
2. Dalton	<input type="checkbox"/> electricity	<input type="checkbox"/> e-waste
3. Kendall	<input type="checkbox"/> air pollution	<input type="checkbox"/> water pollution

- ▶ B Listen again. What can be done to solve each problem? Complete the chart.

- C GROUP WORK Which problem above worries you the most? What is being done to fix it?

6 WORD POWER Global challenges

- A PAIR WORK How concerned is your partner about these problems? Check (✓) his or her answers.

Problems	Very concerned	Fairly concerned	Not concerned unemployment	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

- B GROUP WORK Share your partner's answers with another pair. Which problems concern your group the most? What will happen if the problem isn't solved?

A: Many people have been affected by the high rates of unemployment.

B: We need to create more jobs and invest in education.

C: I agree. If we don't, young people won't have any opportunities in the future.

7 CONVERSATION What if it doesn't work?

▶ A Listen and practice.

- Cindy: Did you hear about the dead fish that were found floating in the Bush River this morning?
- Otis: Yeah, I read something about it. Do you know what happened?
- Cindy: Well, there's a factory outside town that's pumping chemicals into the river.
- Otis: How can they do that? Isn't that against the law?
- Cindy: Yes, it is. But a lot of companies ignore those laws.
- Otis: That's terrible! What can we do about it?
- Cindy: Well, one way to change things is to talk to the company's management.
- Otis: What if that doesn't work?
- Cindy: Well, then another way to stop them is to get a news station to run a story on it.
- Otis: Yes! Companies hate bad publicity. By the way, what's the name of this company?
- Cindy: Believe it or not, it's called Green Mission Industries.
- Otis: Really? My uncle is one of their top executives.

B CLASS ACTIVITY What else could Cindy and Otis do?

NO MORE JUNK FOOD!

Our schools are serving poor quality food to our children. School cafeterias offer mostly fast food and soda to students. This has to change. One way to change this is . . .

B PAIR WORK Exchange messages with a partner. Write a response suggesting another solution to his or her problem.

- A Skim the article. What problem did the island face? What solution did the inhabitants come up with?

TURNING AN INVASION INTO AN ADVANTAGE

Lionfish are beautiful creatures. They are also one of the most invasive and destructive sea creatures on the planet, causing particularly serious problems in the Caribbean Sea. Their numbers have increased dramatically in a few years there, and they have already caused a great deal of damage to the ecosystem.

St. Lucia is a Caribbean island where action is being taken against the invasive species. The island is famous for its clear blue waters, and many tourists enjoy diving in order to explore the wonders of the extensive coral reefs.

Unfortunately, lionfish eat the native fish that keep the reefs clean and healthy, putting the reefs at risk. It is estimated that lionfish can eat up to 80% of the small fish in a coral reef in five weeks, and because the invasive fish reproduce very quickly the problem could easily get worse in no time.

Instead of trying to trap or poison the destructive fish, islanders are turning the lionfish invasion to their advantage. They realized that one way to reduce the population of lionfish was to hunt them for sport and business, and then use them for food.

Although the fish have a very poisonous sting, they can be prepared so they are safe to eat. And Caribbean cooks were sure to find a way to turn these unwelcome fish into an unforgettable treat.

Unfortunately, the lionfish population has not been reduced by much, but at least the fish have been kept from multiplying too quickly. Jobs have also been provided for unemployed fishermen, who were unable to fish for other types of sea life in the protected waters. The lionfish are still a problem, but the islanders are making the best of a bad situation – and they are making a living from it, too!

- B Read the article. Answer the questions.

1. Why are the lionfish a concern?
2. Why is it important to protect the area around St. Lucia?
3. What characteristic makes the lionfish hard to control?
4. What solutions have the islanders come up with?
5. What have the results of the islanders' efforts been?

- C GROUP WORK What environmental threats exist where you live? Can you think of any creative or unusual ways to deal with them?

Never stop learning.

12 WRITING Something I learned

- A Think of a skill you have learned. Read these questions and take notes. Then use your notes to write about what you learned.

What is required to be successful at it?
What are some ways people learn to do it?
How did you learn it?
What was difficult about learning it?

I used to have serious problems managing my finances, and I never paid my bills on time. I have to admit I had very poor money management skills. Some people learn to manage their money at home or by taking courses at school, but I didn't.

When a friend told me about a personal finance course, I decided to take it. I first learned to keep track of my expenses by recording every penny I spent. Then ...

- B GROUP WORK Share your writing. Have any of your classmates' experiences inspired you to learn a new skill?

A Have you ever had trouble focusing when you're studying? What did you do about it?

Are you studying the "right" way?

Home | News | Articles | Sign in | Community

You may study differently from your friends, but your study habits are probably not wrong!

Kelly and Maria are best friends with a lot in common. They love doing things together, such as going to movies and concerts, shopping, or just sitting at a local café. Since they take a lot of the same school subjects, they would love to study together, but they find this impossible. Their working styles are so completely different that they can't be in the same room while they are studying!

Kelly would rather study in a clean, open space, whereas Maria works best by surrounding herself with books, papers, and other clutter. Kelly prefers to study in a totally silent room, but Maria loves to play music or even have the TV on. Kelly can sit for hours without moving, and often gets all of her homework done in one sitting. Maria, on the other hand, is constantly getting up, and claims that she thinks best when she's on the move.

You might be asking yourself, which way of studying gets better results? Many people assume that a silent, uncluttered setting is the way to go, but it seems that is not necessarily the case. Some research has even shown that outside noise and clutter help some people concentrate because it makes them form a mental "wall" around what they are doing and improves their focus. So, if you're a student who chooses to study while sitting at a table in a busy shopping mall, don't worry about it. And if you work in total silence, that's OK, too. Judging from Kelly and Maria's study habits, the best way to study is the way that works for you. With their very different approaches, both of them do extremely well in school, and both finish their work in about the same amount of time as well.

One curious fact about the two friends: Despite their opposing studying styles, they have almost identical ambitions. Both are planning to go to law school – Kelly with the idea of becoming a human rights attorney and Maria hoping to become a public defender. But will they be study buddies? Not a chance!

B Read the article. Find the words in italics in the article. Then match each word with its meaning.

| 2. sitting _____ | b. exactly the same |
| 3. concentrate _____ | c. period of activity without a break |
| 4. approach _____ | d. way of doing something |
| 5. identical _____ | e. objects in a state of disorder |

C Complete the summary with information from the article. Use one or two words in each blank.

Kelly and Maria are friends who have a lot _____, but they can't study together because they have _____. Kelly likes a _____ that is very quiet, and she can _____ for a long time. Maria prefers a space that is _____, and she likes to _____. Studies show that neither way of studying is _____ than the other. Noise can help some people _____, for example. Despite their different habits, Kelly and Maria are both _____ students, and it is interesting that the friends have _____ plans for the future.

- B GROUP WORK Take turns reading your advice. Whose advice do you think will work? Why?

A Scan the article. Who is the article about? What idea did he have?

Improving the world

– one idea at a time

[1] Jack Andraka was 15 when he came up with an idea for a new way to test for pancreatic cancer. When Andraka was 14, a family friend died of the disease, and this affected him deeply. This kind of cancer is particularly lethal because there is no test you can have done to find it in the early stages. By the time standard tests determine you have the disease, it is often too late. Realizing that this was the case, Andraka decided to try to develop a test that might catch problems at the earliest stages.

[2] The road ahead looked difficult for Andraka. He was still a high school student, and he wanted to create something that no one else had done. But Andraka read endlessly about the disease, wrote a proposal for his idea, and sent it out to 200 cancer researchers. Only one professor, Dr. Anirban Maitra, responded positively. Dr. Maitra agreed to work with Andraka on his idea, giving him guidance and access to a laboratory.

[3] The next big reward for Andraka's perseverance was winning the grand prize at the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair. This prestigious award is given to young innovators who have developed a world-changing idea.

Developing the test is likely to take many years, but Andraka hopes the test will eventually improve people's lives – and maybe save them.

[4] Jack Andraka is not alone as a young innovator. After all, there were 1,499 other contestants for the Intel award, and all of them had ground-breaking ideas. For Andraka, having a family that loves science and encourages creative thinking gave him an advantage. But the key for Andraka is that reading, research, and discovery are just plain fun – and the chance to improve the world around him in the process makes it even better.

B Read the article. Write the number of each paragraph next to its summary sentence.

- _____ One doctor's help makes the unlikely become possible.
- _____ A personal experience creates a groundbreaking idea.
- _____ Family support and a passion for discovery can lead to great things.
- _____ Although he won a big prize, there's plenty of work ahead.

C Choose the correct answers.

Professionals Who Can Change the Future
Good Guesses About the Future

An Unhappy View of the Future

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

Futurists (sometimes called futurologists) are professionals who make predictions about the future of human society, the earth, and even the universe. They study the past and present in order to understand how things change and what factors can alter or interrupt these changes.

Since most people are curious about the future, futurists often try to picture how our lives will be different in a certain year. 2050 is a popular target since it is far enough away to require some speculation, but close enough that many of us will see the changes in our lifetime. Here are some of their predictions.

In the area of technology, computers will be nearly a billion times more powerful than they are today. That means that there will be almost no limit to what you can create, store, and display. Computers will also be small enough to implant in people's brains to improve memory, vision, or even to allow paralyzed people to move again. For those who love shopping or travel, a technology called "immersive telepresence" will allow us to actually feel like we are in two places at the same time, buying things in expensive foreign shops or visiting fascinating tourist destinations while sitting at home.

There will be many more people on earth – as many as 9.6 billion. This means that food production and housing will need to increase dramatically. People will live in mushroom cities, skyscrapers that house many people and use solar power and other eco-friendly technologies. Futurists also think that – thanks to advances in genetics – we will be close to finding cures for most human diseases. Some futurists even predict that wars and other conflicts will become less common as people learn that they have to get along in order to survive.

Of course, none of these predictions is a certainty. Even futurists can't know how epidemics, natural disasters, or climate change will alter our lives. Having some idea of what is in store for us, however, may help us to make the best choices for our own personal future.

B Read the article. Check (✓) the predictions futurists made about the year 2050.

1. ☐ Computers will be as powerful as they are today.
2. ☐ Tiny computers will help people with physical problems.
3. ☐ Travel will be faster than it is now.
4. ☐ People will be able to explore places without leaving home.
5. ☐ People will need less food.
6. ☐ Many people will live together in eco-friendly buildings.
7. ☐ People will not get sick anymore.
8. ☐ People will fight with each other over food and water.

Luke: I'm your only nephew, Uncle Jim!

Jim: But you're still my favorite! Anyway, what are your plans?

Luke: I'm looking for a job, so I can make some money before I go to college.

Jim: Ah! After I graduated, I went to Alaska to work as a fisherman. It was a tough job, but it helped me grow up.

Luke: How do you mean?

Jim: Until I started working, I'd never had any important responsibilities. I was so immature. But once I moved away from home, I learned to take care of myself.

Luke: So you became independent.

Jim: Yeah, but not for very long, actually. After two months, I moved back home . . . and got a job at your grandfather's store.

"My mother is dependable. I can always count on her when I need help."

7 PERSPECTIVES That was a mistake.

- A Listen to two recent college graduates talk about their regrets. Do you have any similar regrets?

1 I should have done an internship while I was in college.

3 If I hadn't been so irresponsible, I could have gotten better grades.

5 If I'd listened to my professors, I would have taken some additional courses.

2 If I'd been more ambitious in college, I could have learned to speak another language.

4 I shouldn't have taken out a student loan to pay for college.

6 If I hadn't wasted so much money last year, I would have saved enough to start graduate school.

- B GROUP WORK What advice would you give to these recent grads?

8 GRAMMAR FOCUS

Expressing regret and describing hypothetical situations

Use should have + the past participle to express regret.

I should have done an internship while I was in college.

I shouldn't have taken out a student loan.

Use would have + the past participle to express probable outcomes in hypothetical situations.

Use could have + the past participle to express possible outcomes.

If I'd listened to my professors, I would have taken additional courses.

If I hadn't been so irresponsible, I could have gotten better grades.

GRAMMAR PLUS see page 142

Dear Stella,

I have a problem, and I'm not sure what to do about it. I was studying with my friend Karl, and he let me use his laptop for a minute to look something up. He had been busy typing an essay, so I opened the document again when I was done. But somehow I hit the wrong button, and I deleted the document. All of his work was gone. It was a total accident, and I did say, "Sorry," just so he wouldn't yell at me. But he got really angry and accused me of doing it on purpose. Now Karl is acting really cold towards me, and I can tell he's still angry. It really wasn't my fault, but I still feel bad. Should I apologize anyway just to make him feel better?

Paul in Philadelphia

Dear Paul,

When you've done something that hurt a friend, even by accident, it can be really uncomfortable. You obviously feel bad about deleting Karl's essay, and you didn't mean for it to happen. Unfortunately, it sounds like Karl has a pretty short fuse. Sure, if you'd apologized better at the time, and if you had offered to help him recover his work, it might have smoothed things over. After being accused of sabotage, however, I understand why you didn't apologize again.

What should you do now? First, ask yourself if an apology is necessary. If you don't feel you did anything wrong, it wouldn't mean very much. An apology has to be sincere and heartfelt to be effective. Second, if someone stops treating you like a friend because you made a mistake – which is a form of emotional blackmail – they probably won't believe your apology anyway. Third, a two-way discussion is often more effective than an apology. I think you need to sit down with Karl, tell him how badly you feel, avoid making excuses or trying to blame him, and get on with your friendship. If he still won't forgive you after that, maybe he's not such a great friend after all.

HOW SOME MAJOR COMPANIES GOT THEIR NAMES

Nike The company got its name from the ancient Greek goddess of victory.

Google Google comes from googol, which is the math term for the number 1 followed by 100 zeros.

Facebook The name was taken from the term for a list with students' names and photos found at American universities.

Samsung In Korean, sam means "three" and sung means "star," so the name means "three stars." It represents the idea that the company should be everlasting, like stars in the sky.

Skype The original concept for the name was Sky-Peer-to-Peer, which became Skyper, and then Skype.

Häagen-Dazs The name of the American ice cream brand was invented to sound Danish and traditional, but it has no meaning in any language.

Pepsi The soft drink got its name from the word dyspepsia, which means indigestion, because its inventor believed it helped treat an upset stomach.

Which of these brands exist in your country? Are they successful?
Do you know the origin of the names of other companies or brands?

A Scan the article. What does "sticky" mean in the advertising world?

BRAIN INVASION: WHY WE CAN'T FORGET SOME ADS

Advertisements: They're all over our social media pages; they arrive as text messages; they interrupt our favorite shows; and they bombard us in the streets. In order to survive the constant barrage of advertising, we learn to ignore most of what we see. But what is it that makes certain ads "sticky"? In other words, why do we remember some ads while managing to completely forget others?

According to advertising experts, an ad needs three key elements to make it unforgettable. In the first place, it needs to be clear and simple. TV commercials usually last about 30 seconds, so a complicated or confusing presentation will not do the job. For an ad to be "sticky," it has to be obvious enough that we can pick up the message in a split second.

More importantly, ads should appeal to our senses and emotions. When we really feel something, it tends to stick in our brains much longer than if we simply understand it. This is the reason why so much advertising depends on emotional music and images of family, romance, or success that relate directly to our own hopes and dreams.

One more element necessary to make an ad successful is surprise. When we see something out of the ordinary, it makes us take notice whether we want to or not. A talking animal, a beautifully dressed model diving into a swimming pool, a car zooming through an ever-changing landscape – these are the types of things that grab our attention.

But do "sticky" ads actually make us buy the products? That's another story. Sometimes the most memorable ads make people laugh or mention them to their friends, but they don't actually convince people to buy anything. Still, after watching a "sticky" ad, we usually remember the name of the company it promotes. And in a world with so many brands and products, that is almost as important as sales.

B Read the article. Check (✓) the three things that make an ad memorable.

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> an uncomplicated concept | <input type="checkbox"/> a sensual or emotional appeal |
| <input type="checkbox"/> a puzzle or mystery | <input type="checkbox"/> a familiar scene or situation |
| <input type="checkbox"/> a short time span | <input type="checkbox"/> something unexpected or strange |

C Read these descriptions of two ads. According to the article, are these "sticky" ads? Explain why.

A family of four is having breakfast together, and they're all looking tired. The father pours each of them a glass of "Super Juice," and as they all drink it, they are transformed into costumed superheroes. As they leave, the mother says, "Ready to save the world, team?"

A young couple are in a luxurious car; the woman is driving. They are driving quickly through lush countryside. They glance at other and smile. A voiceover says: "The Eternity: a car that feels like home."

 Offer an explanation for each event.

- ▶ B Listen to the explanations for the two events in part A and take notes.
 What did happen? How similar were your explanations?

6 SPEAKING What's your guess?

A PAIR WORK What do you think were the reasons for these events? Suggest two different explanations for each.

1. The bride didn't show up for her wedding. She sent a bunch of flowers to the groom with a note: "Thank you."
2. A man arrived at the airport with a suitcase and saw his brother. He grabbed a cab and went back home.
3. It was a hot, sunny day. A man arrived home. He was soaking wet.

B GROUP WORK Each student thinks of two situations like the ones in part A. Others suggest explanations.

A: A man went around town and bought all the copies of the latest issue of a specific magazine.

B: Well, the magazine might have had an article about him.

7 INTERCHANGE 13 Think of the possibilities!

8 PERSPECTIVES I'm going nuts!

- ▶ A Listen to a person complaining about her family members. Check (✓) the response you think is best for each problem.

Last night, my sister borrowed my car without asking. She did call me a couple of times, but I was in a meeting and couldn't answer the phone. We had a big fight, and now we're not speaking.

- ☐ She shouldn't have used your car without permission, no matter what.
- ☐ You could have been more understanding. After all, she tried to call you first.

My nephew is so inconsiderate. He called me at 3:00 in the morning to talk about his problems with his best friend, and I had to get up very early to work. I was really mad.

- ☐ You could have told him that you had to get up early the next day.
- ☐ Your nephew is always doing that. You shouldn't have answered his call.

My brother came over for the weekend with his wife and three kids. They made such a mess of the apartment! I'll never invite them over again.

- ☐ I would have asked them to help clean up the place.
- ☐ I wouldn't have invited them to spend the weekend. Having overnight guests can be really stressful.

- B Do you talk about pet peeves with your friends? Do they give you advice?

9 GRAMMAR FOCUS

Past modals for judgments and suggestions

Judging past actions

You should have asked your sister to help.

He shouldn't have used your car.

Suggesting alternative past actions

You could have told her that you had to get up early.

I would have asked them to help clean up the place.

I wouldn't have invited them to spend the weekend.

GRAMMAR PLUS see page 144

A Complete the conversations using past modals with the verbs given. Then practice with a partner.

1. A: My boss asked me to help her choose a gift for her husband, and I ended up spending all day at the mall.

B: You _____ (make up) an excuse not to help her. She _____ (not ask) for such a personal favor in the first place.

2. A: I lent my sister-in-law some money a year ago, and she never paid it back.

B: She _____ (pay) it back already! Well, I _____ (not lend) money to her anyway. I never lend money to relatives.

3. A: Austin invited me out to dinner, but when the check came, he said he was broke!

B: I _____ (not pay) for him. I _____ (tell) him to wash the dishes. He _____ (not invite) you if he didn't have enough money.

4. A: I can't believe my cousin came over and stayed until 1:00 in the morning!

B: He _____ (not stay) so late. You _____ (start) yawning. Maybe he would have gotten the hint!

B PAIR WORK Think of another suggestion or comment for each situation above.

10 WORD POWER Reactions

A Helena's boyfriend forgot their anniversary. How does she react?

Match each reaction with the best example.

Reaction

1. an assumption _____
2. a criticism _____
3. a demand _____
4. an excuse _____
5. a prediction _____
6. a suggestion _____
7. a suspicion _____
8. a warning _____

Example

- a. "Sometimes you're so selfish."
- b. "You could take me out to dinner."
- c. "You must have wanted to break up with me."
- d. "I bet you went out with your friends."
- e. "Now you'll have to get me a really nice gift."
- f. "I know you've been busy lately. It just slipped your mind."
- g. "If you ever forget another important date, I'll never talk to you again."
- h. "You'll probably forget my birthday, too!"

B GROUP WORK Imagine that someone was late for class, or choose another situation. Give an example of each reaction in the list above.

11 LISTENING What should they have done?

▶ A Listen to descriptions of three situations. What would have been the best thing to do in each situation? Check (✓) the best suggestion.

1. ☐ Simon should have kept the ring for himself.
☐ He should have called the police.
☐ He did the right thing.
2. ☐ Jana shouldn't have mentioned her last job at all in her application.
☐ She should have been honest in her application and admitted she made a mistake.
☐ She did the right thing.
3. ☐ Martin should have reported what his boss did as soon as he found out.
☐ He should have withdrawn more money and blamed it on his boss.
☐ He did the right thing.

B PAIR WORK What would you have done in each situation in part A?

12 DISCUSSION How would you have reacted?

GROUP WORK Read each situation. Say what the person could have or should have done, and what you would have done.

“It was my friend's birthday, and he had invited a few close friends out to celebrate. I forgot all about it, so I called him the next day and pretended I'd had to take my mother to the hospital.” – Warren

“My sister got a new haircut, and I thought it looked a little dated. I didn't want to hurt her feelings, so I told her I liked it.” – Sonia

“I didn't have any money to buy my cousin a birthday present, so I gave her something I had received previously as a gift. My brother told my cousin about my regifting, and now she's mad at me.” – Chase

“I went to my in-laws' house for dinner last night. My husband thinks his mother is a great cook, but the food was awful! I didn't know what else to do, so I ate it.” – Fay

A: Warren should have told his friend the truth.

B: I agree. He could have taken his friend out to make up for it.

C: I think I would have . . .

13 WRITING A tricky problem

A Think of a complicated situation from your own experience. Write a paragraph describing the situation, but don't explain how you resolved it.

I have a close friend who doesn't get along with my other friends. He's a nice guy, friendly and funny, but every time we all go out, he makes a fuss over how much everyone should pay. Last week, my friends were going to dinner, and he wanted to come along. I didn't want to hurt his feelings . . .

B PAIR WORK Exchange papers. Write a short paragraph about how you would have resolved your partner's situation.

C PAIR WORK Read your partner's resolution to your situation. Tell your partner how you resolved it. Whose resolution was better?

A Skim the article. What do the two unexplained events have in common?

Messages from Outer Space, or a Leaking Pipe?

Home | Sciencenews | Technology | Articles | Blog | Community

Even though we know so much about the world around us, unexplained events still take place. Read about these two events. What do you think may have happened?

Since 2008, people around the world have been reporting a mysterious sound that seems to come from the sky. Some people say it sounds like trumpets playing. Others say it is like sound effects from sci-fi movies. The phenomenon has caused both fear and fascination, and many people have been looking for explanations. One popular idea is that the sound is an announcement of the end of the world, and another suggests that it's the sound of spaceships. But there may be a more scientific explanation. It involves flares from the sun and energy from the center of the earth. Which explanation do you think might be right?

Of course, there are some strange events that still baffle both the general public and experts. Take the high-pitched noise that has been driving people crazy in Forest Grove, Oregon. To some people, it sounds like a giant flute being played very badly, and to others, it sounds like a train slowing down or truck brakes squealing. The sound is coming from under the street, but gas, water, and sewer inspectors have said there is nothing wrong down there. One resident was so sure it was a serious gas leak that he was ready to flee. However, experts say that a leak would make a different sound, and people would definitely smell gas. How would you explain this mysterious and annoying event?

B Read the article. Then answer the questions.

1. To what two things have people compared the first sound?
2. What non-scientific explanations have been offered?
3. What sort of sound are people in Forest Grove hearing?
4. What explanation has been proven untrue?
5. If there had been a gas leak, what would be different?

C Which of these statements are facts? Which are opinions? Check (✓) Fact or Opinion.

1. Science has not explained everything that happens.
2. Some sounds mean the end of the world is coming.
3. The first sound is caused by energy from planets.
4. The sound in Forest Grove is very annoying.
5. The Forest Grove sound comes from under the street.
6. Gas lines and other systems in Forest Grove have no problems.
7. No local problems can explain the Forest Grove noise.

2 CONVERSATION I have more control.

▶ A Listen and practice.

Clara: Thanks for coming to the film festival! Directing this film was amazing, and I'm happy to answer your questions about it.

Diego: Yes, hi. What is it like to direct an animated movie? Is it different from live action?

Clara: Well, for one thing, I have a lot more control. There are no actors to argue with me!

Diego: I guess not! But how do you direct cartoon characters?

Clara: Well, after a screenplay is chosen, many drawings of the characters are presented to me . . .

Diego: And you get to choose which ones to use?

Clara: Even better: I can change them if I want. The characters have to be drawn just right – like I see them in my mind.

Diego: So you decide a lot about the characters early on.

Clara: Definitely. By the time the voice actors are picked, the characters feel like old friends!

▶ B Listen to the rest of the conversation. Who helps Clara choose the voice actors?

3 GRAMMAR FOCUS

▶ The passive to describe process is/are + past participle

A screenplay is chosen.

Many drawings are presented.

Modal + be + past participle

The characters have to be drawn just right.

The drawings might be changed 10 times.

GRAMMAR PLUS see page 145

- A The sentences below describe how an animated movie is made. First, complete the sentences using the passive. Then compare with a partner.

Storyboard and animation steps

- First, storyboards _____ (draw) by story artists. For some movies, over 200,000 storyboards might _____ (draw).
- Next, the storyboards need to _____ (place) in order.
- After the storyboarding process _____ (complete), technical directors must _____ (hire).
- Then, the scenes and characters have to _____ (create) on the computer by the technical directors.
- Finally, movement _____ (add) to the scenes by animators. In addition, the scenes _____ (populate) with background characters.

Voice-over steps

- First, temporary "scratch" voices _____ (record). Sometimes scratch voices are so good that they _____ (not replace).
- Later, professional actors _____ (hire) to record the character voices. For some movies, studios hire famous actors so their names can _____ (use) as a marketing tool.
- The lines _____ (rehearse) and the same line _____ (record) in different ways.
- Finally, the best recording _____ (choose) for the final movie.

- B PAIR WORK What are some steps that happen after the animated movie is complete? Discuss with a partner.

"After all that, the movie is sent to theaters."

4 LISTENING It was too predictable.

- ▶ A Listen to Casey and Grant talk about things that often happen in movies. Number the parts of a movie in the order they are mentioned.

	Movie example
<input type="checkbox"/> A new plan is put into action.	Luke planned to destroy the Death Star.
<input type="checkbox"/> A problem is presented.
<input type="checkbox"/> Something bad happens, and all hope is lost.

6 WRITING Describing a process

A Write about one of the topics from Exercise 5, part B or use your own idea. Describe the different steps in the process.

Developing a mobile app requires a lot of work. First, the objective of the app must be defined. Then, a prototype should be built. After that, the prototype can be tested by potential users or friends. Then a developer needs to be hired, and . . .

B PAIR WORK Read your partner's description. Can you think of any more steps?

7 WORD POWER Creative jobs

- A What kind of jobs are these? Complete the chart with the compound nouns.
(More than one answer is possible.)

band manager	game animator	songwriter	talk show host club DJ	gameplay programmer	storyboard artist	quality assurance analyst
editorial director	news photographer	stunt person	web content manager

Film/TV jobs	Publishing jobs	Gaming jobs	Music jobs

- B GROUP WORK Choose four jobs from part A. Describe each job.
"A band manager negotiates contracts for artists and helps promote their careers."

8 PERSPECTIVES Career questions

- A Listen to the career questions that people have. How would you answer them?

I have a degree in journalism, and I'm an amateur photographer. I'm considering a career as a news photographer who covers conflicts around the world. Do you think that's too dangerous?

Videographers like me, who shoot weddings and other social events, often work evenings and weekends. I want to have a nine-to-five job, so I'm looking for a job with a major studio. Is that a good move?

I love movies and I love action, so I'm thinking of becoming a stunt person – you know, the person who takes the place of an actor in dangerous scenes. What do you think?

A talk show host, who interviews artists, politicians, and celebrities, gets to meet lots of people. I love to meet new people. Do you think that would be a good job for me?

- B PAIR WORK Which of these careers do you think would be the most interesting? Why?

9 PRONUNCIATION Review of stress in compound nouns

- A Listen and practice. Notice how the first word in a compound noun usually receives greater stress.

band manager talk show host game animator news photographer stunt person

- B Practice the sentences in Exercise 8. Pay attention to the word stress in the compound nouns.

10 GRAMMAR FOCUS

▶ Defining and non-defining relative clauses

Defining relative clauses are used to identify people.

I want to become a photographer.

I want to cover conflicts.

I want to become a photographer who/that covers conflicts.

Non-defining relative clauses give further information about people.

Videographers shoot weddings and social events. They work evenings and weekends.

Videographers, who shoot weddings and social events, work evenings and weekends.

GRAMMAR PLUS see page 145

A Do these sentences contain defining (D) or non-defining (ND) clauses? Write D or ND. Add commas to the non-defining clauses. Then compare with a partner.

1. The art editor who creates the look of a magazine should make it attractive. _____
2. A game programmer is the person who writes the computer code that runs and controls a game. _____
3. The extras are the people who appear in the background scenes. _____
4. The producer who is responsible for the budget is the big boss in an animation studio. _____

B Add the non-defining relative clauses in parentheses to the sentences.

1. A game designer works closely with the programmers.
(who creates new games)

2. A lead vocalist is the main voice on stage.
(who may also be a songwriter)

3. A news reporter collects information about news and events.
(who should be impartial)

4. A photo editor selects the photos that go into magazines.
(who is responsible for the quality and content of images)

C Write three sentences with relative clauses about jobs you know. Compare with a partner.

THE TRUTH ABOUT BEING A FILM EXTRA

by Anna Murphy

When people discover that I work as a film and TV extra, they always ask me the same questions: Is it easy to get work? Isn't it boring? Do you get to meet famous actors? Does it pay well? My answers are pretty standard as well: yes, sometimes, once in a while, and . . . kind of. The life of an extra is both more interesting and more boring than you might imagine.

Extras, who play the people in crowds, on streets, or in the background of indoor scenes, can come from all walks of life. Unlike many extras, I'm a trained actor. I do get real speaking roles, but work can be hard to come by if you're not an in-demand star. I'm registered with an agency that deals exclusively with extras, so I get calls all the time. The agency explains who I'll be – someone in a crowd, a member of a jury, a clerk – and tells me where to go. Call time is usually bright and early, so I try to get to bed at a reasonable hour.

Sometimes being an extra is a "hurry up and wait" job. In my first extra role, I was one of a group of office workers who come out of a building just as a car explodes in the street. We waited for hours for the scene to be shot, and then went in and out of the building about fifty times, trying to act horrified by a nonexistent explosion. Then we had lunch, changed clothes, and spent the afternoon as customers in a department store.

It may sound like I don't enjoy the work, but I do. Being part of the background in a convincing way is challenging, and being on a film or TV set is always fascinating. A lot of famous actors don't even notice the extras, but the ones who do make the job a lot of fun for everyone. As for the money, it's nothing compared to what the big actors make, but it pretty much pays the bills. And, as a bonus, I've beaten my high scores on all my phone games, thanks to all the time I spend sitting around, waiting for something to happen.

B Read the article. Underline a sentence in the article that answers each question below.

1. What training has the writer had?
2. How does she get work as an extra?
3. What was her first role as an extra?
4. What unexpected advantage of the work does she mention?

C Find words or phrases in the article that mean the same as the following.

THAT'S PLAGIARISM?

POSTED AUGUST 21

If a teacher or your boss called you aside and said that he or she suspected you of plagiarism, how would you react? You'd probably be honestly confused. Nowadays, there are so many sources of information available that you can copy from with a single click. Many people don't even realize that they're committing plagiarism. Whether it's intentional or not, using someone else's information is stealing, and stealing is definitely a big deal.

The confusion about ownership comes from the fact that articles, photos, blogs, and social media posts are so easy to access – and just as easy to copy. When you see the same article on various websites, it's fairly natural to assume that it's public property. If a resource like Wikipedia offers material that can be critiqued and changed by its readers, that must be free for the taking, right? But that simply is not the case. Everything that has been written, drawn, photographed, think taking a few points from each article and combining them makes the content yours, it's just not the case. This kind of "masked" plagiarism is very easy to spot, and it will get you into trouble. But really, just asking yourself a simple question should be enough: "Are all of these words my own?" If the answer is yes, you're in the clear.

In the end, the best approach is to write down the source for any material you quote from directly, and to assume that if it's public, it isn't yours. Plagiarism is a serious problem and can have serious consequences – even if it's totally accidental. Besides, putting ideas into your own words can make you a better writer, and a better thinker as well.

or recorded, and released to the public, belongs to someone. Even your friends' comments on your social media page belong to them, not to you.

To avoid plagiarism, here are a few basic points to keep in mind. When writing a paper, if you get ideas or wording from someone else's writing, you must include the name of the writer or the source. If you find a few articles that you want to use, and you

B Read the article. Then answer the questions.

1. What is the author's main purpose in writing the piece?
2. Why might it be easy to commit plagiarism by accident?
3. What question should you ask yourself in order to avoid plagiarism?

C Look at the following situations. Do you think they are describing plagiarism or not? If they are, do you think it was accidental or intentional?

1. Stacy copied a paragraph from a travel website and pasted it into her essay about Aruba. She put it into quotation marks and included the name and link for the website.
2. John works for a bank. He copied a paragraph from a website. He changed some words and rearranged some of the sentences. He did not indicate where it came from. He used it in a brochure for the bank.
3. Julie read an article online and later wrote her own essay about the same subject. Some of her wording was exactly the same as the online article.
4. Mitch borrowed a friend's essay to get some ideas for his own. Their teacher said that their essays were almost identical.

D PAIR WORK Sometimes famous musicians get in trouble for putting out songs that sound like someone else's. Do you think this is plagiarism? What, if anything, should be done about it?

 - Success isn't about how much money you make. It's about the difference you make in people's lives.
- B GROUP WORK Discuss and justify your choices.
- A: I like the first quote because, even though my friends weren't sure I could do it, I managed to graduate from high school early. That felt great!
- B: You must have been resourceful! But someone helped you, too, didn't they?
- C: That's why I like the third quote. No one achieves anything all on their own.

8 CONVERSATION Where do you see yourself?

▶ A Listen and practice.

Interviewer: Tell me a bit more about yourself. What's your greatest accomplishment?

Mike: I think my most important accomplishment was the development of a mobile app during my internship last summer.

Interviewer: And did you manage to finish the project?

Mike: Yes, I was able to deliver the app before the end of my internship, and it has already received lots of positive reviews from customers.

Interviewer: That's interesting. And where do you see yourself in five years?

Mike: Well, I know your company already hires remote workers, and that's one of my goals for the future. So, five years from now, I hope I'll be working from my laptop in some tropical country . . . a true digital nomad.

Interviewer: I see. And what do you hope you'll have achieved by then?

Mike: I'd like to have developed many other successful apps. And I hope I'll have seen more of the world.

 2. What are some interesting or unusual facts about yourself that make you a good choice for the job or school?
 3. What is something you hope to have achieved 10 years from now? When, why, and how will you reach this goal? Will achieving it change you? Why or why not?

I think my greatest accomplishment has been getting accepted at a top university in my country. I've always worked very hard in school, and I've had some truly amazing teachers who ...

There are two things I'd like to have achieved 10 years from now. First, I hope I'll have made a good start on my career ...

- B GROUP WORK Share your statements and discuss each person's accomplishments and goals. Who has the most unusual accomplishment or goal? the most realistic? the most ambitious?

A Scan the article. Where is Michael Edwards from? What sport did he participate in?

Soaring Like an Eagle

Being highly successful in any field is pretty rare. It takes a combination of natural talent, luck, determination, and plenty of outside support for someone to make it big in sports, entertainment, or business. But what if competing is all that matters to you, whether you are likely to succeed or not? This was the goal of Michael "Eddie the Eagle" Edwards, and that he reached that goal was an amazing achievement.

Born in the U.K. in 1963, Michael was an enthusiastic downhill skier whose dream was to compete for Britain in world-class competitions. He would have liked to represent his country in the 1984 Winter Olympics, but there was a large number of downhill competitors, and Edwards didn't qualify. Seeing his chance elsewhere, he switched to ski jumping. Ski jumping training didn't cost nearly as much, and there was no competition for a place on the British team.

But a number of hurdles could have meant the end of Edwards's dream. He weighed more than most competitors, which put him at a disadvantage. He had no financial support for his training. Poor eyesight meant that he had to wear glasses under his goggles – not a good thing when they steamed up at high altitudes. But he didn't let any of this discourage him. He saw himself as a true lover of the sport who simply wanted the chance to compete. Winning wasn't the point. Having the opportunity to try was all he cared about. And nothing could stop him from trying.

In the end, Edwards took 55th place in the 1987 World Championships. He then went on to the Calgary Olympics in 1988, where he finished last in both of his events. Many athletes would have been embarrassed by this result, but he is proud of his achievement to this day. His determination to persevere against all the odds made him a global hero, and in 2016, the inspiring film Eddie the Eagle was made about his life.

B Read the article. Answer the questions.

1. According to the writer, how often do people become highly successful?
2. What were two disadvantages that Michael Edwards overcame?
3. How did Edwards do at the Calgary Olympics in 1988?

C Choose the correct answers.

1. Michael Edwards chose ski jumping instead of downhill skiing because . . .
 - a. it took less skill.
 - b. the equipment was cheaper.
 - c. there were few British ski jumpers.
2. After the Calgary Olympics, Edwards . . .
 - a. felt he had reached his goal.
 - b. was embarrassed by his results.
 - c. was glad it was over.
3. Michael Edwards is outstanding because of . . .
 - a. his determination to win.
 - b. his ability to overcome physical disabilities.
 - c. his enthusiasm for the sport.

INTERCHANGE 8 Making choices

A Complete this chart with information about yourself. Add one idea of your own.

two artistic skills I'd like to develop two adventurous activities I'd like to try two dances I'd like to learn two topics I'd like to learn more about two foreign languages I'd like to speak two dishes I'd like to learn how to cook two volunteer activities I'd like to do two courses I'd like to take two sports I'd like to play two skills I'd like to improve two _____

B CLASS ACTIVITY Ask three classmates to help you choose between the things you wrote down in part A. Write their recommendations in the chart.

Names: artistic skill adventurous activity dance topic foreign language dish volunteer activity course sport
skill

A: I don't know if I'd rather be a graffiti artist or a painter. What do you think?

B: Hmm. If I were you, I'd choose graffiti.

A: Why graffiti and not painting?

B: Well, that kind of street art is very popular nowadays. You could become famous, and . . .

C GROUP WORK What are your final choices? Who gave the best advice? Why?

INTERCHANGE 9 Absolutely not!

A PAIR WORK Read these comments made by parents. Why do you think they feel this way? Think of two arguments to support each point of view.

Our son wants to go camping with his friends alone. No way!

Our son wants to stay out until midnight. We think that's way too late.

Our son wants to have his hair cut at an expensive salon. What's wrong with a regular barber?

Our son wants a new laptop, but we just bought him one last year. He can have it upgraded instead.

If our daughter insists on having her nails done at a nail salon, she has to pay for it herself.

Our daughter wants to sleep over at friends' houses on weeknights. Absolutely not!

Our daughter wants to have her ears pierced. We're totally against that.

Regardless of the color, we refuse to let our daughter get her hair dyed.

A: Why do you think they won't let their son go camping with his friends?

B: They probably think he's too young to take care of himself.

A: They may also feel that he . . .

B PAIR WORK Discuss the parents' decisions. Think of arguments for and against their points of view.

A: I think the parents should let their son go camping with his friends.

B: Why?

A: Because his friends are going, and he needs to learn to take care of himself.

B: I don't agree. I think he's too young. Teens shouldn't travel without an adult.

C CLASS ACTIVITY Take a vote. Do you agree with the parents? Why?

INTERCHANGE 16 A digital nomad

A PAIR WORK Interview your partner. Would he or she be a happy digital nomad?

Is the digital nomad lifestyle right for you?

Do you dream of working from a beach paradise? Are you ready to hit the road and make a living while traveling the world? Take our quiz and find out.

1. Have you traveled much before?
☐ a. I've traveled with my family in our country.
☐ b. Not yet, but I hope to have seen more of the world by the time I retire.
☐ c. I've been to a couple of continents and seen some amazing things!
2. Are you resourceful?
☐ a. Well, I can always count on my friends to help me when I need it.
☐ b. Yes, and I can always find the answers I need on the Internet.
☐ c. Yes, I'm good at finding opportunities everywhere.
3. When you pack for a long weekend, what do you take with you?
☐ a. A big suitcase with everything I might need – you never know what might happen.
☐ b. A small bag with the essentials.
☐ c. A toothbrush and a change of clothes. I like to travel light.
4. Are you flexible and adaptable?
☐ a. I try to be, but I don't always succeed.
☐ b. Yes, if you give me some time to adjust.
☐ c. Definitely. I've managed to survive under the most challenging circumstances.
5. Have you ever traveled all by yourself?
☐ a. Of course not. I need family and friends around at all times.
☐ b. No, but I think I'd enjoy it.
☐ c. Sure. I often take vacations alone. It's a great opportunity to meet new people.

☐ b. Well, I can live on very little money – I've done it before.
☐ c. I'm good at managing my money, and I always have some savings, so that wouldn't be a problem.
7. Are you self-motivated, or do you depend on others to get you going?
☐ a. I need to know that my boss or my teachers are around and that I can count on them.
☐ b. It depends. If I'm really involved with a project, I'm more independent; if not . . .
☐ c. Definitely. I know what I have to do, and I always finish the work on time.
8. How do you feel about changes?
☐ a. I like to have a set routine. Changes make me feel uncomfortable.
☐ b. They can be a challenge, but they also help me grow.
☐ c. Changes are always welcome. New things inspire and motivate me.

Score the quiz by counting the number of a's, b's, and c's.

Mostly a's: The digital nomad lifestyle is not for you.

Mostly b's: You'd probably be happy being a digital nomad, but you might miss your current life.

Mostly c's: What are you doing here? Go grab your things and hit the road!

B CLASS ACTIVITY Compare your findings. Who is ready to become a digital nomad?

Grammar plus

1 Relative pronouns page 3

- A relative pronoun – who or that – is necessary when the pronoun is the subject of the clause: I'd love to meet someone who/that is considerate. (NOT: I'd love to meet ~~someone is considerate.~~)
- When the pronoun is the object of the clause, who and that can be left out: I'd like a roommate who/that I have a lot in common with. OR I'd like a roommate I have a lot in common with.

Complete the conversation with who or that. Put an X when a relative pronoun isn't necessary.

- A: Ana, have you met Clint – the guy X Laurie is going to marry?
B: Oh, Clint and I have been friends for years. In fact, I'm the one _____ introduced Laurie and Clint.
A: Do you think they're right for each other?
B: Definitely. They're two people _____ have a lot in common – but not too much.
A: What does that mean?
B: Well, you don't want a partner _____ doesn't have his or her own interests. Couples _____ do everything together usually don't last very long.
A: I guess you're right, but the opposite isn't good, either. My last girlfriend was someone _____ I had nothing in common with. She wasn't the kind of girl _____ I could talk to easily.
B: Well, you can talk to me easily. . . .

2 It clauses + adverbial clauses with when page 6

- In sentences with an it clause + an adverbial clause with when, the word it refers to and means the same as the adverbial clause with when. The it in these sentences is necessary and cannot be left out: I hate it when people talk on a cell phone in an elevator. (NOT: ~~I hate when~~ people . . .) It bothers me when people talk on a cell phone in an elevator. (NOT: ~~Bothers me~~ when people . . .)

Rewrite the sentences using the words in parentheses.

1. I can't stand it when people call me before 8:00 A.M. (it really bothers me)
It really bothers me when people call me before 8:00 a.m.
2. It upsets me when I don't have enough time to study for an exam. (I hate it)

3. I don't mind it when friends talk to me about their problems. (it doesn't bother me)

4. I don't like it when I forget a co-worker's name. (it embarrasses me)

5. It makes me happy when my friends send me videos. (I love it)

6. I hate it when I have to wait for someone. (it upsets me)

1 Gerund phrases page 9

- A gerund phrase as a subject takes a singular verb: Taking care of children is a rewarding job. (NOT: Taking care of children are a rewarding job.)
- There are some common verb + preposition expressions (for example, dream about, feel like, talk about, think about) and adjective + preposition phrases (for example, good/bad at, excited by/about, interested in, tired of, used to) that are followed by a gerund: I'm thinking about looking for a new job. I'm tired of working long hours.

Complete the sentences with the correct gerund forms of the verbs in the box.

✓ become	have	make	stand	travel
change	learn	solve	take	work

- My brother's very interested in becoming a flight attendant.
He dreams about _____ to new places.
- I'm excited about _____ a Japanese class next semester.
I enjoy _____ languages.
- You wouldn't like _____ in a restaurant. You'd get tired of _____ on your feet throughout the long shifts!
- Our teacher is very good at _____ problems. Maybe she should think about _____ careers to become a guidance counselor.
- _____ a living as a photographer could be challenging.
_____ an impressive portfolio is really important to attract new clients and employers.

2 Comparisons page 11

- When making general comparisons with count nouns, use a/an + singular noun or no article + plural noun: A pilot earns more than a flight attendant. Pilots earn more than flight attendants. (NOT: ~~The~~ pilots earn more than ~~the~~ flight attendants.)

Make comparisons with the information below. Add articles and other words when necessary.

- architect / more education / hairstylist
An architect needs more education than a hairstylist.
- college professor / earn more / elementary school teacher

- nurses / worse hours / psychiatrists

- working as a police officer / as dangerous / being a firefighter

- taxi driver / not as well paid / electrician

- being a tour guide / less interesting / being an actor

1 Requests with modals, if clauses, and gerunds page 17

- Use the simple past form – not the gerund or simple present form – after if with Would you mind . . . ? and Would it be all right . . . ?: Would you mind if I used your car? Would it be all right if I used your car? (NOT: Would you mind if I using your car? OR Would it be all right if I use your car?)

Read the situations. Then complete the requests.

1. You want to borrow a friend's underwater camera for a diving trip.
A: I was wondering if I could borrow your underwater camera.
B: Sure. That's fine. Just please be careful with it.
2. You want to use your roommate's computer.
A: Is it OK _____
B: You can use it, but please don't drink near it.
3. Your neighbor has a car. You need a ride to class.
A: Would you mind _____
B: I'd be glad to. What time should I pick you up?
4. You want your brother to help you move on Saturday.
A: Can you _____
B: I'm sorry. I'm busy all weekend.
5. You would like a second piece of your aunt's cherry pie.
A: Would it be all right _____
B: Yes, of course! Just pass me your plate.
6. You want to borrow your cousin's red sweater.
A: Could you _____
B: Sorry. I don't like it when other people wear my clothes.

2 Indirect requests page 20

- In indirect requests with negative infinitives, not comes before – not between – the infinitive: Could you tell Allie not to be late? (NOT: Could you tell Allie ~~to not be~~ late?)

Complete the indirect requests. Ask someone to deliver the messages to Susie.

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|
| 1. Are you busy this weekend? | → | Could you ask Susie if she's busy this weekend? |
| 2. Do you want to hang out with me? | → | Can _____ |
| 3. Text me. | → | Can _____ |
| 4. Do you know my address? | → | Can _____ |
| 5. Don't forget to write. | → | Could _____ |
| 6. What are you doing Saturday? | → | Can _____ |
| 7. Do you have plans on Sunday? | → | Could _____ |

UNIT 4

1 Past continuous vs. simple past page 23

- Verbs for non-actions or states are rarely used in the past continuous: I wanted to stop, but I couldn't. (NOT: I ~~was wanting~~ to stop ...)

Circle the best forms to complete the conversations.

1. A: How did you break / were you breaking your arm?
B: It's a crazy story! Ramon and I rode / were riding our bikes in the park when a cat ran / was running out in front of me. I went / was going pretty fast, so when I tried / was trying to stop, I went / was going off the road and fell / was falling.
A: That's terrible! Did you go / Were you going to the hospital after it happened / was happening?
B: Yes. Luckily, we weren't / weren't being too far from City Hospital, so we went / were going there.
2. A: You'll never guess what happened / was happening to me this morning!
B: What?
A: Well, I brushed / was brushing my teeth when suddenly the water went / was going off. I had / was having toothpaste all over my mouth, and I couldn't wash it off.
B: So what did you do / were you doing?
A: Fortunately, I had / was having a big bottle of water in the refrigerator, so I used / was using that water to rinse my mouth.

2 Past perfect page 25

- Use the past perfect to show that one past action happened before another past action:

I wasn't able to pay for lunch because I had left my wallet at work.

PAST ————— X ————— X ————— NOW had left my wallet wasn't able to pay

Combine the two ideas into one with a past event and a past perfect event.
Use when or because.

1. The museum closed. A thief stole a famous painting earlier.
The museum closed because a thief had stolen a famous painting earlier.
2. We finished cleaning the house. Then our guests arrived.

3. Someone robbed my house yesterday. I left the window open.

4. There was no food in the house. We forgot to stop at the supermarket.

5. I called her three times. She finally answered.

6. I knew about the problem. Your brother told me about it.

UNIT 5

1 Noun phrases containing relative clauses page 31

- The relative pronoun who or that can be left out in noun phrases as subjects and as objects. These four sentences have exactly the same meaning: One thing I'd be nervous about is getting lost. One thing that I'd be nervous about is getting lost. Getting lost is one thing I'd be nervous about. Getting lost is one thing that I'd be nervous about.

Answer the questions using the words in parentheses. Write each sentence two ways. Leave out the relative pronouns.

If you went to live in a foreign country, . . .

1. Who would you miss a lot? (person: my best friend)
 - a. One person I'd miss a lot is my best friend.
 - b. My best friend is one person I'd miss a lot.
2. What would you be very interested in? (things: the food and the music)
 - a. _____
 - b. _____
3. What would you be worried about? (something: not understanding the customs)
 - a. _____
 - b. _____
4. Who would you stay in touch with? (people: my brother and sister)
 - a. _____
 - b. _____
5. What would you feel insecure about? (thing: speaking a new language)
 - a. _____
 - b. _____

2 Expectations page 33

- Use the base form of a verb – not the gerund – after these expressions for expectations: be the custom to, be supposed to, be expected to, be acceptable to: It's the custom to arrive a little late. (NOT: It's the custom to arriving a little late.)

Complete the sentences with the clauses in the box.

it's not acceptable to show up without calling first.
it's the custom for them to sit across from each other.
you're expected to reply within a few days.
you're supposed to bring a gift.
✓ you're supposed to shake his or her hand.

1. When you meet someone for the first time, you're supposed to shake his or her hand.
2. When a friend sends you an email, _____
3. If you want to visit someone, _____
4. If you invite a married couple to dinner, _____
5. When you go to a birthday party, _____

UNIT 6

1 Describing problems 1 page 37

- The simple past and the past participle of regular verbs are the same: I chipped the vase. The vase is chipped. BUT Many irregular verbs have different simple past and past participle forms: I tore my jacket. My jacket is torn.

Complete the conversations with the correct words from the box.

are stained	has a dent	✓ have a tear	is broken	is scratched
has a chip	has a stain	is a hole	is leaking	some damage

1. A: Oh, no! These jeans _____ have a tear _____ in them.
B: And they _____, too.

5. A: I bought this blouse yesterday, but I have to take it back. There _____ in it.
B: It's really cute, but that's not the only problem. It _____ on it, too.

2 Describing problems 2 page 39

- Use the past participle – not the present participle or gerund – with passive forms:
The oven needs to be fixed. (NOT: The oven needs to be fixing.)

A Complete the conversation with the verbs in parentheses.

Use need + passive infinitive in A's lines and need + gerund in B's lines.

- A: Look at this place! A lot of work _____ needs to be done (do) before we move in.
B: You're not kidding. Let's make a list. First, the walls _____ need painting (paint).

The letters on my keyboard _____ (stick), too. I _____ (think) things will get better, but they just _____ (get) worse. Time for some new electronics!

UNIT 7

1 Passive with prepositions page 45

- The prepositions by, as a result of, because of, though, and due to have similar meanings. They are used in sentences that describe cause and effect; they introduce the cause.

Match phrases from each column to make sentences. (More than one answer may be possible.)

Subject	Effect	Cause
1. The environment	is being contaminated due to	improper disposal of medical waste.
2. Our soil	is being harmed by	deforestation to make paper products.
3. Infectious diseases	are being endangered due to	hybrid cars.
4. Many different species	has been affected because of	the use of pesticides on fruits and vegetables.
5. Our air quality	has been reduced as a result of	the destruction of their habitats.
6. Smog pollution	have been spread through	climate changes like global warming.

2 Infinitive clauses and phrases page 47

- The form of be that follows the first infinitive must agree with the subject:
The best way to reduce pollution is to improve public transportation.
BUT The best ways to reduce homelessness are to build more public housing and provide free health care.

A Match the phrases.

1. What are the best ways to make e
2. And the best way to do that is _____

B Complete the conversation with the sentences above.

A: What are the best ways to make this city a better place to live?

B: Well,

A: That's right. _____

B: I agree. _____

A: Yes. Good air quality is key. _____

B: Maybe it's time to share our ideas with the mayor. Get out your phone.

UNIT 8

1 Would rather and would prefer page 51

- In negative statements with would rather and would prefer, the word not comes after the verbs: I'd rather not / I'd prefer not to take any courses this semester.
(NOT: I ~~wouldn't rather~~ / I ~~wouldn't prefer~~ to . . .)

Write questions and responses using the words in parentheses.

1. A: Would you prefer to take classes during the day or at night?
(prefer / take classes / during the day / at night)
B: _____
(rather / take classes / at night)
2. A: _____
(rather / study / business / education)
B: _____
(prefer / become / a teacher)
3. A: _____
(prefer / sign up for / an art course / a computer course)
B: _____
(prefer / not / take / any classes this semester)
4. A: _____
(rather / take up / an individual sport / a team sport)
B: _____
(rather / not / take up / either)

2 By + gerund to describe how to do things page 53

- In negative sentences that express comparison with by + gerund and but, not comes before by: A good way to improve your accent is not by watching TV but by talking to native speakers. In negative sentences with by that give advice without a comparison, not comes after by: A good way to improve your accent is by not imitating non-native speakers.

Combine the two ideas into one sentence using by + gerund.

1. You can build your vocabulary. Write down new words and expressions.
One way to build your vocabulary is by writing down new words and expressions.
2. There is a good way to improve your accent. You can mimic native speakers.

3. Students can improve their listening skills. They can listen to English-language podcasts.

4. Hardworking students improve their grammar. They don't repeat common mistakes.

5. You can become fluent. Don't translate everything. Try to think in English.

6. You can become a good conversationalist. Don't just talk with others.
Talk to yourself when you're alone, too.

UNIT 9

1 Get or have something done page 59

- Sentences with get/have + object + past participle are passive. BUT Don't use any form of be before the past participle: Where can I have my watch fixed? (NOT: Where can I have my watch ~~be~~ fixed?)

Rewrite the statements as questions with Where can I get/have . . . ?

Then complete B's answers with the information in parentheses.

1. I want to have someone shorten these pants.
A: Where can I have these pants shortened?
B: You can have them shortened at Tim's Tailoring. (at Tim's Tailoring)
2. I need to get someone to repair my computer.
A: _____
B: _____ (at Hackers Inc.)
3. I need to have someone prepare my taxes.
A: _____
B: _____ (by my accountant)
4. I'd like to get someone to cut my hair.
A: _____
B: _____ (at Beauty Barn)
5. I need to have someone paint my apartment.
A: _____
B: _____ (by Peter the Painter)

2 Making suggestions page 61

- Use the base form of a verb – without to – after Maybe you could . . . and Why don't you . . . ?: Maybe you could join a book club. (NOT: Maybe you could ~~to~~ join a book club.) Why don't you join a book club? (NOT: Why don't you ~~to~~ join a book club?)

Complete the conversations with the correct form of the verbs in parentheses.

- A: I'm having trouble meeting people here in the city. Any ideas?
B: I know it's hard. Why don't you _____ (join) a gym? That's usually a good place to meet people. Or maybe you could _____ (take) a class at the community college.
A: What about _____ (check out) the personal ads? Do you think that's a good way to meet people?
B: I wouldn't recommend doing that. People never tell the truth in those ads. But it might be a good idea _____ (find) a sports team. Have you thought about _____ (play) a team sport – maybe baseball or volleyball?
A: I'm not very good at most sports, but I used to play tennis.
B: There you go! One option is _____ (look up) tennis clubs in the city and see which clubs have teams people can join.
A: Now, that's a great idea. And I could always use the exercise!

UNIT 10

1 Referring to time in the past page 65

- Use since with a particular time: The UN has been in existence since 1945.
Use for with a duration of time: The UN has been in existence for about the last 70 years.
- Use in and during with a specific period of time: Rock 'n' roll became popular in/during the 1950s.
- Use from and to to describe when something began and ended: World War II lasted from 1939 to 1945.

Complete the conversation with the words in the box. (Use some of the words more than once.)

ago during for from in since to

A: Hey, Dad. Did you use to listen to the Beatles?

B: Of course. In fact, I just listened to one of their records a few days ago.
Do you realize that the Beatles's music has influenced other musicians over 50 years? They were the greatest!

A: Well, I just found some interesting information about them. I'll read it to you: "The Beatles were a well-known British band in the 1960s. They performed together from 1960 to 1970. During 2003, the Beatles released Let it Be, even though one of the original members had been dead since 1980 and another had died in 2001. The original album had been recorded in 1969 and was in the studio safe for 34 years before the new, remixed album was released."

B: That is interesting. It's pretty amazing that people have listened to the Beatles both in both the twentieth and the twenty-first centuries, isn't it?

2 Predicting the future with will page 67

- In sentences referring to time, the preposition by means "not later than." Don't confuse by with within, which means "some time during." Use by with points in time; use within with periods of time: By 2050, we will have eliminated starvation around the world. (NOT: ~~Within~~ 2050, . . .) Within the next five years, people will have invented mobile phone apps for nearly everything! (NOT: ~~By~~ the next five years, . . .)

Circle the correct verb forms to complete the conversation.

A: What do you think you will do / will be doing five years from now?

B: I'm not sure. Maybe I will get / will have gotten married by then. How about you?

A: I will be finishing / will have finished medical school, so I will be doing / will have done my internship five years from now.

B: So you won't be living / won't have lived around here in five years, I guess. Where do you think you will live / will have lived?

A: Wherever I get my internship.

UNIT 11

1 Time clauses page 73

- Use the past perfect in the main clause with until and by the time. This shows that one of the past events happened before the other: Until I got my driver's license, I had always taken public transportation. By the time I got my driver's license, all of my friends had already gotten theirs.

Circle the correct time expression to complete each sentence.

1. After / Until I traveled overseas, I hadn't known much about different cultures.
2. After / Before I got a full-time job, I had to live on a very limited budget.
3. By the time / Once I finished high school, I had already taken three college courses.
4. As soon as / Before I left for college, my mother turned my room into her office.
5. Once / Until I left home, I realized how much my family meant to me.
6. By the time / The moment you have a child, you feel totally responsible for him or her.

2 Expressing regret and describing hypothetical situations page 75

- Conditional sentences describing hypothetical situations often refer to both the present and the past:
- If I'd finished college, I'd have a better job now.
- past present
- (NOT: If I'd finished college, I'd ~~have had~~ a better job now.)

A Write sentences with should (not) have to express regret about each person's situation.

1. Sarah was very argumentative with her teacher, so she had to stay after school.
Sarah shouldn't have been argumentative with her teacher.
2. Ivan didn't save up for a car, so he still has to take public transportation.

3. Jon was very inactive when he was in college, so he gained a lot of weight.

4. Lisa didn't stay in touch with her high school classmates, so now she has very few friends.

5. Tony didn't study Spanish in school, so he's not bilingual now.

B Rewrite your sentences in part A, changing them to hypothetical situations.

1. If Sarah hadn't been argumentative with her teacher, she wouldn't have had to stay after school.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

UNIT 12

1 Describing purpose page 79

- Don't use for immediately before an infinitive: To have a successful business, you need a lot of luck. (NOT: For to have a successful business, you need a lot of luck.)

A Complete the sentences with in order to or in order for.

1. In order for a supermarket to succeed, it has to be clean and well organized.
2. _____ stay popular, a website needs to be accurate and visually attractive.
3. _____ run a profitable furniture store, it's important to advertise on TV.
4. _____ a restaurant to stay in business, it needs to have "regulars" – customers that come often.
5. _____ establish a successful nail salon, it has to have a convenient location.
6. _____ an online business to survive, it needs to have excellent pictures of the merchandise it's selling.

B Rewrite the sentences in part A without In order.

1. For a supermarket to succeed, it has to be clean and well organized.
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

2 Giving reasons page 81

- Because and since have the same meaning, and they can begin or end a sentence: Because/Since the food is always fantastic, Giorgio's is my favorite restaurant. = Giorgio's is my favorite restaurant because/since the food is always fantastic.
- Don't confuse because and because of. Because introduces an adverb clause and is followed by a subject and verb, while because of is a preposition and is followed by a noun object: Because Giorgio's is so popular, we should get there early. Giorgio's is popular because of its food and service.

Circle the correct words to complete the conversation.

- A: I had to go downtown today because / because of / due to I needed to mail a package at the post office. Due to / For / Since I was only a few blocks from Main Street, I went over to Martin's. Did you know that Martin's has gone out of business? I'm so upset!
- B: That's too bad, but I'm not surprised. A lot of family-owned shops are closing because / because of / since the construction of shopping malls.
- A: Yeah, and don't forget about all the megastores that are popping up everywhere. Because / For / The reason why people prefer to shop there is to save money. Everyone loves a megastore because / due to / since the low prices and the huge selection.
- B: Not me! I loved Martin's for / since / the reason that their beautiful clothes and friendly salespeople. When you were there, you almost felt like family. You'll never get that at a megastore!

1 Past modals for degrees of certainty page 87

- Use the past modal could have to express possibility. BUT Use couldn't have when you are almost 100% sure something is impossible: I suppose he could have gotten stuck in traffic, but he couldn't have forgotten his own birthday party.

Complete the conversations with past modals must (not) have, could (not) have, or may/might (not) have. Use the degrees of certainty and the verbs in parentheses. (More than one answer may be possible.)

1. A: Yoko still hasn't called me back.
B: She might not have gotten your message. (it's possible – not get)
2. A: What's wrong with Steven?

2 Defining and non-defining relative clauses page 96

- Use either who or that in defining relative clauses about people: A set designer is an artist who/that makes important contributions to a theater production. BUT Use only who in non-defining relative clauses about people: A set designer, who makes important contributions to a theater production, has to be very creative. (NOT: A set designer, that makes . . .)
- Use commas before and after a non-defining clause: A gossip columnist, who writes about celebrities and scandals, often gets to go to fabulous parties.

Combine these sentences with who or that. Add a comma wherever one is necessary.

1. A cartoon animator creates animated scenes for movies and games. He or she needs to have a high level of technical know-how.
A cartoon animator, who needs to have a high level of technical know-how, creates animated scenes for movies and games.
2. A screenwriter is a talented person. He or she develops a story idea into a movie script.
A screenwriter is a talented person that develops a story idea into a movie script.

A

- A: Look at this place! A lot of work needs to be done before we move in.
B: You're not kidding. Let's make a list. First, the walls need painting.
A: Right. And the windows need to be washed. Add the rug to your list: It really needs to be cleaned. Do you think it needs to be dry-cleaned?
B: No, I think we can do it ourselves. It needs shampooing. We can rent a machine for that.
A: And what about the ceiling fan? I think it needs to be replaced. Fans aren't too expensive.
B: OK. I've added it to the list. And what should we do with all this old furniture?
A: It needs to be thrown out! I think the landlord should take care of that, though.

B

I keep having technical problems. My computer keeps crashing, and my printer keeps jamming. I have to keep putting a new battery into my mouse because it keeps dying. The letters on my keyboard keep sticking, too. I keep thinking things will get better, but they just keep getting worse. Time for some new electronics!

B: You can get/have it painted by Peter the Painter.

2 Making suggestions

- A: I'm having trouble meeting people here in the city. Any ideas?
B: I know it's hard. Why don't you join a gym? That's usually a good place to meet people. Or maybe you could take a class at the community college.
A: What about checking out the personal ads? Do you think that's a good way to meet people?
B: I wouldn't recommend doing that. People never tell the truth in those ads. But it might be a good idea to find a sports team. Have you thought about playing a team sport – maybe baseball or volleyball?
A: I'm not very good at most sports, but I used to play tennis.
B: There you go! One option is to look up tennis clubs in the city and see which clubs have teams people can join.
A: Now, that's a great idea. And I could always use the exercise!

Unit 10

1 Referring to time in the past

- A: Hey, Dad. Did you use to listen to the Beatles?
B: Of course. In fact, I just listened to one of their records a few days ago. Do you realize that the Beatles's music has influenced other musicians for over 50 years? They were the greatest!
A: Well, I just found some interesting information about them. I'll read it to you: "The Beatles were a well-known British band during/in the 1960s. They performed together for 10 years – from 1960 to 1970. In 2003, the Beatles released a new version of their classic album Let it Be, even though one of the original members had been dead since 1980 and another had died in 2001. The original album had been recorded in 1969 and was in the studio safe for 34 years before the new, remixed album was released."
B: That is interesting. It's pretty amazing that people have listened to the Beatles in both the twentieth and the twenty-first centuries, isn't it?

2 Predicting the future with will

- A: What do you think you will be doing five years from now?
B: I'm not sure. Maybe I will have gotten married by then. How about you?
A: I will have finished medical school, so I will be doing my internship five years from now.
B: So you won't be living around here in five years, I guess. Where do you think you will live?
A: Wherever I get my internship.

Unit 11

1 Time clauses

- Before I got a full-time job, I had to live on a very limited budget.
