

speakout 2ND EDITION

Discover English as it is really spoken

Speakout 2nd Edition is a comprehensive six-level general English course for adults that has been developed in association with BBC Worldwide and BBC Learning English. The course integrates authentic video from popular BBC programmes into every unit and builds the skills and knowledge learners need to express themselves confidently in a real English-speaking environment.

Completely revised and aligned to the Global Scale of English, this edition has striking new visuals, updated reading and listening texts, new video clips and a large bank of additional practice material.

Speakout Extra

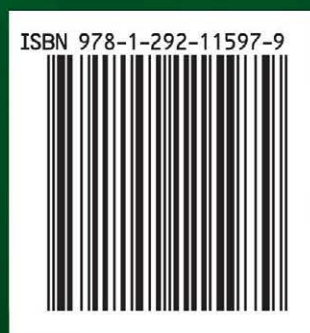

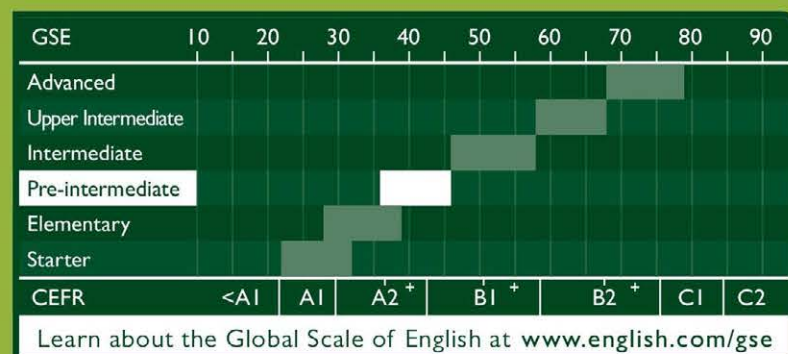

Speakout Extra provides downloadable worksheets that meet learners' individual needs by providing them with additional grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation and skills practice. It also includes extra video exploitation activities to help learners get the most out of the BBC clips.

C Work in pairs. Do any of the activities in Exercise 1B make you happy? Add some more activities to the list.

READING

2 A Read the magazine article. Which of these things do you do already? Which could you do more of?

B Work in pairs. Which of the seven ideas do you think are the most/least important for you? Do you have any other ideas to include?

the Seven Secrets of Happiness

Everyone has a different idea of what happiness is, but most of us want to be happier. So, what can we learn from looking at the habits of happy people? Here are seven things to make you happy.

1 Sleep More Most people don't sleep enough. If you want to feel good about life, then try to sleep for at least seven hours a night.

2 Do Some Exercise You don't need to run for 20km or go to the gym every night, but a small amount of exercise will help you feel happy. Go for a short (10–15 minute) walk somewhere beautiful. It wakes up your brain.

3 Give to Others Research shows that giving money or time to help others makes you feel happier. Buying someone an unexpected present or spending some time doing voluntary work will give you a feeling of joy.

4 Be Interested Love what you do and try to learn something new. People who are curious and learn new things experience feelings of satisfaction and happiness.

5 Spend Time with Family and Friends

This is probably the most important thing you can do. People who have a strong network of social relationships are not just happier; they live longer, too!

6 Focus on the Moment Try to find opportunities each day to enjoy the small things in life. Spend a little time on your own, and just enjoy the moment.

7 Smile! Smile more (even when you're feeling sad). Smiling can actually make you feel better. People who post big smiley photos of themselves on Facebook actually feel happier because they see the photo every day and it reminds them of happy times.

GRAMMAR

QUESTION FORMS

3 A Read the questions. Think about your answers.

Top Conversation Killers

Do you ever find that you're having an interesting ¹ _____ and then suddenly everything goes really quiet and you're not sure why? Next time watch out for these conversation killers.

'You look tired'

There's nothing worse than when a friend who hasn't seen you for a while ² _____ you that you're looking tired or stressed.

Me, Me, Me

This is one of the biggest conversation killers. Don't ³ _____ people to talk about yourself. It's a great idea to talk about things you have in common, but just remember to take turns.

'Sorry, what were you ⁴ _____?'

It's always easier to talk than to listen, but learning to listen and being interested in the response is an important conversation skill.

'Have you heard what people are saying about ...?'

Don't ⁵ _____ or say rude things about people you know, even if it's only a ⁶ _____.

Don't be too negative

Try not to ⁷ _____ about too many negative topics. As they say, 'Laugh and the world laughs with you, cry and you cry alone.'

FUNCTION

MAKING CONVERSATION

3 A  1.5 Listen to two conversations. Which conversation (Conversation 1 or Conversation 2) do you think is better? Why?

B Listen again and complete the responses.

1 Would you like a drink?

2 Did you have a good weekend?

3 This is my friend, Rachel.

4 I'd love a coffee, thank you.

5 Yes, it was OK.

6 Pleased to meet you.

B Listen again and repeat.

speakout TIP

Use so to help a conversation when you ask another question. Poland? So, where exactly in Poland do you come from? You can also use it when you want to change the topic. So, did you watch the match last night? Can you add so to any questions in Exercise 3B? Practise saying the questions.

SPEAKING

6 A Look at the topics in the box below. Think of five questions you can ask people related to the topics.

films	home	next holiday	food/drink	free time
family	weather	work/studies	weekend

B Talk to as many different people as possible in the class. Start conversations with them. Try to ask at least three of your questions, and then end the conversation. Be careful not to kill the conversation too quickly.

So, what kind of films do you enjoy?

Where exactly do you live?

So, what do you do in your free time?

DVD PREVIEW

1 A Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- 1 What kinds of programmes do you enjoy watching on television?
- 2 Which television programmes are popular in your country at the moment?
- 3 Do you enjoy watching situation comedies (sitcoms)? Why/Why not?

B Read the programme information and answer the questions.

- 1 What is Miranda's problem?
- 2 Why do you think she finds it difficult to answer Mike?

 Miranda

Whatever Miranda tries to do in life, something always goes wrong. Now, she has a boyfriend called Mike, but every time he says the words 'I love you', Miranda panics and doesn't know how to respond. What's the real problem? Is it something to do with her old university friend Gary? And can her best friend, Stevie, help her to work it out?

DVD VIEW

2 A Watch the DVD. Why can't Miranda say 'I love you' to Mike? What's the problem?

B Watch again. Number the sentences in the order you hear them.

- a) 'What was your first love?' 'Doughnuts.'
- b) 'You love him, but you're not in love with him.'
- c) 'When he tells me he loves me, I freak out. Can't say it back.' 1
- d) 'I wouldn't laugh. It's one of the reasons I love you.'
- e) 'You're not in love with your boyfriend. It's only fair you split up with him.'
- f) 'What truly makes your heart skip?' 'Gary'.

3 A Who says sentences 1–6: Miranda, Mike, the man, Stevie or Gary? Who are they talking to?

- 1 'I'm gonna have to dash. I will see you later.'
- 2 'What springs to mind when I say, "What do you love?"'
- 3 'Now we need to work out how you'll end it.'
- 4 'I'm going to have to write Mike a letter. It's the only way.'
- 5 'Listen, I really really need your help. Do you think you could spare a few hours this afternoon?'
- 6 'I'm in love with Gary!'

B Watch again to check your answers.

4 Work in pairs and answer the questions.

- 1 What do you think Miranda should do now?
- 2 What do you think will happen next?

speakout a special person

4 A Think about people you know. Who is the best person to:

- go on holiday with?
- talk to about your problems?
- borrow money from?
- go out for an evening with?
- invite to your house for dinner?
- work/live with?
- go to a concert/art gallery with?

B Work in pairs and discuss your answers.

5 You are going to talk about an important person in your life. Think about questions 1–6.

- 1 Who is this person?
- 2 What is their relationship to you?
- 3 How did you meet?
- 4 How often do you see them?
- 5 What kind of things do you do together?
- 6 Why is this person important to you?

6 A  1.7 Listen to someone describing a friend and answer the questions.

writeback a competition entry

7 A Read the competition entry below. Underline three reasons why Julie is the writer's best friend.

Is your friend the 'best friend in the world'? Tell us why.

Julie is the best friend in the world because she is always there for me. Julie is the person I call when I have a problem, or if I need to borrow money. She has helped me through some difficult times. We have known each other for nearly twenty years, so we know everything there is to know about each other. We argue sometimes, but we have the same sense of humour, so our arguments don't last very long. I can talk to Julie about anything and I know she will be a friend forever.

B Write an entry for the competition about your best friend or someone special. Use the questions in Exercise 5 to help you.

V FREE TIME

1 A Complete the questions with the missing word.

Dear Mr Shaw,

I am writing to apply for the position at your company advertised in JSI. I believe my personal qualities and my experience make me a good candidate for this job.

I worked for Seng Tech for three years, producing designs for apps. Our customers included Sherring Inc. and BTZ Co. I am currently developing mobile apps for two other companies.

I am very motivated by interesting tasks and I am looking for a chance to develop my skills in a bigger company.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Vanessa Chiarollo

C Read the advert and write to BES. Use the prompts below and phrases from Exercise 9A.

- Say why you're writing and introduce yourself.
- Say what you're doing now (studying English, etc.).
- Ask for information about BES's work experience programme.
- End the email.

BES is an international furniture design company. Based in Ankara, we design and produce household furniture in 15 countries. We are looking for people who want work experience in design, sales and other areas.

Danger Rating 6/10

Up in the mountains, the view is beautiful. But not for emergency doctor Martin Schmidt, paramedic Marius Adler and helicopter pilot Klaus Hartmann. Their job is to find and rescue people in trouble: climbers caught in an avalanche, injured skiers, even lost walkers. Reporter Lucy Rose met the team and asked them about their work.

Adler says they love their jobs, but they sometimes get angry with the people they rescue. 'Climbers always risk their lives, but when they get into trouble they also risk ours.'

What exactly are the dangers? Hartmann says that, although the sun is shining today, they usually fly in much worse weather conditions, which can be very dangerous. Another problem is that, often, the people they rescue are frightened. They panic, and this makes it difficult for the team.

And what are the best things about the job? Hartmann says, 'Saving lives is its own reward.' And occasionally they get a surprise. 'One time we rescued a woman after a skiing accident. She was badly hurt. Later her husband brought us a huge box of chocolates.' The people they rescue, Schmidt explains, hardly ever say thank you!

 - 2 What did he decide to do?

The Money Programme: Dream Commuters

BBC

The Money Programme is a BBC documentary series. Dream Commuters tells the story of a man who was fed up with his journey to work and his lifestyle. Every day there was a lot of traffic on the roads and the commute to work took a long time. He wasn't happy with his work/life balance. So he bought a property in France and took his family to live there. He now takes cheap flights to work. He is one of a growing number of commuters who live in another country. He says it has transformed his life.

B Match the words in bold in Exercise 2A with meanings 1–7.

- 1 completely changed
- 2 journeys in a plane
- 3 people who travel to work
- 4 cars, motorbikes, etc. on the road
- 5 journey to work
- 6 a building or land that you own
- 7 unhappy with something, so you want to change it

- 1 Is this a stressful job? Why/Why not?
- 2 Would you like a job like this?

22-10-16 Posting 1

I'm a personal trainer. I eat well and I do a lot of exercise. I spend about five hours a day working with clients. In general, I think my work/life balance is good. I take time off every few months just to relax, and I rarely get stressed. Once in a while I go out partying. For me, a balanced lifestyle is really important. When I was younger, I worried if I missed a day of exercise. These days I don't worry about it.

My only problem is the one-hour commute. I hate taking the train every day and it's expensive. I'm planning to move house so I can live near the gym where I work and walk to work every morning.

How the World Spends its

Free time

1 Internet

People from Canada spend, on average, 43.5 hours per week online, 8 hours longer than the next highest, the USA. One reason: Canada has long, cold winters so people spend lots of time indoors.

2 Sport

Football is king. In second place, surprisingly, is cricket. Only a few nations play the game seriously, but it's very popular in India, which has 1.2 billion people.

3 Outdoors

New Zealanders spend the most time outdoors. The countryside is perfect for hiking, mountain climbing, and water sports. If you live in New Zealand, you're never more than two hours' drive from the sea. And then there is the rugby, too ...

4 Bars

Spain has six bars per 1,000 inhabitants, easily the highest number. In Spain, a bar is for families, not just drinkers. It's a meeting place and often an eating place [try the tapas!].

5 Galleries and Museums

The UK has six of the top 20 most visited art galleries/museums in the world, including the National Gallery, the British Museum and Tate Modern.

6 TV

The biggest TV-watchers are in Thailand. They spend 22.4 hours a week watching TV. In second place comes the Philippines (21 hours) and in third place, Egypt (20.9 hours), famous for its never-ending soap operas!

7 Party!

It's impossible to say who parties the most, but Brazil's annual carnival makes it a good choice. Some of the best cities for partying include Bangkok (friendly people, great nightclubs), Berlin (live music scene), and the island of Ibiza (dance music).

8 Exercising

The biggest exercisers are people from Greece and Estonia. Over 80 percent of people in those countries exercise regularly. In both countries, football and the Olympic sports are the most popular, but Estonia has one very special game: ice cricket!

ARE TRADITIONAL WAYS OF LEARNING

the best?

Read about some alternative schools of thought ...

1 THE ALTERNATIVE SCHOOL

The Alternative School, in Lancashire, UK, offers a different type of schooling for young people who are having problems in mainstream education. The school offers an innovative and interesting educational programme, which is designed specifically for the individual. Students can decide when they come to school, and which subjects they want to study. They don't have to come to school every day. They can choose to start with just a few hours a week. The school uses an 'open door' policy where students are allowed to leave lessons if they are bored or unhappy.

2 THE FLIPPED CLASSROOM

Many classrooms around the world are adopting a flipped classroom approach. This learning model switches classroom learning and homework. In a traditional classroom, the teacher explains the lesson to the students in the classroom, and the students study homework outside class, where they have to work on their own, and can't ask anyone for help. So, in a flipped classroom, children can watch a video of their teacher giving a lecture on the subject at home. They don't have to do any written work. When they come back to the classroom, they have to do the more traditional exercises, but they can ask the teacher or their classmates for help if they don't understand.

3 STARTING YOUNG

A child learning music with the Suzuki method has to start as young as possible. Even two-year-old children can learn to play difficult pieces of classical music, often on the violin. They do this by watching and listening. They learn by copying, just like they learn their mother tongue. The child has to join in, but doesn't have to get it right. 'They soon learn that they mustn't stop every time they make a mistake. They just carry on,' said one Suzuki trainer. The children have to practise for hours every day and they give performances once a week, so they learn quickly. 'The parents must be involved too,' said the trainer, 'or it just doesn't work.'

Do I have to? go to school today?

They ¹ _____ (not necessary) wear a uniform, and they ² _____ (not necessary) wait for the school bus. These are two of the advantages of being home-schooled. But there are more. 'You ³ _____ (possible) choose which subjects you want to study,' says Jasmin, aged fourteen. 'You ⁴ _____ (necessary) work hard, but you ⁵ _____ (possible) choose to work when you feel like it.' Jasmin is one of 55,000 children in the UK who doesn't go to school. She stays at home for her education, and she's much happier. 'School is all about rules: you ⁶ _____ (necessary) be at school at 8.30a.m., you ⁷ _____ (not allowed) wear trainers, you ⁸ _____ (not allowed) use your mobile phone in class, etc. I prefer being at home.' Jasmin's mother, Terry, educates her four children at home. 'Some people think that children who study at home ⁹ _____ (not allowed) go to the exams and get the same qualifications, but they ¹⁰ _____ (allowed), and they do!'

Hello, everyone. In two months I'll start work at an international company. The only problem is I need to improve my English quickly. I did well in my recent English exam, but I need to do business in English, and I know it'll be more difficult. Do you have any good ideas?

Zeynep

- B Work in pairs and compare your answers.

- 4 Read the replies and discuss. Which ideas have you tried? Which do you think are the most useful ideas?

Hi Zeynep. I think you should use message boards to make new friends. Then you can chat with them online in English and it doesn't matter if you make mistakes.

Ahmed L

Zeynep, go online and find a business website you like. When you don't understand some words, you should look them up and write them in a notebook.

Ruby 335

You shouldn't worry. They gave you the job, so you're good enough. Relax and just watch some movies in English.

Marie 98

Why don't you use graded readers? They're enjoyable and they'll help you learn new words.

Ana Kosicka

Zeynep, I think it's a good idea to use language learning apps, as these help you measure your progress.

- 3 A year before flying a plane, the brothers built a glider/a plane engine.
- 4 Dallas Campbell says the plane 'helped transform our travel/planet.'

5 Work in pairs. Discuss. What new information did you learn from the programme?

speakout inventions

- 6 A Look at the list of inventors and their inventions. What do you know about these people? What other famous inventors do you know?

Johannes Gutenberg (1395–1468): the printing press

Alexander Graham Bell (1847–1922): the telephone

Thomas Edison (1847–1931): the light bulb

Tim Berners-Lee (b. 1955): the internet

- B  4.7 Listen to two people talking about important inventions. Which do they mention?

- Which idea do they think is very good?
- Which idea do they disagree about?
- What is the third idea they talk about?

- C Listen again and tick the key phrases you hear.

- 8 A Read about an online survey and then read a post by a commenter. What is the survey about and what does the person think of it?

World Changers

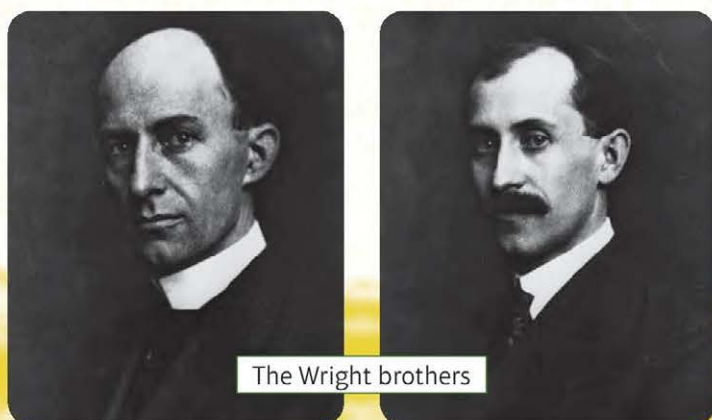

We asked 15,000 people from 15 countries to name the most important inventions in history. Here are the top ten:

- | | |
|---------------|----------------|
| 1 wheel | 6 electricity |
| 2 telephone | 7 refrigerator |
| 3 antibiotics | 8 internet |
| 4 language | 9 engine |
| 5 aeroplane | 10 iPhone |

I think the list includes some very important inventions, but in my opinion there are also some strange choices. Some of them, e.g. language and electricity, aren't inventions at all. These are discoveries of natural things and shouldn't be on this list. I'm also surprised that the toilet and the printing press aren't in the top ten. For me, these are essential. Without the toilet, there would be a lot more disease, and without the printing press, modern communications would be very different: we would have fewer books, magazines and newspapers. Also, I'm amazed that the iPhone is at number ten! How many people in the world actually have an iPhone? It seems strange to include it in a list of basic needs like the wheel and antibiotics.

 - 1 Who made the journey?
 - 2 Why did they want to go?
 - 3 Where did they go?
- 4 Take turns to tell your group about your text. Which story do you think sounds the most interesting?

KON-TIKI

In the middle of the twentieth century the Norwegian explorer and writer Thor Heyerdahl developed a theory. He believed that people from South America travelled to Polynesia 1,500 years ago and settled there. At the time, very few others believed his theory. They thought the journey was too difficult without modern technology. While others were discussing the theory, Heyerdahl decided to test it.

Using only materials and technology available to the people of that time, Heyerdahl and his team of five sailors (and a parrot) built a wooden raft*. On 28 April 1947 they left from Peru and crossed the Pacific.

While they were sailing, huge waves crashed into the raft, and whales and sharks came close. 101 days and 4,300 miles later they arrived in Polynesia. At the time, no one knew this type of journey was possible. But perhaps the most amazing thing about the journey was that Thor Heyerdahl didn't know how to swim!

Heyerdahl later wrote a book about the journey, and in 2012 a Norwegian film called Kon-Tiki came out, based on the trip.

*raft: a flat boat usually made of wood

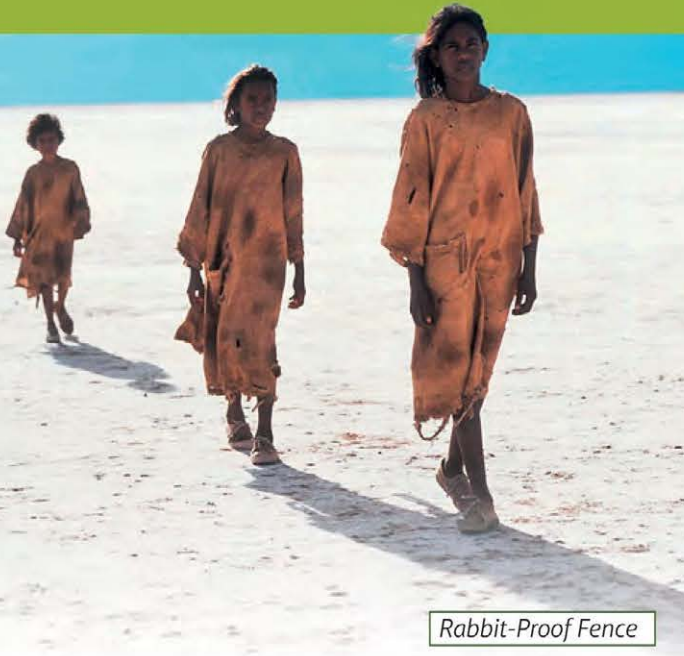

speakout TIP

Make short notes. Don't write full sentences. Choose only important information. Try to use your own words. The sun was shining when they began their journey that Friday morning. → Sunny when they left. Find a sentence in one of the texts. Make a note of the main idea in three or four words.

5 Discuss the questions.

Hi Paolo,

I hope you're well. I've just got back from my trip to Poland. It was wonderful. First we flew to Warsaw. We were only there for two days, but we managed to see lots of interesting sights like the Royal Castle and the National Museum. Then we had a day in Kraków, which was beautiful, especially the huge square in the Old Town. Unfortunately, after a while, it started raining so we spent the afternoon chatting with locals in a bar. After that, we took a train to Łódź. I loved it. We visited various museums and walked along the famous Piotrkowska Street. Finally, we caught the plane back home. It was a great trip and we met lots of really friendly Poles, who promised to visit us in Spain!

Love,
Irina

- B Read the text to find out.
- C Discuss. Would you like Juan's job? Why/Why not?

THE MAN WHO WORKS IN THREE COUNTRIES EVERY DAY

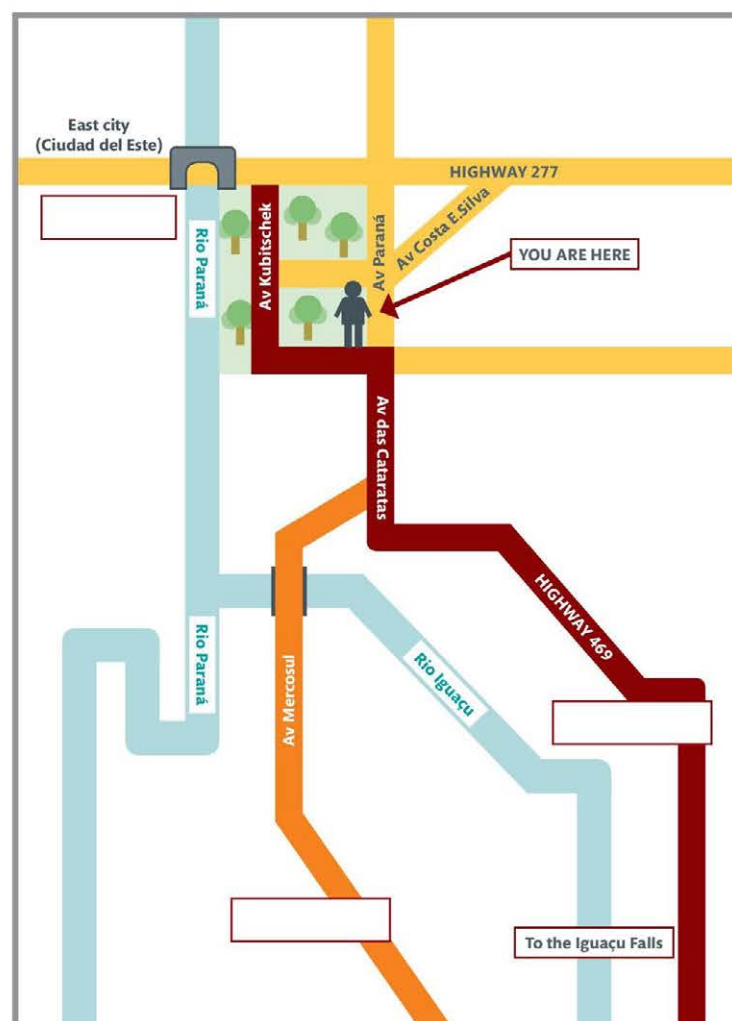

JUAN OLIVEIRA was born in Argentina, grew up in Paraguay and now lives in Brazil. He says he loves the three countries equally, and he works in all three of them every day. Juan is a tour guide in Foz do Iguaçu, a Brazilian town which is close to the borders of both Argentina and Paraguay. He takes tourists around the Iguaçu Falls, one of the great natural wonders of the world.

First, he shows tourists the waterfall from the Brazilian side. Then they cross the border to see the water from the Argentinian side. After that, they go on a boat trip which takes them under the waterfall. Finally, he takes them on the short journey to Ciudad del Este in Paraguay to do some tax-free shopping. He says the Falls are amazing, especially in the rainy season. He sees them every day and he never gets tired of them.

APPLICATION FORM

1 _____

We would like to go to Easter Island to live with the local people for three months. Easter Island is one of the great mysteries of the world. It has many famous stone statues of heads, but no one knows who made them or why.

2 _____

Our plan is to talk to the islanders about their history and about their present and future. We will ask them about their lives and what they think of the statues. We want to learn how the world's most isolated people live: what they eat, what they do for entertainment and what they think of the modern world of computers and other technology.

3 _____

We will record all of the interviews on film. We will also keep a diary of our own experiences on the island. Eventually, we hope to make a TV documentary and write a book about our time on the island.

B Write your application for the award. Use the model in Exercise 7A to help you.

BBC INTERVIEWS

 What do you do to keep fit?

Get moving!

A lot of us spend most of our working day sitting at the computer. If you add this to the seven hours we spend sleeping, we could easily find that we spend nearly two thirds of our day without moving at all. We all know that exercise is good for both the body and the brain. Even a short amount of exercise every day can help us to feel happier and more relaxed. So, how does the world keep fit? We've looked at some of the latest exercise trends from around the world.

TOWERRUNNING China

Have you ever worked in an office block and wondered how you can get fit? Perhaps you should try Towerrunning. It's a sport you can do in the skyscrapers of almost any big city, but Asian cities can be particularly good. All you need to do is start at the bottom of an office tower, and run up all the stairs until you get to the top. Towerrunning has become popular all around the world with important races taking place in some of the world's tallest towers, like Taipei 101, the Empire State Building in New York, and the China World Trade Centre, Beijing.

PILOXING® USA

If you enjoy dance classes like Zumba, but you also want to get rid of your anger, then PILOXING® might be for you. PILOXING® started in the USA, but has travelled quickly to countries like the UK. The sport is a mixture between boxing, pilates and dance. PILOXING® uses the power and speed of boxing, whilst building your muscles and strength with pilates. All of this happens to non-stop loud music, and you learn some great dance moves too.

PADDLE BOARDING Brazil

When it comes to the end of a long day, what could be better than a paddle board on the ocean? It might look easy, but paddle boarding is a tough sport. You need to be strong to keep your balance. However, if you bring your board down to the water at 'golden hour' just before sunset, the water is calm and the ocean will make you forget all your problems.

- 4 We're also looking at ways to make proteins out of things like mud and wood and also s_____.
- 5 Other developments on your kitchen table include an intelligent k_____.
- 6 Really giving people more i_____ about their food.

speakout TIP

When we aren't sure of a word we hear, we can often guess: What letter does the word begin with? How many syllables does it have? Do we recognise the ending of the word (e.g. -tion, -y, -ed)? Does the context tell us the type of word (e.g. noun, verb, adjective)? After guessing, check with a friend, your teacher or the audio script.

GRAMMAR

MAY, MIGHT, WILL

3 A Read sentences a)–d) and answer the questions about the phrases in bold.

- We might see them (insects) on menus.
 - We may see some changes.
 - An intelligent knife will tell you all about the food it's cutting.
 - It tastes awful now, but ... it won't in the future.

B: I agree. There is enough food in the world, but it is not reaching the people who need it.

WRITING

SENTENCE STRUCTURE

6 A Work in pairs. Read the extract from a blog below and discuss the questions.

- When and why did Fernanda move from her home city?
- What does she say about Colombian food and Colombian cooking?
- What food did she try in the US and who made it?

how important is food in your life

Fernanda Huerta-Gonzalez, from Colombia, talks about food.

In my late twenties I moved from my home in Medellin, Colombia, to the United States to continue my studies. It was a good move, but I missed my family and friends. I also missed Colombian food. In my country we have a lot of special dishes like mondongo and peto, and we take our time preparing food. People say we cook with love!

While in the US, I met other international students, and twice a month we got together and cooked for one another. It was wonderful, and I tasted food from many countries: Libya, Poland, Tunisia, Peru and Japan. I also made many good friends. My time in the US taught me the importance of food as a part of culture and a way to bring people together.

B Compare the two examples below. What do you notice about the length of the sentences?

I was in my late twenties. I went to the United States. I went to continue my studies.

I was in my late twenties when I went to the United States to continue my studies.

speakout TIP

Short sentences may sound unconnected. Long sentences can be difficult to understand. Try to use and only once in a sentence. In the next sentence, use also. Look at your last piece of writing. Can you use this tip to improve sentence structure?

C Find two examples of the and/also pattern in the blog.

D Choose one of the topics in the box below and write a paragraph. Use different sentence lengths.

BBC INTERVIEWS

 How has your life changed in the last ten years?

VOCABULARY

VERBS + PREPOSITIONS

1 A Work in pairs. Discuss. Would you like to change anything in your life? What would you change? Why?

B Read the text. Why do you think many people do not manage to live their dreams?

Living the Dream

Are you bored with your life or your job? Do you do the same thing every day? Perhaps it's time to look for something new.

Every year, thousands of people dream about changing their lives. Many want to give up their jobs and start a new career, or move house or learn a new skill. Lots of people say they'd like to do something different, like travel around the world, or move to a new country. But only a few people actually follow their dreams. Around holiday times a quarter of the people in the UK think about changing jobs, but when the holiday finishes, they just go back to work as normal. Others wait for an opportunity their whole lives, but it never comes.

The BBC talked to Jessica Fox, who wanted to get away from her life in the California sunshine to move to Scotland and run a second-hand bookshop. She tells about how she made her dream come true.

2 A Complete the sentences with the phrases in bold from the text in Exercise 1B.

- 1 I sometimes think about doing a different job.
- 2 I really enjoy travelling, but I wouldn't _____ another country to live.
- 3 I want to give up my job, and _____ to studying.
- 4 I need to speak English for my job. I _____ becoming a famous journalist.
- 5 I should _____ a pay rise before I buy a new car.
- 6 I would love to _____ different countries.
- 7 Things have been so busy, I just need to _____ for a few days and relax.
- 8 Can you help me _____ my bag? I can't find it anywhere.

B Tick the sentences that are true for you. Work in pairs and compare your ideas.

speakout TIP

PARAGRAPHS

8 A Read about Ryan's life-changing decision. Put the sentences in the correct order to complete the paragraphs.

Paragraph 1

One of the best decisions I ever made was to go back to school. 1

I've always thought that being a teacher would be interesting. ____

So I went back to college and did a teacher training course. ____

Before that, I was working for a company, but I didn't enjoy my job. ____

Paragraph 2

Doing the course wasn't easy. 1

Now, I have a teaching qualification, and I'm doing the job I've always wanted to do. ____

So I used to study in the evenings. ____

For example, I had to work to earn money, and find time to do coursework. ____

B In each paragraph find sentences which:

- 1 contain the main idea
- 2 support the idea
- 3 finish or conclude the paragraph

C Write about a decision which changed your life. Write your story in paragraphs. Use sentences to introduce and support the idea and conclude the paragraph.

One of the best decisions I ever made was _____. I wanted to _____. So I _____. _____ wasn't easy because _____. But _____. Now, I _____.

1 Ferdinand Waldo Demara was probably the greatest impostor in history. He was born in the USA in 1921. As a young man he pretended to be a doctor, an engineer, a lawyer, a university professor, a soldier and a sailor. Demara's greatest adventure was during the Korean War.

What did he do?

- a) He pretended to be a doctor on a ship.
- b) He worked for the Korean government.
- c) He pretended to be a politician.

Read 6 to find out

2 Demara pretended to be a teacher and the police caught him. He spent six months in prison. After this, he played one more role. He appeared in a 1960 film (called The Hypnotic Eye) to make some money, acting as a doctor. But real fame arrived in 1961 when Hollywood made a film of Demara's life.

3 The bullet was very close to the soldier's heart. Demara studied from a book so that he could save the man's life. He removed the bullet and the soldier lived. In fact, while Demara worked as a doctor, none of his patients died. But in the end he became too successful.

What happened?

- a) He appeared on TV and his friends recognised him.
- b) His photo and false name appeared in a newspaper.
- c) He became a film star.

Read 5 to find out

Demara didn't go to prison because people thought he was a hero. Instead the police released him and gave him extra money to say 'thank you' for his great work! But later the police arrested him for a different crime.

What did he do?

- a) He robbed a bank.
- b) He pretended to be a policeman.
- c) He pretended to be a teacher.

Read 2 to find out

5 Demara became famous because of his great work as the ship's doctor and his photo appeared in some newspapers in Canada. The mother of the real Dr Cyr saw the photo. She knew this was not her son, so she told the police and they arrested him.

What happened next?

- a) He went to prison.
- b) He didn't go to prison.
- c) He escaped to Europe.

Read 4 to find out

6 In 1951 Demara pretended to be Dr Joseph Cyr (a real doctor) so that he could work on a ship. The soldiers loved him! He cured their illnesses, he pulled out bad teeth and he performed difficult operations. He had his greatest moment after a soldier was shot.

What did he do?

- a) He jumped into the sea and helped the soldier.
- b) He pretended to be the dead soldier.
- c) He performed an operation that saved the soldier's life.

- 2 Read the programme information. Where do the family move to? Why?

My Family And Other Animals

BBC

My Family And Other Animals is a BBC film based on Gerald Durrell's book. It tells the story of the Durrells, a rather unusual family: Gerry – a twelve-year-old who loves animals, his sister Margo, his brother Leslie, his eldest brother, the writer Lawrence, and their mother. One wet grey day in the 1930s the family decide to escape the English weather. They sell their house and move to the sunny island of Corfu in Greece. Here they experience a new life of freedom and adventure. But the beginning isn't easy, so they are delighted when they make a new friend, Spiro.

So far ... so good

I moved to Turkey in July to go to Bilkent University and I am really enjoying the experience so far. It's been a fantastic year. I've really enjoyed living somewhere so new and exciting, but I miss my family and friends at home. I've met lots of people and I love living in this big city. There is always so much to see and do, and Turkish people are so friendly. It's very different to living at home. When I first arrived, I used to get lost around the city. Now, I enjoy exploring and finding out about new places.

B Write a blog/diary about your new experience. Use the questions in Exercise 7A and the structure below to help you.

One thing that has really changed in my life is _____. I decided to _____ so that/to _____. Before that, I used to _____. At first, _____, because _____, but _____. In the end, _____.

- 3 new clues ... and ... tourism in the area?
- 4 13,000 ... and ... 18?
- 5 the Air Force ... and ... an art gallery?

C What do you think of Fenn's treasure hunt? Do you like the idea? Why/Why not?

Hidden Treasure

In 1988, US millionaire Forrest Fenn was diagnosed with cancer. Thinking that his life was nearly over, he wanted to leave something to the world. Then he had a rather interesting idea. He decided to fill a wooden chest with treasure and hide it.

He included old gold coins, ancient animal figures, and antique jewellery, all covered in gold dust, and left the chest somewhere in the desert, probably in New Mexico, where he lives. Then he published his autobiography and included in it a poem which contained clues about where the treasure was hidden. Against all expectations, Fenn recovered from cancer, so he has lived to see the success of his plan.

He says his idea was to provide people with an adventure: hunting outside, with the chance of getting rich. He loves stories and adventures and he clearly enjoys the attention his plan has brought him. Every few months he releases a new clue, just to keep treasure hunters interested. It seems it is working: he has received more than 13,000 emails from people that want more clues, as well as 18 marriage proposals! There are blogs that describe Fenn's treasure hunt, and tourism in the area has increased, thanks to people who want to find the chest.

Fenn was originally from a poor family in Texas. As a child, he spent his summers in Yellowstone National Park, which is where he first discovered his love of the outdoors. After a career in the Air Force, he eventually opened an art gallery in Santa Fe, making his money by buying and selling paintings. He also became known for organising amazing parties which were attended by all kinds of famous people. Now he lives with his wife, happily looking on as treasure hunters arrive in his home town.

- stop trying (to do something difficult or important)
 - return something (to someone) or give something to someone because they have done something for you
 - use or fill an amount of time or space
 - become responsible for something (e.g. a job), replacing the person who did it before you
 - refuse an offer
 - become

B Do you agree with sentences 1–6? Compare your ideas with a partner.

C  8.3 MULTI-WORD VERB STRESS Which words are stressed in multi-word verbs? Listen to check.

6 Answer questions 1–5 and compare your ideas with other students.

- Would you like to take over your father or your mother's job?
- Have you ever done a job/task that turned into a nightmare? What happened?
- What boring tasks take up your time?
- Have you ever turned down a good offer?
- Why do you think so many people give up trying to learn a foreign language?

speakout TIP

A multi-word verb is a verb + preposition/adverb, e.g. wake up. Multi-word verbs often have a different meaning from the individual words in them. Always write down multi-word verbs in example sentences: I wake up at 7 a.m. Write some multi-word verbs that you know. Ask your partner to think of example sentences.

SPEAKING

7 A Think about your answers to questions 1 and 2.

- What do the people in photos A–F below do? Who should earn the most money? Why?
- Think of three reasons why you or people in your (future) profession should get more money.

B Compare your ideas with other students.

WRITING

ADDING EMPHASIS

8 A Read the extract from an opinion piece. What is the main idea?

- The economy is bad.
- Many nurses are changing profession.
- Nurses should get a higher salary.

B Look at the words in bold and answer the questions with a partner.

- What type of word comes after them?
- Which of the words in bold is the strongest?
- Which is the weakest?

These are extremely difficult times for many professions – the economy is very weak – but we need to pay our nurses better. Many nurses cannot retire at 60 as they used to because they aren't sure they will have enough money to support themselves. This means newly qualified nurses are finding it harder to get jobs. While people used to think the profession was fairly secure (the sick and the old will always need care), these days it has become really clear that the job is changing. Working conditions are getting harder, but the pay is not increasing.

C Choose a job in Exercise 7 or your own job/future job. Write the first paragraph of an opinion piece saying why the job deserves a higher salary. Include the words in bold above.

Anthropology student Marisa Evangelou talks about how she came face to face with an anaconda in the jungle in Peru.

I was travelling in the Amazon in Peru and my plan was to spend some time with one of the tribes there. They live in simple huts deep in the jungle, and I travelled with a guide on a small boat for hours to get there. As we travelled, the sounds of the jungle grew louder and louder. I could hear monkeys howling and laughing, and the songs of tropical birds. It was hot and humid, and I was covered in mosquitoes.

The days I spent with the tribe were some of the most wonderful days of my life. We spoke very little, but I helped the women prepare meals, played with the children, and learnt about the plants they use for medicine. On my last day, one of the men called to me to follow. He spoke a little Spanish and told me the medicine man wanted to thank me for my stay and welcome me into their tribe. They planned a ceremony for me but I would need to choose between life and death. Was I happy to do that?

I agreed and followed my new friend into a clearing in the trees. He asked me to shut my eyes. I could hear feet approaching me. 'Are you ready?' he asked. I knew that my answer would probably change my life. 'Yes,' I whispered, with my eyes still closed. Soon I felt a heavy weight on my shoulders. I slowly opened my eyes to find a huge anaconda snake staring me in the face. I froze with fear, and the snake moved her head closer to my neck.

I knew that with one move she could kill me, and to make things worse my 'friend' smiled and told me the snake was very hungry. 'Breathe,' he said, 'make her your friend.' I didn't have a lot of choice, so I took a deep breath and tried not to scream. I could feel my feet sink into the ground. I breathed again, and slowly a strange thing started to happen. The snake lowered her head and rested it on my arm. I had passed the test.

When I was ten, my father took me camping for the first time in ¹ _____ Michigan, USA. He wanted to teach me about wild animals, insects and trees.

We enjoyed the first two days together walking and fishing. Then ² _____ my uncles came with ³ _____ bows and arrows to go hunting.

One evening we were sitting by the fire when ⁴ _____ bird flew over us. Immediately my uncles jumped up and fired their arrows at ⁵ _____ bird. All of them missed. But suddenly the arrows were flying down at us from ⁶ _____ sky. There were arrows everywhere – they looked like rain! We ran to escape them and fortunately no one was injured.

That day I didn't learn anything about ⁷ _____ animals or insects or trees, but I learnt ⁸ _____ great lesson about gravity!

SPEAKING

9 A Work in pairs. Read two comments about country life and city life. Which is closer to your opinion?

I can't stand the countryside or wild places. There are too many flies and animals that either want to eat you or your food. Even worse: there are no cinemas, no supermarkets, and you can't get a good coffee!

I get out of the city whenever I can. I love the peace and quiet of the countryside, and the people are much nicer there. I love the wild: animals, trees, mountains, forests – these are the best things in life.

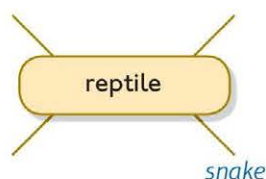

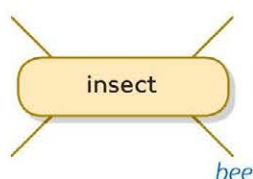

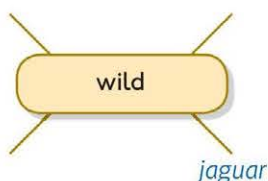

B Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of living in a rural area and a city in your country.

C Work in pairs. Explain where you prefer to live and why.

Day 4

Today was our final day trekking along the Great Wall of China and it was probably one of the hardest days we've had. Today we walked for more than 12 km over 8 hours in very hot and humid temperatures. We climbed thousands of steps and some parts of the Wall had no sides, just a very long drop on either side. It was terrifying. However, the views were spectacular and when we finally reached the watch tower, where we stopped for lunch and took some photos, we all felt incredibly proud of what we had achieved. Sitting on top of the Wall, looking down on the fields and listening to the silence is a feeling I don't think I'll ever forget.

B Choose a place you have visited. Write about your experience. Use these questions to help you.

 How do you feel about city life?

SPEAKING

- 1 A Work in pairs. Discuss. What do young people want in a city? Which do you think are the world's best cities for young people to live in? Why?
- B Read the text. Which cities do you think will be on the list? Look at page 165 to find out.

Best cities for young people

The world's biggest and most important cities are not necessarily the best cities to live in, especially for young people. Many of them are really expensive, have traffic problems, poor public transport systems and high crime rates. Young people looking for somewhere to study or to live are carefree and want to explore new lifestyles. Have a look at our list of the top ten cities for young people to live in.

VOCABULARY

DESCRIBING A CITY

- 2 A Read sentences 1–12 below. Are they positive (+) or negative (-)?
- 1 It has clean, safe streets.
 - 2 The public transport system is terrible.
 - 3 There's a lot of traffic.
 - 4 It has beautiful buildings.
 - 5 The people are friendly and polite.
 - 6 There's a lot of crime.
 - 7 It's very polluted.
 - 8 There are nice parks and green spaces.
 - 9 It has good shopping/nightlife.
 - 10 There are lots of things to see and do.
 - 11 It's expensive to live there.
 - 12 It's very crowded.

B ▶ 10.1 SENTENCE STRESS Listen to the sentences. Underline the words or syllables which are stressed.

1 It has clean, safe streets.

2 The public transport system is terrible.

C Listen and repeat the sentences paying attention to the stressed words or syllables.

D Discuss. Which three factors are the most/least important for you?

Dubai

Prague

LISTENING

- 3 A ▶ 10.2 Listen to the conversations and look at the photos. Which city does each speaker talk about? What do they think about it?

B Listen again. Which city has these things?

- 1 free trams Melbourne
- 2 beautiful buildings and squares
- 3 lots of bars and clubs
- 4 cafés and street art
- 5 cheap taxis
- 6 a castle

B Work in groups and take turns. Describe the cities and say why you like/don't like them. Which of the cities should be in the top ten places to live? Why?

WRITING

USING FORMAL EXPRESSIONS

8 A Read the email. Why is Kristina writing? What information does she want to know?

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to ask for some more information about your Bed and Breakfast. I am planning to stay in Malta for one month to study English and I am interested in booking a room. However, before I do that, I would like to check some information. Firstly, is it possible to travel easily into the centre of town by public transport? How much does it cost? Secondly, my course finishes in the evening, so I would need to walk home alone. Are the streets around the area where you are located safe at night? Finally, as I plan to stay for the whole month, I would like to know if it is possible to have a discount on the price. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,

Kristina Paoli

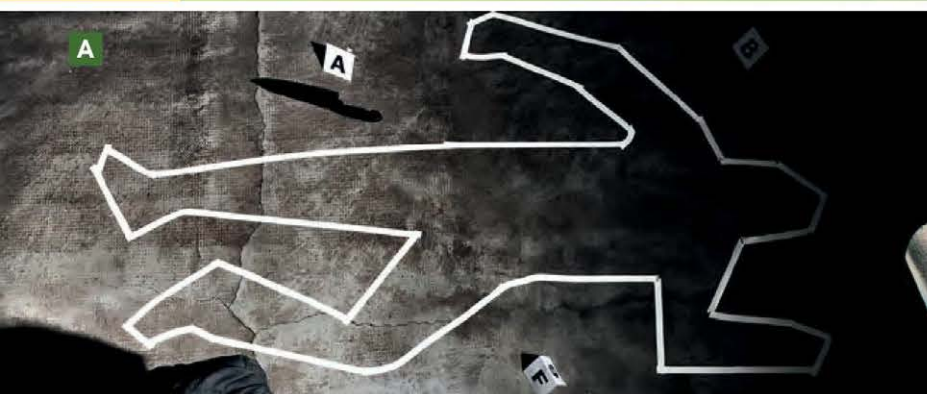

B Is the language in the email formal or informal? How can you tell?

C Find formal expressions in the email which have similar meanings to the informal expressions in the table below.

informal	formal
Hi ...	Dear
This is just a quick note to say ...
I want to ... I want to know if ... Can I ...
Speak to you soon.
Best wishes

D Imagine you are going to spend a month in another city studying English. Where would you go? You need some information. Write a formal email to the school. Include these things:

- the reason for your letter
- a question about the language course
- a question about the accommodation
- a request for information about the city

SPEAKING

1 A Match photos A–D with the crimes in the box.

graffiti murder drink driving speeding

B Discuss. Are any of these crimes a problem in your town/city?

READING

2 A Read the introduction to an article and answer the questions.

- 1 What did the man do wrong?
- 2 What was his punishment?
- 3 What is 'alternative sentencing'?

B Work in pairs. Discuss. What alternative punishments can you think of for the crimes in Exercise 1?

For graffiti, you should spend a month painting the walls of hospitals and libraries, etc., with no pay. For speeding, you should ...

C Read the rest of the article. Does it mention any of your ideas?

D Work in pairs. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of the alternative sentencing programme.

Make the punishment

FIT THE CRIME

A man is caught stealing books from a bookshop. The judge asks why he did it, and the thief says he loves books. What is the man's punishment? A prison sentence? A big fine? No. The man is sent to read stories and books to hospital patients. He enjoys the job and continues to do it for many years!

Welcome to alternative sentencing programmes. Instead of traditional punishments, criminals get the punishments that fit their crimes.

What other examples of alternative sentencing are there? Two boys were caught writing graffiti on a wall. The normal punishment for this is a fine, but in this case the boys were told to do community service. They cleaned seventy walls in three weeks.

A shoplifter was caught shoplifting three times in one year in a small town in the United States. What was her punishment? She was sent to speak to shop owners. She gave advice on how to stop shoplifters. In one month she spoke to the owners of forty shops, and told them all about the techniques that shoplifters use. It was a great service to the community because after that, shoplifting almost disappeared from the town.

What about more serious crimes? Is alternative sentencing possible for crimes like theft or credit card fraud? It depends on many things. Who are the criminals? Are they young? Is this their first crime? Can they change their way of life? One recent story suggests it is possible.

A thief stole seventeen cans of paint. Instead of going to prison, he was told to spend several weeks painting local schools, a library, and other public buildings. He enjoyed the work, and now it's his job.

VOCABULARY

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

3 A Match the words in bold from the text in Exercise 2 with definitions 1–9 below.

- 1 a person who steals things thief
- 2 time that is spent in prison
- 3 writing or drawing on public walls, doors, etc.
- 4 doing unpaid work to help your town/city
- 5 stealing things
- 6 a person who steals things from shops
- 7 cheating someone to make money from them
- 8 stealing things from a shop
- 9 an amount of money that you have to pay

B Put the words in the correct place in the table.

criminal	crime	punishment
thief

speakout TIP

speaking TIP

When we want to criticise or complain, we usually use a phrase to introduce the complaint. This helps the listener to prepare for what we are going to say. Is this the same in your language? How do you say the phrases in Exercise 5A in your language?

- B 10.6 SENTENCE STRESS Listen to the pronunciation of the sentences. Underline the stressed words. Then listen and repeat.

Could you help me?

DVD PREVIEW

1 Work in pairs. Discuss. Do children in your country get free school meals? What do you think of the food that they eat? How could it be improved?

2 A Read the programme information and answer the questions.

- 1 Why did Martha start her blog? What was the problem?
- 2 Why did she decide to raise money?

 Mary's Meals

BBC

Martha Payne, from Argyll in Scotland, became an internet sensation when she started posting photos of her school meals on her blog NeverSeconds. Sometimes she wasn't happy with the meals that she was given and would give them a score out of ten. The local council banned her from taking photographs and posting them on the website, but Martha received support from around the world and soon was allowed to continue her blog. However, when she heard about how children in some parts of the world went to school hungry, she decided to use the blog to raise money for hungry children. She managed to raise over £100,000 to help feed school children in Malawi through a project called Mary's Meals. In this programme she visits the charity to see what they have done with the money.

B Match the words/phrases in bold in Exercise 2A with meanings 1–5.

- 1 collect money
- 2 an organisation that gives money or help to people who need it
- 3 not allowed to do something
- 4 someone who becomes famous quickly on the internet

COMMENT

One thing that makes me really angry is when people throw rubbish on the streets and on the beaches. The problem is that nobody comes to clear it away. I go out every morning and collect litter that has been left on the beach. Nobody pays me for this. I do it because I love the beaches here. Every year there is more and more litter, and the beaches get dirtier and dirtier. I just don't understand it. I think people who drop litter should pay a fine, and the police should make them come with me in the mornings, and clear all the litter away.

FEELINGS

1 A Work in pairs. Discuss. Do you use social media? Which ones are popular in your country? Do you use them? Why/Why not?

B Do you agree with the opinions below?

I tend to use social media sites when I'm bored and there's nothing better to do.

Social media makes me feel nervous. I'm uncomfortable sharing information with people I don't know.

I'm always amazed by how much useful information you can find on social media. For me, it's like a learning tool.

I'm confused as to why social media is so popular. I'm worried that it actually makes people feel lonely. Instead of having a few really good friends who they can talk to, young people now have hundreds of 'friends' who they know nothing about.

I'm really excited about social media because I think it can help people to change the world.

C Work in pairs. Look at the words in bold in the opinions above. Match them with definitions 1–8 below.

- 1 How you feel when you have nothing to do.
bored
- 2 How you feel when you don't understand how something works.
- 3 How you feel when you are alone, and have no friends.
- 4 How you feel when something special is going to happen, and you are happy.
- 5 How you feel when you're unable to relax because you are embarrassed or worried.
- 6 How you feel when you are very positively surprised.
- 7 How you feel when you keep thinking about a problem or something bad that might happen, e.g. you might lose your job.
- 8 How you feel when you worry about something and cannot relax, e.g. before an exam.

D Work in pairs and take turns. Student A: think about the last time you were amazed/confused/excited/worried, etc. Tell your partner why you felt like that. Student B: ask for more information.

A: The last time I was really excited was before my birthday party.

B: Really? What did you do?

A: I had a barbecue in the garden.

Social Media as a Force for Change

For some people, social media might be a good way to keep in touch with friends, chat about the latest music download, or play games with each other. But social media is also being used by young people to change the world. 43 percent of people are 25 years old or younger, and many of these young people use mobile technology. If this generation isn't happy about something, they won't wait for politicians to change it; they'll use social media to change things themselves. These are some examples of how young people from around the world use technology and social media to really make a difference.

READING

2 A Read the introduction to an article and answer the questions.

- 1 What kind of situations do you think people can change by using social networks?
- 2 How do you think they might do this?

B Read the rest of the article. Does it mention your ideas?

C Work in pairs. Answer the questions.

- 1 How can social media help young people to organise political change?
- 2 What did McKenna Pope want to do? Was she successful?
- 3 How did the Karen Klein foundation start?

D Work in pairs. Discuss. Which examples in the article do you think are good uses of social media? Would you use social media for these kinds of things? Why/Why not?

Social Change

Social media has been very important for political protests and social change around the world. Large groups of people can now quickly organise themselves to protest against governments and use media to show the rest of the world what's happening. Groups like OccupyWallStreet build online communities which try to fight against what they see as an unfair global economy.

Online Petitions

13-year-old McKenna Pope saw that her younger brother enjoyed cooking and wanted to buy him a toy oven as a present. She went online, but found that she could only buy toy ovens designed for girls. She decided to start an online petition to Hasbro toys asking them to make toy ovens with pictures of boys on the package. In less than a month her petition received 45,000 signatures and Hasbro decided to change the packaging for their ovens.

Raising Money

When teenage bullies in New York filmed themselves making their school bus driver cry, they uploaded the video to YouTube and it went viral. Max Sidorov, a 25-year-old Canadian man, saw the video and was shocked. He started a campaign using social media to raise money to give the bus driver, 68-year-old Karen Klein, a holiday. He wanted to raise $5,000. However, within three weeks the campaign raised more than $600,000. When Karen received the money she used $100,000 to set up the Karen Klein foundation to try and stop bullying across America.

So, whatever your problem is, if you use social media, you'll find people who will help you change the world.

GRAMMAR

REAL CONDITIONALS + IF/WHEN

3 A Look at sentences a)–d) and answer questions 1 and 2.

- a) If you use social media, you'll find people who will help you.
- b) If we raise enough money, the bus driver won't need to work any more.
- c) When people see what's happening, they will be shocked.
- d) The protests will continue if they don't change the government.

- 1 Are the sentences talking about the present or the future?
- 2 The sentences are divided into two clauses. What tense is used after the if/when clause? What tense is used in the main clause?

B Underline the correct alternatives to complete the rules.

RULES

- 1 Use real conditionals (if/when + present simple + will) to talk about the present/future consequence of a specific situation.
- 2 Use if for a situation which is likely/certain.
- 3 Use when for a situation which is likely/certain.
- 4 The if/when clause can be at the beginning or the end of the sentence/must be at the beginning of the sentence.

4 A Put the verbs in brackets in the correct tense to complete the sentences.

- 1 If you _____ (give) me your details, I _____ (send) you the photo.
- 2 If people _____ (sign) the petition, the company _____ (have to) respond.
- 3 When your friends _____ (see) the video, they _____ (not be) surprised.
- 4 If the situation _____ (get) worse, _____ you _____ (leave) your job?
- 5 If there _____ (not be) elections soon, people _____ (start) protesting.
- 6 When you _____ (see) this picture, I _____ (be) in the Canaries!
- 7 If the product _____ (be) really good, then people _____ (not write) bad reviews.
- 8 If they _____ (change) the design, _____ you _____ (buy) one?

B ▶ 11.3 WEAK FORMS: will Listen to check. How is will pronounced?

C ▶ 11.4 Listen and repeat the sentences.

5 A Make sentences 1–8 true for you.

- 1 If someone sends me an online petition, ...
- 2 If I'm angry about the government or a big company, ...
- 3 When I next go on holiday, ...
- 4 When I get home this evening, ...
- 5 If I'm hungry later, ...
- 6 If someone invites me to a party, ...
- 7 If I go out this weekend, ...
- 8 If I lose my mobile phone, ...

B Work in pairs and compare your answers.

SPEAKING

6 A Work in groups. Think of a situation in your town/city/country which you are not very happy about (lifestyle/politics/business/environment) and discuss the questions. Then make your plan and prepare to present it to other students.

- 1 How could you use social media to try and change the situation? What would you do?
- 2 Could you organise an online petition, or a protest, or try to raise some money?

B Listen to the other groups' ideas for social media campaigns, and tell the group about the possible consequences of their actions.

social networking site music download site

- 1 Do you use/visit any of these?
- 2 Which ones do you visit most frequently?
- 3 Do you think they are useful/not very useful? Why?

READING

- 2 A Look at the picture. Do you think that people waste a lot of time on the internet when they should be working? Read the text to find out.

stop wasting time!

Many of us find it difficult to concentrate on a Friday, so it's no surprise that nearly half of us waste our time at work on a Friday afternoon by looking up funny news articles on the internet, watching silly cat videos, or planning our next holiday. But unfortunately the problem isn't just a Friday problem. People are wasting more and more time being distracted by the internet and social media when they should be working or studying. A report has shown how computer users waste up to eight days a month on the internet. Most of the people who were questioned said they were distracted 'all or most of the time' when they work or study online. The study showed that the internet can be bad for relationships too, as people argue with their partners who spend too much time in front of their computer or mobile device. Luckily, there is a simple answer to the problem: get off the internet and get on with life.

- B Answer the questions.

- 1 What is the problem with Friday afternoons?
- 2 What kind of distractions does the article talk about?
- 3 How much time do people waste not working?
- 4 Why is the internet bad for relationships?

- 3 Work in pairs. Discuss. Do you think being on the internet is a good way to spend your free time or do you think people spend too much time on the internet?

FUNCTION

GIVING OPINIONS

- 3 The men both think that the internet is a waste of time.
- 4 The woman says some people prefer the internet to sport.

- 5 A Look at statements 1–6. Tick the ideas that are mentioned in the recording.

Surfing on the internet is:

- 1 addictive. Some people can't stop using it.
- 2 bad for relationships.
- 3 dangerous. You can meet dangerous people on the internet.
- 4 good when you want a break from work.
- 5 causing people to fail their university degrees because they spend too much time on social networking sites when they should be studying.
- 6 a waste of time.

Is technology a good or a bad thing?

How have computers, the internet, email and mobile phones changed your life? Have they changed the way we do business? Are there good and bad things about technology? What do you think?

Shantanu, USA/India

reply – Most people say technology has made our lives very fast and very convenient. But I don't think so. The fact is that it has also made us very lonely. We interact with machines for 8–10 hours a day and spend less than 2–3 hours interacting with other humans.

Jake, UK

reply – It seems to me that technology is a good thing. It allows me to find out what is really happening in the world, not just what the media want me to believe. The problem is that some governments want to control what is available on the internet too.

- B Write your own comment using the structure below.

It seems to me that technology _____.
 Most people say _____. But I'm not sure about that/I don't think so. In my opinion, _____.
 For example, _____.
 The fact is that/The problem is that _____.
 Finally, _____. Technology _____ my life.

FILM

- 1 A Look at the film posters and match them to the types of film in the box. Which ones fit more than one category?

Mandela: Long Walk to Freedom is a biopic and a drama an action film a comedy a science fiction film a (historical) drama a horror film a thriller a documentary a biopic a blockbuster a cartoon

- B Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- Can you think of examples of the other types of film in the box?
- Have you seen any of the films in the posters? What did you think of them?
- What's your favourite type of film?

READING

- 2 A Discuss in pairs.

- Can you name any films that have been very popular recently? Why do you think they were so popular?
- Do you think blockbusters have a 'formula' (fixed rules for writing them)?

- B Read the text to find an answer to question 2.

How to Write a HOLLYWOOD BLOCKBUSTER

Look at any list of Hollywood's biggest movies. What do you see? Firstly, most use myths. The heroes' lives are world-shaking stories, part Bible, part fantasy. Myths are useful because they travel across cultures; and the biggest movies are seen everywhere from Belgium to Bali to Brazil.

Related to myths is setting. Blockbusters are often set in amazing, alternative worlds. Avatar takes place in a natural paradise, but the film involves blue people who can fly. Harry Potter goes to a British private school, but it's full of monsters and wizards.

Not all blockbusters need monsters, but the heroes and their opponents must be strong. The opponent might be an evil wizard (Voldemort in the Harry Potter films), a cat-stroking genius (James Bond films), or something inhuman and almost unstoppable (dinosaurs in Jurassic Park). If it's human, the bad guy needs good lines. Some phrases in films are more memorable than the film itself!

What about structure? Blockbusters come in three parts. The first act introduces the main character and the problem he/she faces. The second act sees the character trying to solve the problem, but failing. In the third act, the character finally defeats the opponent.

The third act is also where the biggest set piece happens. Set pieces are action scenes – a huge battle (The Lord of the Rings) or a car chase (Jason Bourne films) – and they are big, expensive and memorable.

Include all of the above, find a studio and a director, and see your movie light up the world!

THE BIGGEST-SELLING MOVIES

1 Avatar (2009) - $2.8 billion

Famous line: 'Out there is the true world and in here is the dream.'

2 Titanic (1997) - $2.2 BILLION

Famous line: 'I am the king of the world!'

3 The Avengers (2012) - $1.5 billion

Famous line: Steve Rogers: 'Doctor Banner, now might be a good time for you to get angry.' Bruce Banner: 'That's my secret, Captain: I'm always angry.'

4 Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows – Part 2 (2011) - $1.4 BILLION

Famous line: Harry: 'We have to go there now!' Hermione: 'We can't do that! We've got to plan!' Harry: 'Hermione! When have any of our plans ever actually worked?'

3 Find words in the text that match the definitions below.

- 1 a very old story about gods, magical creatures, etc. (paragraph 1)
- 2 the place or time in which the events of a film or book happen (paragraph 2)
- 3 someone who is competing against you (paragraph 3)
- 4 the way in which the parts of something are organised (paragraph 4)
- 5 a short part of a film, where the events happen in one place (paragraph 5)
- 6 a film company or the place where films are made (paragraph 6)

4 Discuss with other students.

- 1 Do you think it's easy to write a blockbuster if you follow the 'rules' in the text? What might be difficult?
- 2 Have you seen any of the top four biggest-selling movies? If so, do you think they follow the 'rules'? Did you enjoy these films? Why/Why not?

Internet Fame

The internet has changed the meaning of 'celebrity'. In the past, you had to be a successful actor, musician or footballer to be famous. Now all you need is the internet. In 1968, artist Andy Warhol said, 'In the future, everyone will be famous for fifteen minutes.' With the invention of the internet and YouTube, maybe that time is now. Now, a kid with a webcam can become an instant film star, and even a cat with a grumpy face can make their owner famous. When Tabatha Bundesen's brother posted a photo of their cat on the internet, Grumpy Cat became an overnight internet sensation, and later a company worth more than $1 million. Tavi Gevinson was twelve years old when she started her own fashion blog, but she quickly found herself on the front page of newspapers and magazines and interviewed on television. These are the new superstars, celebrities of the future.

- 2 A Read the definition. Discuss. What other things do you think a personal concierge does to help rich and famous clients?

P personal concierge noun someone who organises things for (usually rich) clients, e.g. booking tables in restaurants, buying tickets for concerts, etc.

B Read the text to find out.

Concierge

He can book you a table at the world's top restaurants, get you the best seats for The Lion King, find you a private plane for the next day or organise a red carpet for you at the Oscars. He's a personal concierge and he can get you anything you want ... if you have enough money!

The concierges we spoke to have done some amazing things for their clients: one got twenty tickets for a Rolling Stones concert an hour before it started; he also flew some of Madonna's favourite tea to London and found some rare birds for Jennifer Lopez. Another concierge asked former US President, Bill Clinton, to have dinner with his client. Clinton said 'yes'!

REFLECTIONS | CHILDHOOD AMBITIONS

How have your childhood ambitions changed? We asked people the following questions: What were your childhood ambitions? What do you do now? And what do you hope to become in the future?

Damien (31), Slovenia:

As a child, I always wanted to be a teacher. Both of my parents were teachers and they inspired me with a love of learning. Now, I have achieved that dream. I teach geography, history, art and sociology to 12–15-year-old students at a secondary school here in Ljubljana. I love working with children. It's much better than an office job. But now I'm planning a career change. I want to open my own school. First, I'm going back to college to do some management courses. I hope to learn about the business side of owning a school. Next, I'll look for a building. I already have two teachers who want to work for me: my parents!

8 Write a comment for the website about your childhood ambitions using the model. Answer the questions below.

- 1 What were your childhood ambitions?
- 2 What do you do now?
- 3 What do you hope to become in the future?

GRAMMAR

1.1 question forms

Yes/No questions are questions that only require a Yes or No answer.

For questions in the present and past simple, put the auxiliary do/does/did before the subject.

A: Does he live here? B: Yes, he does.

For questions with be, put be before the subject.

A: Is he married? B: No, he isn't.

Wh- questions are questions which ask for more than a Yes/No answer. Use the same word order as Yes/No questions.

question word	auxiliary do/does/did	subject	infinitive
Where	does	he	live?
When	do	you	see your parents?
Why	did	they	phone me?

question word	be	subject	adj/noun/verb + -ing , etc.
Why	are	you	sad?
What	is	he	doing?

Use who for people. Who is your boss?

Use where for places. Where is the bathroom?

Use what or which for things.

What music do you like?

Which do you prefer, football or rugby?

Use when for time. When do you want to meet?

Use how often for frequency.

How often do you go to English lessons?

Use how long for length of time/distance.

How long does the lesson last?

Use how much/many for quantity.

How much does this cost?

How many brothers do you have?

Use why for reasons. Why are you studying English?

Use what time for a time. What time do you start work?

Note:

Which has a limited number of possible answers.

Which do you want, the red or the blue jumper?

What has a large number of possible answers.

What music do you like?

1.2 past simple

past simple regular verbs
+	I/you/ he/she/it/ we/they	worked	in a restaurant.
-		didn't work
? Did		work	in a restaurant?

past simple irregular verbs
+	I/you/ he/she/it/ we/they	went	out.
-		didn't go
? Did		go	out?

Use the past simple to talk about finished actions in the past. In negatives and questions, use the auxiliary did + infinitive. Do not use did in negatives and questions with the verb be.

I wasn't very happy. NOT I didn't be happy.

spellings: regular past simple verbs
verbs ending in:	rule	example
	+ -ed	start – started
-e	+ -d	live – lived
-y	-y + -i + -ed	marry – married
consonant-vowel-consonant	double the consonant + -ed	stop – stopped

Form the past simple with regular verbs by adding -ed. Many common verbs have an irregular past simple form. Look at the list on page 127.

Use the past simple to talk about finished actions in the past.

1.3 making conversation

making conversation	response

GRAMMAR

2.1 present simple and continuous

	present simple	present continuous
+	I work at home. He watches TV.	I'm working at home. He's watching TV.
-	She doesn't study now. We don't text in class.	She isn't studying now. We're not texting in class.
?	Does he live with you? Where do the workers have lunch?	Is he living with you? Where are the workers having lunch?

Use the present simple to describe something that is always or generally true.

It is common to use these words with the present simple: sometimes, usually, every day, often.

I usually get up at 7a.m.

Use the present continuous to talk about:

- an activity happening right now, at the time of speaking.
- a temporary activity happening around now (maybe at the moment, but maybe not).

spelling with -ing forms

verbs ending in:	rule	example
-e	-e + -ing	take – taking vowel + consonant	double the consonant + -ing	run – running
-ie	-ie + -y	die – dying
-y	+ -ing	study – studying

Form the present continuous with the verb be + the -ing form of the verb.

It is common to use these words with the present continuous: now, at the moment, currently, this month.

I'm living with my parents at the moment.

Some verbs are not usually used with continuous tenses: be, know, like, love, understand, want, etc. These are called 'state verbs'.

I want to go to bed now. NOT

I am wanting to go to bed now.

2.2 adverbs of frequency

Use adverbs of frequency to say how frequently you do something. Some of the most common are: never, rarely, occasionally, sometimes, often, usually, always.

There are several adverbial phrases of frequency, e.g. hardly ever, once in a while, every day/month/year.

With be, put the adverb after the verb.

I am always here.

They were usually early.

We usually put the adverb before other verbs.

I sometimes spoke to him.

We hardly ever ate there.

With auxiliary or modal verbs, we usually put the adverb after the auxiliary or modal.

She doesn't stay here. → She doesn't usually stay here.

We haven't visited them. → We have never visited them.

I can help. → I can always help.

Adverbs of frequency can also go at the beginning, middle or end of a sentence.

Occasionally I go dancing.

I occasionally go dancing.

I go dancing occasionally.

Always and never do not normally go at the beginning or end of sentences.

Once in a while and every day/month/year usually go at the beginning or end of sentences.

There are other phrases to show how frequently something happens:

every day = one time per day I have a shower every day.

once a week = one time per week

She writes to me once a week.

twice a week = two times per week

They go shopping twice a week.

2.3 expressing likes/dislikes

There are a number of verbs and other phrases to show likes and dislikes. After these verbs and phrases, we usually use the -ing form.

I like singing/meat.
I absolutely love swimming/tennis.
I'm keen on running/beach holidays.

Note: We can also use like + infinitive.

Like + infinitive means 'do as a habit' or 'choose to do'.

I like to go to bed early.

I can't stand smoking/computers.
I don't like working/rock music.
I hate watching TV/films.
I'm not very keen on working/fruit.

Note: I don't mind means 'It's OK for me. I don't like it or dislike it'.

I don't mind sleeping on the floor.

GRAMMAR

3.1 present continuous/be going to for future

present continuous

+	I	'm	spending	the day with my grandmother on Saturday.
-	We	're not	playing	football this evening.
?	What	are	you	doing	at the weekend?

It is common to use the present continuous to talk about things happening now or temporary situations. It is also possible to use the present continuous to talk about definite future plans and arrangements.

It is common to use an expression of future time with the present continuous, e.g. this weekend, tomorrow morning, later.

be going to

+	I	'm going to	take	some time off work.
-	They	're not going to	win.
?	Is	it	going to	rain?

Use be going to + infinitive to talk about future plans and predictions.

Usually, we can use both the present continuous and be going to to talk about plans.

I'm meeting my girlfriend later.

I'm going to meet my girlfriend later.

But there is a small difference:

For plans which involve other people and have a fixed time and place, the present continuous is more common.

We're having a barbecue on Saturday. (We have invited people, bought food and drink, etc.)

For plans which do not involve other people, be going to is more common.

I'm going to stay in and read a book.

When be going to is followed by the verb go, it is possible to omit go to.

I'm going to (go to) the cinema.

3.2 questions without auxiliaries

subject	verb		answer
Who	sent	the present?	David.
What	causes	this problem?	The water pipes.
Whose guitar	cost	$300?	Mine.
Which footballers	played	for that team?	Beckham and Cole.

When who, what, which or whose is the subject of the sentence, do not use an auxiliary verb (do, did, etc.). The verb is in the third person.

Who ate all the pies? Joe ate all the pies.

When who, what, which or whose is the object of the sentence, use an auxiliary verb as usual.

What do you do? I work in a bank.

Whose book did you use? I used Tom's book.

3.3 making a phone call caller

start the call	Hello, this is Andy. Hello, it's Wendy. (NOT I am Wendy.)
ask to speak to someone	Can I speak to ...?
when the person you want isn't there	Can I leave a message?
finish the call	See you soon. Goodbye.

receiver
start the call	Hello. Paul speaking.*
find out who is speaking	Who's calling (please)?
when the person the caller wants isn't there	I'm afraid she's not here at the moment. Can I take a message? I'll ask her to call you back.
finish the call	Thanks for calling.

*We say this when we answer the phone at work.

PRACTICE

3.2 A Find and correct the mistakes. There is a mistake in five of the questions.

- 1 Do you like reading?
- 2 Who does read the most in your family?
- 3 Who be your favourite writer?
- 4 Which books have become famous recently?
- 5 What did be your favourite book when you were a child?
- 6 Who did write it?
- 7 How often you read on the internet?
- 8 Where and when do you like to read?

B Make questions with the prompts. Use the past simple. One question needs an auxiliary verb.

- 1 What colour / be / The Beatles' / submarine?
- 2 Who / write / Stairway to Heaven?
- 3 Whose / home / be / Graceland?
- 4 Which country / Diego Rivera / come from?
- 5 Who / paint / the Mona Lisa?

B: 0276 765356

A: calling / thanks / OK / for

B: Bye

GRAMMAR

4.1 present perfect + ever/never present perfect: positive and negative

+	I/You/We/They	have ('ve)	finished	the project.
	He/She/It	has ('s)
-	I/You/We/They	haven't/(have never)	visited	Mexico.
	He/She/It	hasn't/(has never) present perfect: questions				short answers

Have	I/you/ we/they	(ever) played	chess?	Yes,	I/you/ we/they	have.
				No,		haven't.
Has	he/she/it			Yes,	he/she/it	has.
				No,		hasn't.

Form the present perfect with have/has + past participle.

The past participle is verb + -ed for regular verbs. For a list of irregular verbs, see page 127.

Use the present perfect to talk about past experiences without saying an exact time.

I've been to Warsaw.

When we want to say an exact time, we use the past simple.

I went to Warsaw in 2007.

Use ever with the present perfect to mean 'during your life until now'. Never is the negative of ever.

Have you ever visited Madrid?

She's never been to a nightclub.

Spoken grammar 1: When we are asked a Have you ever ...? question, we often reply: No, never instead of No, I haven't.

A: Have you ever been to the Maldives?

B: No, never.

Spoken grammar 2: When we want to repeat the same Have you ever ...? question, we usually say Have you?

A: Have you ever been to Zurich?

B: No, have you?

4.2 can, have to, must

Use modal verbs can/can't, have to/don't have to, must/mustn't to talk about present obligation.

Use can to talk about something which is possible/allowed.

You can use dictionaries during the exam.

Use can't to talk about something which is not possible/allowed.

You can't park here.

Use must/mustn't/have to to talk about rules or things that are necessary.

We have to study for our exam.

You must return the books to the library before Friday.

You mustn't chew gum in the classroom.

Use don't have to to talk about something that is not necessary (but it is possible/allowed).

We don't have to be there until eight o'clock. (But we can get there earlier if we want to.)

Use he/she has to in the positive, and he/she doesn't have to in the negative.

She has to pay for the exam.

He doesn't have to do any extra work.

4.3 giving/responding to advice

phrases for giving advice	example
I think you should ...	I think you should study more.

GRAMMAR

5.1 past simple and past continuous past simple	past continuous

+	I watched a film yesterday.	I was watching a film yesterday.
-	He didn't play here.	He wasn't playing here.
?	Did you talk to John?	Were you talking to John?

Use the past simple to talk about completed actions.

I ate a salad last night.

Use the past continuous to talk about actions in progress at a particular time.

At 8a.m. yesterday I was travelling to work.

It is common to use the past simple and the past continuous together to tell stories. The past continuous describes an action that starts first, but is interrupted by a second action. Use the past simple for the second (usually short) action.

What were you doing when the bus crashed?

I was sleeping when the thief entered the house.

It is common to use when or while to link the two actions. Use while before the continuous action.

While I was sleeping, it started to rain.

Use when before the continuous action or the short action.

When we were talking, the bus appeared.

We were talking when the bus appeared.

Do NOT use while before the short action.

I was sleeping while it started to rain.

5.2 verb patterns

Sometimes we use two verbs together.

I love playing football.

After some verbs, put the second verb in the infinitive with to.

She decided to go to Mexico.

We need to make a phone call.

After some verbs, use the -ing form.

I enjoy running.

They avoided travelling by bus.

some common verb patterns

verb + -ing	verb + infinitive with to enjoy	choose finish	hope
avoid	expect
imagine	would like
stop	decide
like	seem
don't mind	want
spend (time)	need help promise

Many verbs that show preference (things that we like or don't like) are followed by -ing, e.g. like, enjoy, don't mind.

After some verbs it is possible to use the -ing form OR the infinitive with to, e.g. love, hate.

I love dancing. I love to dance.

I hate getting up early. I hate to get up early.

There is little change in meaning.

5.3 asking for/giving directions

useful questions	directions	saying you understand
Can we walk? Excuse me, can you help me? Is this the right way? Can you show me on the map? Is it far?	It takes about twenty minutes. Keep going ... You'll see ... You can't miss it.	OK, so I need to ... Right.

GRAMMAR

6.1 present perfect + for/since

Use the present perfect to talk about things that started in the past and are still true now.

We've been married for fourteen years.

(We got married fourteen years ago and we are still married now.)

Use since to talk about the specific time something started, e.g. 1992, last week, Monday, I was a child.

We've known each other since we were children.

(We are friends now.)

He has played football since 2002.

Use for to talk about a period (length) of time, e.g. ten years, two months, a long time, an hour, a few weeks.

I haven't seen him for a few weeks.

I've lived in Barcelona for twenty-five years.

To ask about the length of time, use How long have you ...?

How long have you worked for Dell?

Use the past simple, not the present perfect, for things which happened at a specific time in the past.

I moved to Spain in 2001. NOT

I have moved to Spain in 2001.

6.2 may, might, will

Use may/might + infinitive to talk about probable situations.

We also use may/might + infinitive to talk about future possibilities.

I might go to the party.

They might not arrive today.

We may have some problems.

She may not like the dress.

Do not use contractions with might not and may not.

The question form with might is rare.

The question form with may is used for asking permission. It is a very polite form.

May I sit here?

May I open the window?

Use will + infinitive to talk about a future prediction.

The negative of will is won't (or will not).

I will be home at 9p.m. tonight.

She won't come here tomorrow.

Will they win the match?

In spoken English, use the contracted form of will ('ll) in positive sentences. Do not use it in questions.

I'll be home at 9p.m. tonight.

It is common to use think/don't think + will.

I think she'll get the job.

I don't think I'll go to university next year.

6.3 seeing the doctor

doctor

What's the matter/problem?

How long have you had this problem?

Where does it hurt?

Can I have a look (at ...)?

It's nothing to worry about.

I'll give you some pills/antibiotics/medicine.

I feel sick/terrible.

I can't sleep.

I'm worried about ...

It hurts when I walk/talk.

It's very painful.

7.1 used to

	subject	used to	infinitive
+	I, you, he/she/it, we, they	used to	go	to the cinema every Saturday.
-		didn't use to never used to	go	on holiday.
?	Did you	use to	work	hard?

Note: Notice the spelling of use to in the negative and question form.

We didn't use to live in a big house. NOT

We didn't ~~used to~~ live ...

Did you use to play a lot of football? NOT

Did you ~~used to~~ play ...?

Use used to to talk about a past habit or situation which is not the same now.

We used to live in London. (But now we live in Warsaw.)

I used to play a lot of tennis. (But I don't play any more.)

It is possible to use the past simple instead of used to.

I used to go out a lot. = I went out a lot.

It is not possible to use used to to talk about something which happened just once or at a specific time. For this, use the past simple.

We moved in 2002. NOT We ~~used to~~ move in 2002.

It is not possible to use used to to talk about the present.

I usually eat at home. NOT I ~~used to~~ eat at home.

The negative of used to is didn't use to. In spoken English, never used to is more common.

They never used to worry about money.

We never used to eat chocolate.

7.2 purpose, cause and result

Use the infinitive with to to talk about the reason or purpose for an action.

I went to the shop to buy some milk.

Note: It is not possible to say ~~for to buy~~ some milk.

It is also possible to use in order (not) + infinitive with to.

GRAMMAR

8.1 relative clauses

Use relative clauses to talk about what a person, place, or thing is (or does).

This is the machine which we used to make the copies.

He's the man who helped us.

Also use relative clauses to explain which one we are talking about.

She's the girl who has green eyes.

That's the town where I was born.

Use who for a person.

He's the doctor who looked after your grandmother.

Use where for a place.

This is the city where she grew up.

We can use which/that when we are defining a place.

Paris is the city which I'd like to visit the most.

Use which for a thing.

This is the knife which the killer used.

It is possible to use that instead of which or who.

She's the girl that lives next door.

This is the machine that we used to make the copies.

When we define something by using a relative clause, we use the, not a/an.

It's a car. We used it at the weekend.

It's the car that we used at the weekend.

8.2 too much/many, enough, very word	use it before	meaning	example

not enough	nouns	less than is necessary/right	There aren't enough chairs.
very	adjectives/adverbs	emphasis (can be good or bad)	She's very nice. He's very ugly.

Too is always used to say that something is negative (more than is necessary/right).

These trousers are too small. (negative)

Much is used with uncountable nouns, e.g. rice, water, money, news. These are called uncountable nouns because we cannot say one rice or two rice.

Many is used with countable nouns, e.g. days, people, dollars, computers. These are called countable nouns because it is possible to say one day, two days, etc.

It is possible to use adjective + enough to say something is OK.

The room is big enough.

It is possible to use enough before a noun.

Do we have enough chairs?

Use very + adjective with positive or negative ideas.

She's very nice. (positive)

This hat is very expensive. (negative)

Spoken grammar: We sometimes use enough as a noun.

That's enough. You're talking too much, children.

It is common to end a sentence with enough when the listener already knows what we are talking about.

A: What about drinks?

B: We have enough.

before plural nouns	I'm taking four classes this term.
before most cities, countries and continents	I live in Germany.
in some phrases with prepositions	on Tuesday, at sea, in hospital, at work the (definite article)	example to talk about something that has already been mentioned or information that the speaker and the listener already know	I saw a lion. The lion was sleeping.

to talk about something when there is only one	I looked at the Moon.
before some plural place names	the United States before seas/oceans/ rivers	the Atlantic before the names of some areas	the north west of England in some phrases with prepositions	in the evening, at the beginning with superlatives	She is the tallest.

9.3 making guesses

it is possible	example
It could + infinitive	He could be late because of traffic.
It might + infinitive	It might be John at the door.
Maybe ...	Maybe it's an antelope.
Perhaps ...	Perhaps she went to bed late last night.

it is not possible	example
It can't be ...	It can't be Mary's coat because she didn't come to the party.
It's definitely not ...	What's the answer? It's definitely not 'A'.

| 7 He's lost his homework. | g) That can't be right. We only had two cups of coffee! |
| 8 How many people are called Smith? | h) It can't be David. He's out of the country until next week. |

GRAMMAR

10.1 uses of like

like (verb)
+		I	like	living in the city.
-		She	doesn't like
?	Do Where do	you	like	going out in the evening?

Use like (verb) to talk about things you like:

What do you like doing in the evening?

I like going out at night.

be like (preposition)

?	What	is	he/she/it/Antigua/your new house	like?
---	------	----	----------------------------------	-------

Use be like (preposition) to ask for a description:

A: What's it (the city) like?

B: It's a big city, with lots of traffic.

Note: Be careful not to confuse the two forms.

Question: What's it like?

Answer: It's a lovely city. NOT ~~I like it very much.~~

10.2 present/past passive

Use subject + be + past participle to form the passive.

present passive
	subject	be	past participle
+	I/you/he/she/it/we/they	am/are/is	told	that he is the best player.
-	Rugby	isn't	played	here.
?	Is this dish		made	with potatoes?

past passive
	subject	be	past participle
+	I/you/he/she/it/we/they	was/were	stopped	by a policeman.
-	The photo	wasn't	taken	here.
?	Was the dog		killed?

Use the active voice to talk about the things people do:

John stole the camera.

Liz ate the bread.

Use the passive voice:

- to talk about what happens to things or people:

The camera was stolen by John.

The bread was eaten by Liz.

- when the cause of the action is unknown:

Thousands of people are killed on the roads every year. (We don't know who kills them.)

- when the cause of the action is not important:

The cakes are made in France. (It is not important who makes them.)

If we want to say who does/did the action, we use by:

The criminal was caught by the police.

Penicillin was discovered by Sir Alexander Fleming.

10.3 complaining

before making a complaint	complaint	response
Could you help me? I'm afraid I have a complaint.	There's a problem with ... It doesn't work.	We'll look into it right away. I'm sorry, but there's nothing we can do at the moment.
Excuse me, could I speak to the manager?	I've been here for over an hour.	I'm really sorry about that.

PRACTICE

10.1 A Put the words in the correct order to make questions.

- 1 like / job / your / what's / new ?
- 2 new / do / my / dress / like / you ?
- 3 like / what / is / tapas ?
- 4 there / the / what's / like / weather ?
- 5 like / in / you / living / the / do / country ?

B Match questions 1–5 with answers a)–e).

- a) I love it. It's so peaceful.
- b) Yes. It really suits you.
- c) It is delicious. It is small dishes of vegetables, fish and meat. You can eat them as a starter.
- d) It's great. I really like the people I'm working with.
- e) It's terrible. It's windy and wet.

C Find and correct the mistakes. There is a mistake in each line.

- 1 I like listen to music. My favourite band is Jamiroquai.
- 2 How is the flat like? Is it modern?
- 3 Have you seen Terminator 4? Did you like?
- 4 So, you've got a new boss. What's like he?
- 5 What's like the weather? Is it raining?
- 6 Are you like speaking English?

10.2 A Underline the correct alternative.

- 1 Only fresh fish is serve/is served/is to serve in this restaurant.
- 2 Yesterday she has given/was given/is given a ten-year prison sentence.
- 3 Shoplifters aren't caught/not caught/aren't catch very often.
- 4 This book was written/is written/was wrote by a Frenchman in 1886.
- 5 At the moment, films are show/were shown/are shown only on Wednesday evenings.
- 6 Hundreds of people arrested/were arrest/are arrested for drink-driving every day.
- 7 I made the mistake because I am not telling/wasn't told/haven't told what to do.
- 8 The prisoners are sent/were send/were sent home last night.

B Rewrite the sentences in the passive. Add by where necessary.

- 1 The French eat snails.
Snails _____.
- 2 Dostoyevsky wrote Crime and Punishment.
Crime and Punishment _____.
- 3 A journalist asked me some questions.
I _____.
- 4 Alejandro Ledesma produces all of our programmes.
All of our programmes _____.
- 5 Alec Guinness played most of the roles in that film.
Most of the roles in that film _____.
- 6 Swiss companies make the best chocolate.
The best chocolate _____.

10.3 A Put the words in the correct order to make conversations.Conversation 1

A: me / excuse / complaint / have / afraid / a / I'm / I

A: excuse / to / speak / me / could / manager / I / the ?

B: Yes

A: an / I've / been / hour / here / over / for

B: sorry / really / I'm / that / about

GRAMMAR

11.1 present perfect + just/yet/already

It is common to use the present perfect with just, yet and already.
Use just to talk about something which happened very recently.
Put just before the main verb.

I've just passed my driving test!

We've just got back from holiday.

Use yet in negative sentences and questions to talk about something which hasn't happened, but you expect it to. Put yet at the end of the sentence.

A: Are you ready?

B: No, we haven't finished yet.

A: Have you booked a table yet?

B: No, not yet. I'll call the restaurant in a minute.

Use already to talk about something which happened, maybe before you expected. Put already before the main verb or at the end of the sentence.

I've already had four cups of coffee this morning.

He's found a job already!

Spoken grammar: It is common to use not yet as a short response to a question. It means we expect to do something soon, but we have not done it.

11.2 real conditionals + if/when

If/When	+ present	+ will/won't + infinitive
If	you don't study,	you won't pass the exam.
When	the film finishes,	I'll turn off the TV.

Use If/When + present + will + infinitive to form a real conditional.

There are two clauses: the if/when clause and the main clause. You can reverse the order of the clauses, but the if/when clause always uses the present tense.

(if/when clause) (main clause)

If we see Ann, we'll ask her to call you.

NOT ~~If we will see Ann, we'll ask her to call you.~~

(main clause) (if/when clause)

We'll ask Ann to call you if we see her.

Use real conditionals to talk about situations in the future and their consequences.

Use if for a situation which is likely. Use when for a situation which is certain.

If I pass my driving test today, I'll be very surprised. (I'm not sure about this.)

When I pass my driving test, my father will buy me a car. (I'm sure about this.)

It is also possible to use may/might/could/should in the main clause instead of will.

If it's sunny, we might have a picnic later.

When they arrive, they should call to tell us.

11.3 giving opinions

agreeing	disagreeing	giving your opinion
That's right.	I totally disagree.	I think ...
That's true.	I'm not sure about that.	I don't think ...
Definitely.	I don't think so.	In my opinion ...

To sound polite, use I'm afraid and I'm sorry, but ... when you disagree.

I'm afraid I totally disagree.

I'm sorry, but it's just not possible.

PRACTICE

11.1 A Underline the correct alternative.

- 1 We're travelling around the Greek Islands. We've been to fourteen islands just/yet/already.
- 2 I'm leaving this evening, but I haven't packed my bags just/yet/already.
- 3 A: Have you seen Martha?
B: She's just/yet/already left. You might catch her in the lift if you hurry.
- 4 A: Can you wait a minute, please?
B: I've just/yet/already been here for more than half an hour.
- 5 A: Do you know if your sister is coming to the party?
B: I'm not sure. I haven't spoken to her just/yet/already.
- 6 I thought Alf was going away for three weeks, but he's just/yet/already come back.
- 7 Great! I've just/yet/already booked the tickets on the internet. Now, we wait for the confirmation.
- 8 A: Can you call Emily?
B: I've just/yet/already spoken to her. That was her on the phone a minute ago.

B Find and correct the mistakes. There is a mistake in the word order in each conversation.

- 1 A: Have you read this book?
B: Yes, I've finished it just.
- 2 A: Are you ready to go?
B: No, Imelda hasn't called yet us.
- 3 A: Let's go to the British Museum.
B: We've been already there.
- 4 A: Becky looks tired.
B: Well, just she's run five miles.
- 5 A: Are you coming out later?
B: I'd love to come out, but I haven't finished yet my work.
- 6 A: There's a film on tonight.
B: Yes, but already I've seen it three times!

11.2 A Put the verbs in brackets into the correct form.

- 1 I _____ home when I _____ my studies. (leave/finish)
- 2 If you _____ the class, I _____ some notes for you. (miss/take)
- 3 When I _____ Sandra, I _____ her what she thinks. (see/ask)
- 4 We _____ time for lunch if the train _____ at 12 o'clock. (not have/leave)
- 5 If I _____ my boss for a pay rise, he _____ it to me. (ask/not give)
- 6 I _____ dinner if you _____ the shopping. (cook/do)
- 7 If the weather _____ nice, we _____ out for a walk. (be/go)
- 8 We _____ on holiday when Al _____ some time off work. (go/get)

B Find and correct the mistakes. There are mistakes in four of the sentences.

- 1 If you will be in the office tomorrow, we talk about it then.
- 2 When Brian comes back from holiday, we'll arrange to go out.
- 3 When I hear from the rest of the team, I'll let you know.
- 4 We'll ask the doctor when we will get to the hospital.
- 5 If Theo behaves badly in class, the teacher speak to his parents.
- 6 They move into the house as soon as Mark will finish building it.

11.3 A There is a word missing in each sentence. Complete the sentences with the missing word.

- 1 I'm, but I don't think there is enough money for that.
- 2 I don't we should spend too much time discussing this.
- 3 I have to say I think right.
- 4 I'm afraid totally disagree.
- 5 Make them pay fines? I'm not sure that.
- 6 In opinion, we should start from the beginning.

B Complete the conversations with the phrases in the box.

I'm afraid I think totally disagree my opinion Definitely not sure about

- A: ¹ _____ we should all go home early today.
B: I'm ² _____ that.
A: It's OK to hunt animals for sport.
B: ³ _____ I ⁴ _____.
A: In ⁵ _____, these politicians should go to prison.
B: ⁶ _____! They're criminals.

GRAMMAR

12.1 reported speech

direct speech	reported speech
present simple → 'I play the guitar.' →	past simple She said she played the guitar.
present continuous → 'They are watching a film.' →	past continuous He told us they were watching a film.
will → 'I'll call you later.' →	would She said she would call me later.
can → 'He can work until 9.00.' →	could She told me he could work until 9.00.

When we report speech, the pronouns sometimes change.
'I eat meat.' → He said he ate meat.
'We'll help you tomorrow.' → They said they would help me tomorrow.

Use reported speech to tell someone what another person said.

It is common to change the verb tense/form when we report speech.

It is common to use say and tell to report speech.

Tell is followed by an object.

He told me (that) he was hungry. NOT

He ~~told that~~ he was hungry.

Say is not followed by an object.

She said she worked in France. NOT

She ~~said me~~ she worked in France.

When the present simple is used to describe a habit, we don't need to change the verb tense in reported speech.

'I get up at 6a.m.' → She said she gets up at 6a.m.

'We don't eat meat.' → They told us they don't eat meat.

12.2 hypothetical conditionals for present/future

If + past simple	+ would/wouldn't + infinitive
If I had more money,	I would buy a car.
If I wanted a job,	I would look for one.
If I was famous,	I wouldn't be happy.

Use If + past simple + would/wouldn't + infinitive to form a hypothetical conditional.

Use hypothetical conditionals to talk about an imaginary situation in the present or future and its consequence.

If I knew the way to the museum, I would tell you.

(I don't know the way to the museum.)

If I won the lottery, I would never work again!

(I'm very unlikely to win the lottery – it's an imaginary situation.)

Would is often contracted (I'd, you'd, he'd, we'd, they'd).

Would not is contracted to wouldn't.

If we had more money, we'd buy a bigger house.

We wouldn't live in the city if we didn't need to.

It is possible to change the order of the clauses. Notice that there is a comma after the if clause in the first example, but no comma in the second example.

If we had children, our lives would be very different.

Our lives would be very different if we had children.

With the verb be it is possible to use were (instead of was).

If he was/were a lawyer, he would tell you what to do.

Use If I were you ... to give advice.

If I were you, I'd tell him your plans. NOT If I ~~was~~ you.

It is also possible to use could.

If I could sing, I would start a band.

12.3 requests and offers

requests	responses	offers
I'd like to ...	No problem.	Would you like me to ...?
Would it be possible to ...?	Certainly.	Do you want me to (get a) ...?
Would you be able to ...?	Yes, of course.	Shall I ...?
Could you recommend ...?

Motorbike courier, Brazil

In Brazil, they are called motoboys, and on average, one of them dies in traffic every day. Foreign correspondent Peter Lane met the motoboys of São Paulo. He learnt that accidents are not the only problem – there are also robberies. It happened to Roberto Coelho.

'It was terrible, a really bad time for me. I lost everything. We don't have insurance and the company doesn't help us.' The motoboys usually earn just $450 a month.

Lane asks, 'When you know the streets are dangerous, why do you still drive so fast?' Coelho says it's because they often work under time pressure. 'We know it's dangerous, but we have no choice.'

Lane also spoke to some car drivers. One said, 'These motorcycle couriers are so dangerous. They drive too fast and they don't care about the rules of the road.' Another said, 'Most of them are just kids. It's no surprise they have accidents.'

Once in a while, they try to change the traffic laws – they want the motoboys to drive like everyone else. But the changes all failed, so the motoboys continue to risk their lives in one of the most dangerous jobs in the world.

Lesson 3.3

8 Student A: think about what you are going to say when you receive and make phone calls in these situations. Role-play the situations with Student B.

Answer the phone

- 1 You work for Nova Restaurant. Take a message.
- 2 You work for Amber Cinema. Answer the phone and tell a customer the times of the film The Magic Hat: 2.30p.m., 5.00p.m., 7.30p.m. and 10.00p.m., with a special extra showing at 12.00p.m. at the weekend.
- 3 Answer the phone normally. Listen and respond to the invitation.

Make a call

- 4 You are calling Ripping Yarns, a theatre company. You would like six tickets for Hamlet for Friday.
- 5 You are calling Brandon's Restaurant. You want to change your reservation from 7.30p.m. on Tuesday to 8.00p.m. next Wednesday. There will now be ten people, not five, so you need a bigger table.
- 6 Ask your partner if he/she wants to go for a snack after class.

Lesson 5.1

3 Student B: read the text and make notes.

INTO THE WILD

When Chris McCandless graduated from Emory University, USA, he knew he wanted more from life than a normal career. He gave away his savings – $24,000 – to charity, abandoned his car, burned the money in his wallet, and gave himself a new name: Alexander Supertramp. He rejected the modern world and decided to experience life alone and in the wild.

With hardly any equipment or technology, McCandless went into the Alaskan wilderness*. While he was travelling, he met several people who helped him, giving him rides and food. One man even offered to adopt him as a grandson, but McCandless decided to keep going, into the wild.

Eventually he ended up in an abandoned bus, hunting and picking plants for food. While he was living wild, he wrote a diary. It described his day-to-day life and the difficulties and pleasures he had from living in nature. McCandless stayed in the bus for four months and then his diary stopped. Eventually his body was found by a hunter.

Following a book describing his life, a film came out based on his adventures.

*wilderness: a wild area where no one lives

4 B Student C

Danger Rating 6/10

'Bang!' goes the gun. The gates open and the horses come running out. All eyes are on them. Money, fame and glory are the prizes.

Horse riding looks so beautiful that it is sometimes easy to forget how dangerous it is. Life as a jockey is rarely safe and it usually involves a few broken bones. Once in a while, jockeys even die during a race.

Jill Cleveland spoke to jockey Vincent Dax in France. As a young man, Dax was one of the best jockeys of his generation. He knows the sport is dangerous, but he never worries. 'When the race starts, we forget about the danger. We know it's not like riding a bicycle or driving a car, but all we think about is winning.'

During his career, Dax has broken many bones, including both arms and one leg, and he once fell off his horse and was knocked unconscious. So why do jockeys risk their lives? 'We love racing. We love the speed and we love the money. Jockeys know the risks involved, but we are good at what we do. If we get hurt, we just get back on the horse. That's life.'

Lesson 4.3

9 A Student B: explain your problem. Then listen and respond to the advice.

Your friend would like a girlfriend. The problem is he works long hours and is too tired to go out in the evenings. He usually buys a take-away meal and falls asleep watching the TV. He doesn't have any hobbies and is getting fat. You know lots of single women, but you don't think they would be interested.

B Listen to another student's problem. Give the student some advice.

Lesson 5.1

3 Student C: read the text and make notes.

RABBIT-PROOF FENCE

It is Australia in 1931. Three Aborigine girls, Molly, fourteen, her sister Daisy, eight, and their cousin Gracie, ten, were taken from their home by government officials because of their race. They were sent to live in a camp far from home. Life at the camp was terrible, and they hated it.

One night when it was raining, the girls decided to escape. They knew that the rain would hide their footprints in the mud, so they began the long journey home. In the desert they had no food and nowhere to sleep.

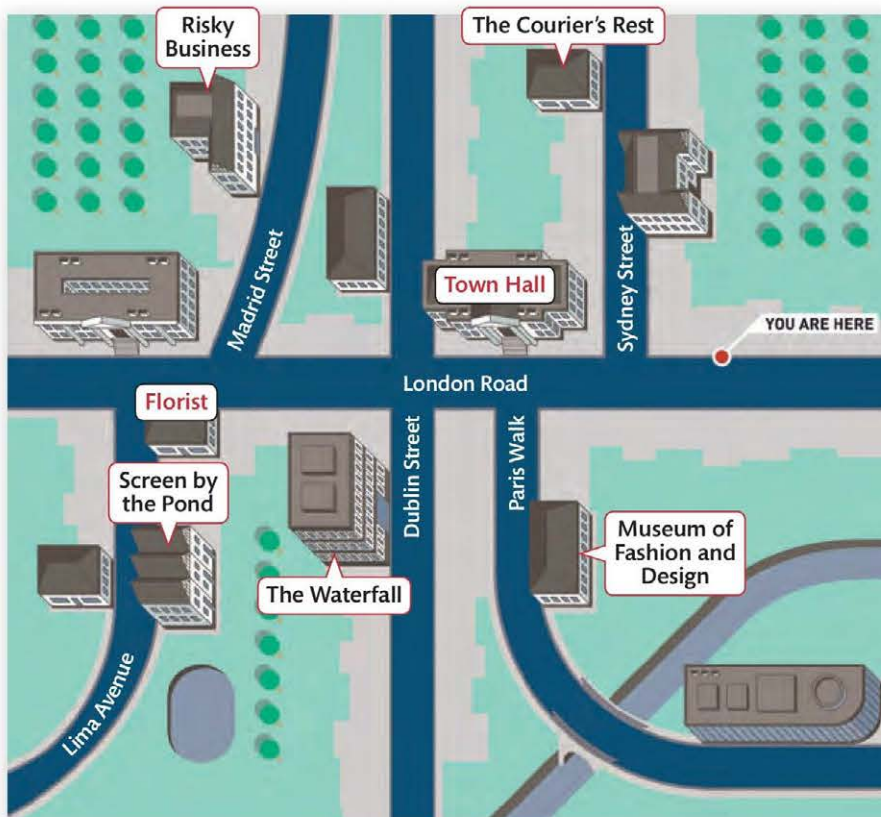

They didn't have a map either, but while they were walking, they saw the 'rabbit-proof fence', one of the longest fences in the world. It was there to stop rabbits from entering farmland. The girls recognised the fence and walked next to it for 1,200 miles. After nine weeks they got home.

Many years later, Molly's daughter, Doris Pilkington Garimara, wrote a book about the journey and in 2002 the story was made into a film, Rabbit-Proof Fence.

Elephant skin is only thick in some places. It is very sensitive.

B An eagle's eye:

Eagles can see fish in the water from hundreds of feet away and an eagle's sight is four times stronger than a human's.

C A dog's nose:

Dogs have an amazing sense of smell. Many dogs can recognise the smell of their old owners many years after they last saw them.

D A chameleon's skin:

A chameleon's skin can change colour when the chameleon needs to hide.

E A shark's teeth:

Some types of shark have thousands of teeth. These teeth are extremely hard. A shark can bite through iron.

F A camel's hump:

Camels' humps are made of fat and they allow camels to survive in the desert without food or water for up to two weeks.

G A fly's eyes:

Flies' eyes are very different from humans' eyes. The shape of flies' eyes allows them to see the world in almost 360 degrees.

Birth name: Aung San Suu Kyi

Birth place: Rangoon (now Yangon),
Burma (Myanmar)

Date: 19 June 1945

Childhood/Education:

Father killed when she was young. Grew up with her mother and two brothers in Rangoon. Educated in a Methodist English school. Noted for having a talent with languages. Moved to India in 1960, graduated in Politics. Continued her studies at Oxford University, UK.

Early career:

Moved back to Burma in 1988 and entered politics calling for a democratic government. The military took power and Aung San was arrested. Offered freedom if she left the country, but she refused.

Rise to fame:

Continued her non-violent action for democracy and refused to leave the country. In the 1990 election her party received 59 percent of the votes, but Aung San was kept under house arrest causing an international outcry. Awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1991.

Later life:

Spent more than 15 years under house arrest in Rangoon. Spent her time reading and playing the piano and sometimes meeting with diplomats. Wouldn't leave the country even when her husband was dying of cancer in 1999. Released from house arrest in 2010. Travelled the world as an ambassador for political freedom and peace.

Story 1

My boyfriend and I were at a restaurant and I don't know how he did it, but he put the engagement ring in my salad. I didn't see it and I put it in my mouth. I think he panicked and tried to stop me. Anyway, luckily I felt something hard as I bit into my food and I didn't swallow it. I took it out, saw what it was and accepted! So that was how we got engaged. It was almost a disaster. We got married one month later.

Story 2

We decided to go on holiday in Egypt as we both liked diving. This was me and my girlfriend at the time. So we went on a dive and I proposed to her underwater. I didn't say anything. I just gave her the ring while we were, I don't know, ten feet under. Luckily, she smiled. We got back on the boat and she said yes.

My husband and I are video artists. We met at art school and honestly we fell in love immediately. And what he did was he made a funny two-minute video, he put it on YouTube and sent a link to me. And it was him proposing. And in the video there was music and then all of our friends suddenly appeared, singing and dancing. It was amazing and such a surprise. I watched it and then I surprised him. I accepted his proposal, but I didn't tell him. Instead I made a video of me saying yes.

I've known Michelle for a long time and we met when we were at school together. We were about eleven years old and I had to show her to her peg to hang up her coat and we've been mates ever since. Er ... we get on really well. She's one of those people that if you haven't seen [them] for six months, six days, it's the same. It's like time hasn't passed. We've got lots of things in common. We play tennis together. The only problem with Michelle is that she's a bit competitive and we've fallen out over tennis. Sometimes if she wins, I haven't spoken to her ... erm ... and she's just one of those people you can rely on. She's sort of like number one in my phone book. Erm ... and yes, she's a great person. We have a real laugh together.

Lesson 2.1 Recording 2.2

A: Today we're looking at how companies motivate their staff. Sarah, can you tell us more?
B: Absolutely. Internet companies are famous for this type of thing. At Yahoo there's a free bus ride to work for employees. There's also a dentist and a hairdresser at the office.
A: Makes life easier for employees ...
B: Exactly. And, wait for it, one day a month the staff watch films together.
A: Great ideas.
B: Yep. Now at Google, lunch is free, and you can also get a cheap massage at the office.
A: Wow.
B: And other companies are bringing in new ideas, too. A company called Pontiflex in New York created a nap room, where employees could sleep for 15 minutes.
A: Nice idea.
B: At several companies we're hearing that the relationship between bosses and employees is changing. At one company, the boss writes thank you notes to employees. At another, the staff does a job swap two days a year. So a senior manager might clean floors for the day, and the cleaner can sit in an air-conditioned office.
A: Does that motivate everybody?
B: Well, it helps employees to see what everyone else is doing in the company, which I think is ... very valuable and of course

I: And what are you doing on your break?
M: I'm choosing my free CD for the week.
I: Free CD? Can you tell us a bit more? Why are you doing this?
M: Sure. Kinko's, the coffee shop, has an agreement with the music shop. The employees at the music shop get free coffee at Kinko's. They all come in during their break. And we get one free CD a week from the music shop.
I: Great!

I: Right. So you have a study area?
W: Yeah. As you can see, David, over there, is studying. And these two are doing an online course.
I: And this is during company hours? Does the boss know about this?
W: It's the boss' idea. The company pays for employees to do courses. So during our breaks or after seven when the shop closes, we can stay on and study.
I: That's excellent. And are you studying at the moment?
W: Yeah, but I'm not studying anything connected with fashion.
I: What are you studying?
W: I'm studying history.
I: And the company pays?
W: The company pays. It pays for about six of us. I think six of us are doing online courses.
I: Brilliant.

I: And what are you doing now?
E: Well, I'm checking my emails at the moment because I need to see what work I have to do today.
I: At one o'clock?
E: Well, the company has flexible hours. You can arrive when you want and go home at any time.
I: That sounds good.
E: It's great. We get a salary for good work, not for the time we spend in the office. So, really, the important thing is to do your job well. That's what the boss says, anyway!

I = Interviewer M = Man

I: Can you tell us a little about what you do and what you like about your job?

M: Yes. I'm a marine biologist. I work mainly in the sea and also in the lab. One good thing about my job is that I like working outside.

I: I see.

M: In fact, I can't stand sitting at a desk all day. Um. What else?

I: Maybe you get to travel ...

M: I travel a lot and I absolutely love travelling, particularly in South America and Australia.

I: Right. And what about your colleagues, people you work with?

M: Actually, most of my time is spent alone, which kind of suits me. I don't like working in a team. I prefer working alone.

I: Really? And what about the type of work?

M: It's interesting – there's a lot of lab work, but it's a very practical job. You're working with animals and plant life the whole time. And, y'know, I don't mind getting my hands dirty. That's important. Also, I'm keen on learning new things – and you do learn all the time in this job. You're always discovering new things.

I: That's great. It sounds wonderful.

M: I couldn't do an office job because I hate working under pressure. And I'm not very keen on working for a company. I just want to be my own boss.

I: So, you found the right job for you.

M: I found the right job for me, yes.

A = Alistair Z = Zeinab

A: Zeinab, can I ask you a few questions about your work/life balance?

Z: Of course.

A: OK. First question: how much time do you spend sleeping?

Z: Lots! Probably about eight or nine hours a night!

A: Really?!

Z: Yep.

A: OK. And what about studying?

Z: Well, I suppose usually about five or six hours a day, although it depends. I mean if I have an exam coming up or something, it's probably more.

A: And do you ever have a holiday?

Z: Oh yeah. Probably twice a year I try and go abroad and just completely relax.

A: OK. What about your weekends? Do you ever study at the weekend?

Z: Not usually, but once in a while I open a book!

A: Right. And do you think you have a good work/life balance?

Z: I think so, yeah. I'm not too stressed or anything.

A: Easy life being a student.

Z: Oh yeah!

Lesson 3.1 Recording 3.1

P = Presenter R = Rafael C = Carmen

P: You probably think there's nothing to do for free in New York, right? Well, New York may be one of the most expensive cities in the world, but if you look carefully, there are still lots of fun things to do that will cost you next to nothing, or may even be free. We sent two journalists, Rafael and Carmen, out onto the streets of New York with just $20 to spend. Their challenge was to organise a great day out, but not go over their budget. Let's listen to their plans. Rafael?

R: Yes.

P: Rafael, hi, can you tell us what you're planning to do with your $20?

R: Hi, yes, well, actually I'm going to start the day with a delicious bagel from a great bagel shop I've discovered on 3rd Avenue. They are really cheap and tasty. Then I'm going to spend the morning in Central Park. The park is filled with free events and street musicians, so I'm just going to listen to music and watch people. In the afternoon, I'm going to the Museum of American Finance. You have to pay to go in, but I'm really interested to find out about the history of American banking. After that, I'm taking the Staten Island Ferry. It's free, and it's a great way to see views of New York from the water. In the evening, I'm going to see some live music on 2nd Avenue. I'll need to buy one drink, but the music is free.

P: That sounds great, Rafael. Enjoy the day.

R: Thank you. I'm sure I will.

P: OK, so Rafael has chosen bagels, Central Park, the Finance Museum and live music in the evening. Let's hear about what Carmen is planning for her day. Carmen?

C: Hi.

P: Carmen, can you tell us what you've planned for your day in New York City?

C: Yes, of course. I'm really excited, because I'm going to the High Line to see some sculptures, and just walk around and see what's happening.

P: The High Line? What's that?

C: It's an old railway track. Now, it's used as a park, and there are lots of different activities and artists there. It's a really peaceful and beautiful place, right in the middle of the city. Lots of people go jogging there. I'm not going running, though. I'm going to see a free art exhibition. After that, I'm going to Times Square.

It's such a famous place, and there are a lot of tourists there, but I really like the atmosphere, and there's an Italian restaurant that does the best cheesecake just nearby. So, I'm going to have something to eat, and then in the evening I'm meeting with a friend and we're going to a free hip-hop class. I'm going to learn to dance like a real New Yorker.

P: Wow, that sounds good. So, first you're going to eat cheesecake, and then you're going dancing. Right?

C: Exactly!

P: That sounds like a great plan. So, two great plans there. Which would you choose?

Conversation 1

A: Como's Restaurant.

B: Hello, I'd like to book a table for four on Saturday night. Around eight thirty if possible.

A: Let me just have a look. This Saturday?

B: Yes.

A: Saturday the fifteenth. Sorry, we're completely full on Saturday. There's nothing at all.

B: Ah, what about Sunday?

A: Sunday, Sunday. Um ... the best I can do is a table at nine o'clock.

B: Nine o'clock? You haven't got anything earlier?

A: Nothing at all, I'm afraid.

B: OK, let's go ahead. Nine o'clock.

A: Can I take your name, please?

B: The table is for Jack Hopper.

A: Jack ... hang on ... can you repeat that, please?

Did you say Jack Hopper?

B: Yes. H-o-double p-e-r.

A: OK, that's all booked. Table for four, nine o'clock, Sunday.

B: Great. Thank you.

A: Thank you.

Conversation 2

A: RSA Theatre. Jenny speaking. How can I help you?

B: Hello, I was wondering if you could help me. I've booked tickets for the show on the tenth of June, but I'd like to change the date.

A: OK, one moment. Can I just check? What's the name, please?

B: The tickets are booked in the name of James King.

A: Sorry, I didn't catch that. Did you say King?

B: James King.

A: OK, yes. Two tickets for June the tenth. What date would you like to change to?

B: What dates do you still have seats for?

A: There's nothing on the twelfth or thirteenth. There are two seats for the eleventh, but they're separate. We have ...

B: Sorry, can you slow down, please? Two seats for?

A: Sorry, two seats for the eleventh, but they aren't together. We can do you two seats together on the fourteenth of June.

B: Fourteenth of June. That's fine.

A: OK. I'll just go ahead and book that.

Conversation 3

A: Hello?

B: Hello, it's Mary here. ... Hello? Can you hear me OK? It's Mary here.

A: Oh hi, Mary. How are you?

B: Very well, thanks. And you?

A: Yeah, fine.

B: Are you doing anything on Saturday? Because a few of us are going out for dinner.

A: Sorry, Mary, can you speak up, please? I'm at the station and I can't hear a thing.

B: D'you want to go for dinner on Saturday?

A: Oh, that sounds nice.

B: There's going to be a few of us, Mohammed and Clare, and Robin.

A: That sounds like fun.
B: Are you free?
A: I think so.
B: Alright. Eight-thirty, Saturday. Pauly's.
A: OK. Pauly's on Saturday at eight-thirty.
B: That's right. Great. See you soon.
A: OK. Thanks for calling.

Conversation 4

A: Withertons. Who's calling?
B: Hello, this is Kim. Kim Brower. Can I speak to Alexandra Sanders, please?
A: I'm afraid she's not here at the moment.
B: Ah, do you know when she'll be back? I've tried her phone three or four times and left messages, but she hasn't called back.
A: She's visiting a customer. She should be back this evening. Can I take a message?
B: It's about dinner tonight. I've had to cancel because of work.
A: OK. I'll ask her to call you back.
B: Thanks.
A: Does she have your number?
B: It's 01823 2766.
A: Can you repeat that, please?
B: 01823 2766.

Lesson 3.4 Recording 3.8

OK. I'm going to tell you about how to go local in Pisa, Italy. I'm going to take you on a tour that only the locals would know about. First of all, we're starting the day with a coffee and a fresh pastry from a little bar near the Vettovaglie market. I love this place because it's where all the locals who are selling on the market go to have their coffee. And the coffee is delicious. We're going to spend the morning walking through the market and the old part of the city near the university. Afterwards, for lunch, we're going to one of the best restaurants I know. It's called Le Bandierine and they specialise in home-made spaghetti and seafood, and we're going to have a fantastic meal there. In the afternoon, we're planning to go a little outside Pisa to San Rossore park. It's a beautiful place to walk, but they also have horse races there, so we can have some fun watching the horses. In the evening, we're going back towards the Leaning Tower for an early evening drink to look at the Piazza dei Miracoli as the sun goes down, when all the tourists have gone home. We'll finish the evening with a wonderful pizza from a restaurant on the other side of the city. I'm sure you'll love it. It's going to be a day to remember.

Lesson 4.1 Recording 4.3

I = Interviewer M = Mario

I: So Mario, can you tell us how you used your talent in your job?
M: Um, well, I've always enjoyed cooking. I come from a big Italian family and I learnt to cook by watching my mother in the kitchen.
I: But no one knew you could cook, right?

M: That's right, no one knew. I only cooked at home, but I did it well. Then in my twenties, I started to make meals for my friends. And, well, I was working in an office. And I brought food to office parties, that kind of thing.
I: Then you had an idea ...
M: I had the idea to sell my food at work.
I: So your colleagues buy your food every day.
M: Yeah, I started selling it to friends and colleagues, and then to other people at work. I prepared all kinds of things: bread, pasta, cakes.
I: And then you made a decision.
M: Yeah, office work was OK, but I wanted to do something more interesting. So eventually, I asked the boss if I could open a café in the office.
I: And he was happy to ...
M: He agreed. They gave me a room. Now I bring food there every day. We have chairs and tables. And now that's my job.
I: Have you ever thought, 'Oh, I prefer my old office job. This is too difficult.'
M: Never. I've never thought that because this is what I love doing: cooking and preparing different menus. Really, it's the best decision I've ever made.
I: And have you thought about expanding the business, maybe opening a restaurant one day?
M: I've thought about it, but it's a long way away!

Lesson 4.3 Recording 4.6

G = Glynn M = Magda

G: Magda, many of my students are too shy to speak in front of the class. They worry about making mistakes.
M: Yes, this is a common problem. Teachers should give students time to prepare. Tell them the question and give them a few minutes to think about what they'll say. They can take notes first.
G: That's a good idea.
M: Also, let them practise in groups before they speak in front of everyone. This'll give them confidence.
G: Yes, you're right. I do usually give them a chance to practise first. Now what about those students who have problems listening to English?
M: Problems listening. That's common, too.
G: Native speakers – for example people from the UK or Australia or the States – speak really fast and it's difficult to understand them.
M: Yes. Students should practise listening to native speakers. Fortunately, if they have the internet, there are lots of opportunities. They can listen to the news and to podcasts. But even better is to go on YouTube and watch film clips. When we can see the people speaking, it makes it easier. We can watch the mouth and the hands and the body language and it helps us to understand.
G: And using subtitles? Some teachers say we shouldn't use them. Ever!

M: I'm not sure that's a good idea. Subtitles can be a real help. Students can see the differences between the spelling and the pronunciation of words. They can see which words are swallowed ...
G: I suppose so.
M: For me, students should use subtitles maybe the second time they watch.
G: OK, and what about ... students' pronunciation. They have a lot of problems ...

Lesson 4.4 Recording 4.7

A: OK, well, I think the most important invention is probably the internet. For me, it's number one.
B: Uhuh.
A: It's opened up the world and we can get lots of information for free now. And it joins people together from all different cultures and countries.
B: That's true, but I think there are more important inventions. Really simple things that are so common we forget about them.
A: Like what?
B: Well, things like aspirin. It's not really an invention, I suppose, but can you imagine life without aspirin?
A: Umm, not really.
B: And all the other medicines we use.
A: Antibiotics to cure illnesses. That's true actually. Painkillers.
B: And another invention that I see as really important is the car.
A: Oh yeah, definitely.
B: Before the car, travel was so slow it took days to get anywhere.
A: That's true. People went everywhere by horse, didn't they?
B: Yeah, and so the car opened up possibilities ...

Lesson 5.2 Recording 5.3

- 1 These days, we always expect to hear English in tourist areas. Most people working in tourism speak it, but I always want to talk to local people and many of them don't speak English. So I try to learn a few words of the language, especially 'please' and 'thank you', and I always take a small dictionary.
- 2 I love walking when I go on holiday ... 'cause I think ... I think you see more, so I always take a really good pair of walking boots.
- 3 I think a good digital camera is important when you travel. I always take a lot of photos. And I also take binoculars.
- 4 When I'm not travelling for work, I usually spend my holidays in a warm place, so I always take a sun hat. But when I go somewhere during the winter or rainy season, I always take waterproof clothes.
- 5 I think it's a good idea to buy a really good suitcase. And when you pack, leave enough space for souvenirs. On the other hand, I enjoy travelling in wild places, so often I take a backpack not a suitcase. If you decide to go walking, a backpack is much easier to carry.

- 6 It's best to avoid carrying too much money because you don't want to look like a rich tourist! 'Cause of this, I always take a money belt on holiday.
- 7 I need to write things down to remember them so I take a notebook and pen.

Lesson 5.3 Recording 5.4

- 1 To get to Argentina, you wait at the corner for the bus. It takes you down Avenida das Cataratas and right into Avenida Mercosul. The bus goes straight on for about 25 minutes. Cross the bridge and you're in Argentina.
- 2 To see the Iguazu Falls on the Brazilian side, you turn right and just go straight on down Avenida das Cataratas and Highway 469 and the Falls are in front of you. You can't miss them – they're the biggest in the world!
- 3 To get to Paraguay, you have to go left. You go along the main road through the park past the trees. Then you turn right and you're on Avenida Kubitschek. Let's see. From there you keep going until you reach Highway 277. Go left. The bridge is at the end of the highway. Cross the bridge and you're in Paraguay.

- A: Excuse me. We're trying to get to the carnival. Is this the right bus stop?
- B: Yes, but you don't need the bus. It's very close.
- A: Oh! Can we walk?
- B: Yes, it takes about ten minutes from here. Just go straight on. You'll hear the music!
- A: OK. Thank you very much.

Conversation 2

- A: Excuse me, can you help me? I'm looking for the Plaza Hotel. Is this the right way?
- B: Um ... Plaza Hotel, Plaza Hotel. Yes, keep going, past the cinema and take the first left.
- A: OK.
- B: Then keep going for about fifteen minutes until you reach the end of the road. And you'll see the sign for the hotel. You can't miss it.
- A: OK. Can you show me on the map?
- B: Sure.

Conversation 3

- A: Excuse me, we want to get to The Grand Motel. Is it far?
- B: Um ... sorry, I've no idea. Jim, do you know?
- C: What?
- B: The Grand Motel?
- C: The Grand Motel? Yeah, it's just over there. Just go to the end of this street. Go left and go past the ... um ... there's a restaurant. Go past the restaurant and it's on the left.
- A: On the left. So I need to go to the end of the street, turn left, go past the restaurant and it's on the left.
- C: Yeah, that's it.
- A: Thanks a lot.

Lesson 5.4 Recording 5.8

OK, well, we would like to go to Easter Island. It is very isolated, very far from other places, and the nearest country is Chile, over two thousand miles away. We are going to travel there by plane and stay with different families and the trip is going to take three months. We want to experience the local culture, their music, food and way of life. So our plan is to speak to the local people about these things and to film them. We hope to find out about their traditions and to see what they think of their history. Well, finally, my husband and I always wanted to go to Easter Island. I read about it when I was a child and I saw pictures of these amazing stone heads on the island. So for us, this is the journey of our dreams.

- 11 How long have you had it?

Lesson 6.2 Recording 6.3

I = Interviewer S = Sue

- I: Sue, what are the latest food trends?
- S: We have lots of interesting developments, and even possible solutions for world problems related to food.
- I: Great. So can you kind of ...
- S: Well, the key question is always what to eat, and here we may see some changes, things that you might not understand as food groups.
- I: Can you give an example?
- S: An example is insects.
- I: As a food group?
- S: Well, in Latin America, Asia and Africa, people have eaten insects for thousands of years, but it's only now that we in the West are seeing what a good food source they are. Insects are rich in protein, low in fat, and easy to farm.
- I: So spiders and ants may be on the menu?
- S: We might see them on menus in the West. Now, technology will also play a part in the future of food. Scientists have already found ways to create meat in the lab.
- I: Right, but it tastes awful, doesn't it?
- S: It tastes awful now, but maybe it won't in the future. And as well as meat made in a lab, we're also looking at ways to make proteins out of things like mud and wood and also seaweed.
- I: It seems incredible that mud might be something we can eat.

S: Well, it's the same for seaweed, which again is easy to farm because it's everywhere. Um. Other developments on your kitchen table include an intelligent knife.

I: What's that?

S: An intelligent knife will tell you all about the food it's cutting. So, say you cut a slice of meat, the knife will tell you how much protein and fat is in the meat, where it's from, how old it is.

I: That's amazing.

S: Really giving people more information about their food.

- W: A few weeks now. And I can't sleep at night because my head hurts.
- D: You can't sleep?
- W: That's right.
- D: And are you very worried or under pressure at the moment?
- W: No, I don't think so.
- D: Do you have a healthy diet?
- W: Hmm. Quite healthy.

- W: Yes, I do.
- D: How much?
- W: Tea? Probably about eight cups, or ten.
- D: A day?
- W: Yes.
- D: I see. And has that changed in the last few weeks?
- W: Not really.
- D: OK. Well, the first thing is I think you should stop drinking so much tea and coffee. Try to drink just one small cup a day. I'll give you some painkillers for the headaches. Take two of these three times a day. I don't think it's anything to worry about, but if ...

- M: Um. Well, sort of.
- D: What happened?
- M: I kicked a wall.
- D: I see. When did you do that?
- M: About a week ago.
- D: OK. Did you go to hospital?
- M: No.
- D: Can I have a look?
- M: Yes, of course.
- D: Where does it hurt? Here?
- M: Arggh. Yes, there.

D: Can you move it?

M: Yes, a little, but it's very painful.

D: Hmm. I think it might be broken. It's nothing to worry about, but I think you should go to the hospital for an X-ray. I'll write you a note and if ...

Lesson 6.4 Recording 6.8

To get healthy, you need a combination of things. You need the right diet. You need to exercise. You need to sleep seven or eight hours. Then there are other things related to lifestyle: how many friends you have, how happy your relationships are. These are really important and they affect your general health. In this person's case, there are some changes he can make. For example, he needs to do some exercise. I understand that his back gives him problems, which is quite common in someone of his age. But he could really help himself by doing more activity. He could try going for walks or cycling. Also, six hours of TV every day is too much. He should spend some of that time exercising or seeing his friends. He must lose weight, so maybe he could eat less meat, perhaps once a day instead of twice. Now, some of these changes are related to the people around him. For example, if it's his wife who does the cooking, she'll need to ...

Lesson 7.1 Recording 7.1

Part 1

P = Presenter J = Jessica

P: Now, have you ever daydreamed about changing your life forever, about giving up your job and setting off for a distant country where you could find love and happiness? Well, Jessica Fox did just that and she's on the line now to tell us about her journey. Jessica, welcome to the programme.

J: Oh, thank you for having me. It's a pleasure to be here.

P: Now, you started your journey in Los Angeles. Tell me about your life there. What was your job? What sort of lifestyle did you have?

J: Ahh, I was consulting for NASA. I was doing what I loved. I was living in a city that I adored and I had an extraordinary network of friends. There was, I can only describe it as like a ... an abstract taste that I was missing. And so I really began ... it was about a year ... I began daydreaming of something quite different.

P: Did you have an actual vision of what the change might be?

J: I would often sit down in my studio and just dream of different things, and usually they turned into the screenplays I was writing, and this dream kept on coming back of working in a used bookshop by the sea. And I ...

P: Working in a used bookshop by the sea?

J: In Scotland, yeah.

P: In Scotland, right. Had you ever had any connection with used bookshops or Scotland before?

J: None, absolutely none.

Part 2

P: And so did you set about doing something to realise the dream?

J: Yeah, it happened quite quickly, actually. I typed in 'used bookshop, Scotland', into Google and Wigtown came up, Scotland's national book town of, I think, it was about sixteen bookshops and I thought 'Oh my gosh, one of them, hopefully, will take me in for a kind of live/work exchange while I was on holiday and I could realise this dream of ...'

P: So, did you just send an email to these bookshops and ask them to take you in?

J: I sent one email to the first bookshop on the list, which was The Bookshop, and it was the largest used bookshop in Scotland, and within a couple of emails this sort of extraordinary, generous bookshop owner said 'Yes, I host a lot of other artists. Come on over for the festival.'

P: And so you came over and you stayed at The Bookshop, and what sort of a bookshop was it? What sort of impression did it make on you when you first arrived?

J: I would describe it as, if Harry Potter had a bookshop, this would be it.

P: And what about the bookshop owner? Did you get on with him?

J: I did. You know I was ... I was here for a specific reason. I really wanted to get away from things, I wanted to write, so when I first met the bookshop owner I, it was just ... it was a friendly, a kind of a friendly relationship I had with him. I didn't get to know him very much until towards the end of my stay ...

Part 3

P: Your month ended and you went back to LA. Did you find yourself missing the shop and missing the owner?

J: Yeah, I loved the shop, I loved the town itself and the people there. And it took me a while to admit that it was actually most of all the bookshop owner that I was missing.

P: And how did you find out that he was missing you too?

J: We would correspond over email and Skype and I'd get lovely packages from him with things I missed about Wigtown.

P: Such as?

J: Such as, this is terrible, such as the biscuits, digestives, the digestive biscuits I absolutely adore, um, and a lot of the sweets and movies. I fell in love with Scottish films.

P: So your relationship deepened? Did you think, 'Well maybe I'm falling in love with this man'?

J: Yeah and I think the reason why it took so long for me to admit was that it meant a radical life shift. And luckily my job shifted at NASA so suddenly I had this freedom of being able to be anywhere in the world that I wanted. And I just thought, 'Well, why let all my characters in my movies have all the fun?' I really wanted to jump in and try this. This was a true challenge, an adventure.

P: So, tell me about your life now, living above the bookshop in Scotland.

J: Well, right now there's a heater underneath my legs – it is absolutely freezing – there is ice crawling up the windows, but it's very cosy, um, and the snow has just hit here, it's beautiful outside, and Wigtown remains, four years on, remains as charming as when I first came.

P: ... and how is it going with the bookshop owner?

J: Wonderful! You couldn't find a more beautiful place, and you couldn't find more excellent people, and you know ... the love of my life is here so ...

P: Jessica, it's been wonderful to speak to you.

J: Thank you so much for having me.

B: The registration desk is there.

A: Thank you so much.

Conversation 2

A: Excuse me, where's the study centre?

B: It's next to the cafeteria.

A: The cafeteria? Where's that?

B: Follow me. I'll take you there.

A: Thank you. That's very kind.

Conversation 3

A: Where can I use the internet?

B: You can use the computers in the library or in the study centre.

A: Do I have to pay?

B: No.

A: So, it's free for students.

B: Yes, that's right.

Conversation 4

A: Excuse me, what time is the library open?

B: It's open every day, from 9a.m. until 6p.m.

A: Did you say 'every day'?

B: Yes, that's right. Every day, from nine in the morning until six in the evening.

A: Thank you.

Conversation 5

A: Could you help me? Where can I get a new student card? I've lost mine.

B: OK. If you go to the main reception, you can get a new one.

A: Thank you.

Conversation 6

A: Excuse me, can you help me find my classroom?

B: Sure. What number is it?

A: 301.

B: OK. You need to go up to the third floor. And it's on the right.

A: Thank you so much.

Conversation 8

A: Can you help me?

B: Yes, maybe.

A: I need to find out about my accommodation. Can you tell me where to go?

B: Accommodation? I think you have to go to the welfare office, over there, next to the bookshop.

A: Thank you.

Lesson 7.4 Recording 7.8

Well, when I first arrived in the USA, it was a very interesting time for me. The biggest problem was that I couldn't really speak the language very well. I learnt English at school and at university in Poland, but it's very different when you are living in the country and you need to speak it all the time. I felt very nervous when I had to speak to American people, like in the shops or when you meet friends, and I couldn't understand what people were saying to me. It was terrible. I used to stay at home, and watch loads of television to try and understand what people were saying. Luckily, I made friends very quickly with some American girls, so we used to go out together, and that really helped me. After a few months my English was much better. I felt more confident. And now I talk to people all the time, but it was hard at the beginning.

Lesson 8.2 Recording 8.2

Speaker 1

I work as a nanny, looking after children aged two, three, and five. I'm actually a live-in nanny. I live with the family. I came into the job with my eyes open. I knew it would be hard work, because children can be difficult, though of course they're fun, too. Also, we work long hours, and too many of us do extra work like cleaning and cooking when we should only look after the children. Nannies, particularly live-in nannies, aren't paid enough. Some of us need two jobs. We should earn enough just from being a nanny because working with children is a really important job. It's like teaching. It affects the future.

Speaker 2

I'm a firefighter. It's one of the most dangerous jobs that exists. Really, it's too dangerous to be paid so little. People see us relaxed and calm and maybe we go and rescue a cat from a tree and people think 'oh they earn too much, their job is easy'. But when there's a serious fire, we have to be ready, even if it's just once a year. We risk our lives to save people, sometimes stupid people who fell asleep with a cigarette in their mouth or forgot to switch off the oven. You know, we save people, we save buildings, we save businesses. Anything and everything can burn down, and that's why we're so important.

Speaker 3

I'm a research biologist. I work on finding solutions to some of the world's major problems, such as disease and hunger. The thing is, it's always difficult to get funding, to get enough money to actually do the research. Some of our projects are very expensive. They can cost millions of dollars, and it can take years before you see results. So, actually I'm not asking for a bigger salary for myself, but I'd like more money for the lab. Too many scientists spend too much time applying for grants asking for money rather than actually doing their job in the lab. When things go well for us, the whole world benefits, so I think this work should be better funded.

S = Shop assistant W = Woman

S: Can I help you?

W: No, thanks. I'm just looking.

S: OK, just let me know if you need anything.

W: Thanks.

Conversation 2

S = Shop assistant M = Man

S: Hi there. Are you looking for anything in particular?

M: Yeah, do you sell those things that soldiers wear? Er ... it's like a jacket.

S: Um, a type of jacket?

M: Yeah, a light green jacket with lots of pockets.

S: Ah, you mean a flak jacket?

M: Yes.

M: Ah, yes. Thank you. Can I try this on?

S: Of course.

M: Where's the fitting room?

S: Just over there.

M: Thanks.

Conversation 3

M = Man S = Shop assistant

M: Excuse me. Do you have one of these in a larger size? It doesn't fit.

S: Is that the Large? I'll just go and check for you. I'm sorry. This is all we've got in stock at the moment. There are some other T-shirts over there on the other side. There might be some Extra Large sizes there.

Conversation 4

W = Woman S = Shop assistant

W: Hello. I was wondering if you've got any of that stuff you use for cleaning swimming pools.

S: Um ... yeah, we usually sell a liquid cleaner. You pour it into the pool. There's one here.

W: Can I have a look?

S: Yep.

W: How much is it?

S: This one's twenty-eight pounds ninety-nine for a litre bottle.

Conversation 5

S = Shop assistant M = Man W = Woman

S: Hi. Are you paying by cash or credit card?

M: Credit card.

S: Can you enter your PIN, please? Thanks. Here's your card.

M: Thanks.

S: Thank you. Who's next, please?

W: Do you take Mastercard?

S: Yes, that's fine. Can you just sign here, please?

Lesson 8.4 Recording 8.6

Our business is called Ragbags. Our idea is to make beautiful bags out of recycled material, so old jeans and clothes that you would normally throw away. We hope to make money by re-using old material and turning it into different types of bags; all types of bags, shopping bags, beach bags, handbags, whatever you need. So, you can either buy one of our ready-made bags, or if you have some material that you really like, we can make one especially for you. To be successful, we need to make sure the bags are really good quality and look wonderful. We don't need a lot of money to start the business, because we'll make the bags at home. We plan to sell Ragbags at markets, in local shops and also online. We'll have a website with lots of beautiful photos, where people can choose their designs and colours and then order their wonderful bag. And the best thing about the company is that you will have an amazing bag, made from your own favourite recycled material. Each bag will be unique, one of a kind, and we'll have fun making them too. It's a win-win.

Lesson 9.1 Recording 9.1

Hi and welcome to Green Ideas. Now, the problem with some of the traditional ways of saving the environment is that they can be really boring. So today we're looking at ideas for protecting the environment that are a bit different, and we think they sound fun. Our first project is called Hug it Forward. This great project started in Guatemala where communities decided to work together to build schools out of old plastic bottles. In the first project, over 1,800 kids from the region filled 10,000 plastic bottles with bits of plastic, food wrappers and other rubbish found on the streets. They then used the bottles as bricks to help build a school. By the time they had finished, they had a new school and the area was a lot cleaner too! Now the idea is spreading, and around the world more communities are using the bottle school technology to build their own schools. What a fantastic idea! And here's an idea for those of you who enjoy going out clubbing. The Surya nightclub in London was one of the first eco-friendly nightclubs in the UK. The club has a special dance floor which uses the movement people make when they dance to generate energy. The dancers manage to produce 60 percent of the energy that the club uses for light and music. The owner of the eco-club had another great idea. If you walk or cycle to the club, rather than using a car or public transport, you get free entry. I love it. And our final idea for today is the story of the Seoul River Park. It's getting more and more difficult to find green spaces in cities, so when Dr Kee Hwang had a 'crazy' idea to take down the city's main highway and uncover the river that flowed below, to make a green park, most people thought he was mad. They told him that his idea would create traffic chaos and would be a disaster for the area. But Dr Hwang went ahead with the project, and created the 5.8 kilometre green river park. It's a place where the residents of Seoul can walk, relax and really enjoy the city. And do you know what? People are happier, and there's a lot less traffic chaos than before! It just shows that sometimes even the craziest ideas can work.

- 1 I met wonderful people in the Amazon.
- 2 The birds we saw were amazing.

- 4 We need to put up a tent.
- 5 We took photos of the beautiful scenery.

Lesson 9.3 Recording 9.7

M = Man W = Woman

M: Why do we use rats after an earthquake? I'm not sure. It might be to help find people or other animals?

W: Yeah, they're used to rescue people. They can move in small spaces and they have a good sense of smell so they can find people.

M: Why do some prisons use abandoned dogs? Mmmm, let me think. It could be as prison guards. Maybe they use the dogs to guard the prisoners? Actually, no, it can't be that because they'd be trained dogs, not abandoned dogs. I don't know.

W: OK. It says: it was a programme that started some years ago. Abandoned dogs are taken to prisons, and then the prison inmates take care of them until the dogs are adopted.

M: Why does the army use dolphins? It's definitely not to attack people because dolphins are kind of nice. Um, it's hard to say. I really don't know.

W: Dolphins are used to protect areas of water. They can detect swimmers who shouldn't be there. A light is attached to the dolphin's nose. The dolphin bumps into the swimmer and the light falls off its nose. This tells the army where the swimmer is.

M: Why did airport security plan to use gerbils in the 1970s? Perhaps they can smell drugs or something like that?

W: Gerbils can smell people's adrenaline. When someone is excited, scared, or angry, adrenaline is released by the body. The airport security bosses hoped the gerbils would smell terrorists or other criminals in airports. In the end, the idea was abandoned because gerbils didn't know the difference between terrorists and people who were just scared of flying.

M: Why do we use seals for research in the ocean? Er, that's a good question. It might be because they can live in very cold temperatures.

W: They can dive deep down into freezing water. Scientists can attach research equipment to the seals' bodies, and this doesn't stop the seals from diving and swimming.

Lesson 9.4 Recording 9.9

A: OK, the most beautiful place I've been to. Well, a few years ago I went to Fish River Canyon.

B: Where?

A: Fish River Canyon. It's the second biggest canyon in the world.

B: After the Grand Canyon?

A: After the Grand Canyon.

B: Where is it?

A: It's in Namibia, in Africa.

B: Wow. And what did you think of it?

A: It was amazing. The first thing you notice is how big it is, of course.

B: Of course.

A: It just goes on and on as far as your eye can see. But the best thing about it was the silence.

B: Right.

A: It was so amazingly quiet. We went there in August and there weren't many tourists and it was just so quiet.

B: Would you like to go back?

A: I would love to go back. One day!

B: One day.

I = Interviewer D = Daniela

I: Daniela, so you live in Melbourne, right?

D: Yeah, that's right.

I: Well, Melbourne has been voted one of the best cities to live in for young people. So what do you think? Do you like living in Melbourne?

D: I love it! Melbourne is a really great city. It's very friendly and fun. Umm ... there're lots of things to see and do.

I: OK, so you can go out a lot?

D: Yeah, it's very arty, there are lots of cafés and street art, music ... and the nightlife is really good. People like to enjoy themselves in Melbourne.

I: That's great. And what about getting around? What's the public transport like?

D: Public transport is really good, actually. It's quite cheap, and it's efficient. You can go everywhere by tram, and sometimes it's even free.

I: So, what do you like best about living in Melbourne?

D: I think it's probably the atmosphere. Also, it's a great location. It's really close to some fantastic beaches, so there's surfing. It's got everything really. It's a great city.

Conversation 2

I = Interviewer R = Rick

I: Rick, you've lived in Dubai for ... what, four years, right?

R: Yeah, four years.

I: So what's it like, living in Dubai?

R: Well, I read that Dubai is one of the world's fastest growing cities, so there are a lot of people, and it's very crowded. It's a great city for shopping, and going out. And it has a really good nightlife, with lots of bars and clubs.

I: Is it a safe city?

R: Yes, there isn't a lot of crime. The streets are very safe. But one of the biggest problems is the traffic. Everyone drives a car here – petrol is still cheap, so the traffic's terrible. One good thing is the taxis though. There are lots of them, and they're cheap, so you don't have to drive.

Conversation 3

I = Interviewer M = Matt

I: What about Prague? What's Prague like, Matt?

M: I've always loved Prague. I think it's definitely one of the best cities in the world.

I: What do you like best about living in Prague?

M: I think it has to be the city itself. It's so beautiful. It's like the city of your dreams, with beautiful buildings and squares. The old streets are wonderful to walk along. It is full of culture, music, bars, restaurants ...

I: What about the weather? What's the weather like in Prague?

M: Yeah. OK, when I arrived in Prague, it was minus seven degrees. So, obviously, it gets very cold in the winter, and there is a lot of snow. But, in the summer, the sun shines, and you can sit outside in the cafés or walk up to the castle. It's a very special city and the people are so friendly.

G: Oh, hello. Could you help me? There's a problem with the air conditioning.

R: Oh, yes?

G: I've just tried to switch it on, but it doesn't work.

R: Is it completely dead?

G: Completely. Absolutely nothing.

R: OK, we'll look into it right away. I'll send someone up. It'll be about five minutes, OK?

G: Thanks.

R: You're welcome. And sorry about that.

Conversation 2

D = Diner W = Waitress M = Manager

D: I'm afraid I have a complaint. Could I speak to the manager, please?

W: Yes, of course.

M: Good evening, sir. I understand there's a problem.

D: Yes. I'm afraid I have a complaint.

M: Oh?
D: Well, we got here at eight. And then we waited about twenty minutes for a table.
M: Right.
D: This is for a table we'd booked for eight, OK? Then we waited another hour for our meal.
M: Right.
D: One hour. Then when the bill arrived, they put this extra charge on it.
M: An extra charge? That's probably the service charge.
D: Well, could you check this for me, please?
M: Yes, that's service.
D: Well, to be honest, I don't want to pay this.
M: Of course not. Well, sir, I am really sorry about that. It's a very busy time of year.

Conversation 3

M = Man W = Woman

W: Excuse me. Do you work here?
M: Yes.
W: Do you know when the next train will be arriving? I mean, I've been here for over an hour.
M: I'm sorry but there's nothing we can do at the moment. Everything is delayed.
W: And you don't know when the next train is coming?
M: No.
W: Or why there's a delay?
M: Snow.
W: What?
M: Snow on the track. It was the wrong type of snow.
W: What do you mean 'the wrong type of snow'? You're kidding, right?

Lesson 10.4 Recording 10.7

- 1 One thing that really annoys me is the fact that we import so much food from overseas, rather than growing our own food here in this country. So you go to the supermarket and you can buy strawberries in the middle of winter, and I suppose that's OK. But then you try to buy an apple, and the apples are from New Zealand, and you think, 'Well, that's just crazy.' I mean I don't understand why we need to fly apples all over the world when we could just grow them here in this country? It really makes me angry. It would be so much better for the environment if people bought food locally. So, I'd like to start a campaign to encourage people to buy and eat local food. Perhaps I could start a website or publish articles in newspapers to try to get people to stop buying food that comes from all over the world.
- 2 I get really fed up with the fact that there's nothing for teenagers to do in this town. I just think it's really difficult because people complain that teenagers are just on the streets, causing problems. But actually, there isn't really anywhere else for them to go. There are no sports facilities, or clubs where they can spend time together and have some fun. And another thing is we get a lot of crime, because there're too many bored teenagers around. I'd like to raise money to build sports centres and youth clubs where teenagers can go to enjoy themselves, or do sports or learn something. I think there should be more things for teenagers to do, and they should be better and cheaper.

Lesson 11.1 Recording 11.1

- 1 I use my phone for everything. I text most of the time because it's quick and cheap, so I text my friends and my boyfriend. I like texts because they're quiet – nobody knows what you're saying. My mum used to call me all the time to check that I'm OK, but now she can text me, which is much better. I get really annoyed when you're talking to someone though, and they're texting someone else. I think that's really rude.
- 2 I use the internet a lot. I use Skype to keep in touch with my family because my daughter lives in France, so I don't see her very often and the phone is expensive. With the internet, I can see my grandchildren – it's wonderful. My son sets up the computer for me. I haven't learnt how to do that yet. And sometimes it crashes during the phone call, which is annoying, or I can't see the picture properly. But usually it's fine. Generally, I think technology is wonderful. When I was younger, we only dreamed of having video phone calls, but now it's possible and it's free.
- 3 We use a blog. It's a great way to tell people about your travel experiences. We've been to so many places already and it's nice to tell people about them. And you can put photos there of the people you meet and the places you visit. The best thing is that as soon as you write the blog, people all over the world can read it. The only problem we have is when we can't find an internet café.
- 4 I've just started to use networking sites like Facebook. I found some friends I haven't seen for years and it was great to get in touch again. The only problem is that I keep checking it when I should be working.

Lesson 11.2 Recording 11.3

- 1 If you give me your details, I'll send you the photo.
- 2 If people sign the petition, the company'll have to respond.
- 3 When your friends see the video, they won't be surprised.
- 4 If the situation gets worse, will you leave your job?
- 5 If there aren't elections soon, people will start protesting.
- 6 When you see this picture, I'll be in the Canaries!
- 7 If the product is really good then people won't write bad reviews.
- 8 If they change the design, will you buy one?

Lesson 11.3 Recording 11.5

M1 = Man 1 M2 = Man 2 W = Woman

M1: I use the internet all day at work and I still get my work done.
M2: Yeah, me too.
M1: I'm sorry, but I really don't see what the problem is.
W: I think the problem is that lots of workers spend all day surfing the internet and wasting their time instead of doing their work.
M1: Hmm.
W: And students at university are failing their degrees because they spend all their time checking Facebook and watching videos that friends send them.
M2: Yes, that's true, but ... um ... I don't think, you know, I don't think that the problem is the internet. You know, I think the problem is with the websites like Facebook.
M1: Yeah, definitely, like YouTube.
M2: Some companies and universities stop you from using certain websites. And in my opinion that's OK.
W: But it's so easy to waste time. I don't think you should use the internet when you're trying to work, unless you need it for your work, for research or something.
M1: I'm not sure about that. Going on the internet sometimes gives you a break. It's like having a cup of coffee or talking to someone in the office. People should use the internet as much as they like.
W: I don't think so ...
M2: Yes, that's right. I think it's good. I run a small business and my staff use the internet as much as they want to. I don't check what they are doing. They do all their work and they are happy. I don't think it's a waste of time at all. It's the same as going to a bookshop ...
W: No, but ...
M2: ... or looking through a pile of magazines.
W: I'm afraid I totally disagree. The problem is that people are addicts. People aren't addicted to reading books, but the internet is different. People spend too much time in front of their computer or their phone. They choose the internet over sports and going out. They forget how to live in the real world, and I think it's a real problem.

Lesson 11.4 Recording 11.8

- 1 OK – smart phone? That's essential. I love it. I use it all the time, for everything. I talk to people, chat, text, take photos. I couldn't live without my phone. Microwave? That's essential. I don't have lots of time for cooking, so I use the microwave a lot. Television? Not essential. I don't watch much television. DVD player no ... not essential. Digital camera? Not essential. I use my phone. So, what else? Er ... laptop? That's ... essential really. I use my laptop for work, so yes, I need that. Tablet? Hmm. I guess it's not essential.

2 Which are essential? All of them!
Goodness. Right. Smart phone? Essential. I don't go anywhere without my phone. I need it in case there's an emergency and I have to call someone. Or if there's a problem with one of the children. Yes, I definitely need my phone. TV? That's essential really. I couldn't live without my television and DVD player. Umm. Laptop? Well, I need a computer really so yes, that's essential. Tablet. Well, no that's not essential. Digital camera? I suppose I don't need that. Someone else can take the photos! What else? Microwave. No. I can live without that.

He told me he was an actor, but he told John he was a doctor!
He told me he was an actor, but his wife said he was a waiter!

Lesson 12.2 Recording 12.4

A: If I could be famous for anything, it would be art. I love painting and if I had more time, I would love to paint seriously. If I could have a painting in a museum, I'd be really happy.

B: I'd be a famous politician. If I was a politician, I would try to change the world. To stop all these wars and do something to help poor countries. You know, I think it's terrible how most politicians don't seem to worry about things like that.

C: If I could do anything, um ... I think I'd be a famous footballer or something like that. Imagine if you scored a goal for your country in the World Cup, that would be such a good feeling. You would remember something like that forever.

D: I'd love to sing. If I could be famous for anything, I think I'd be a singer. Or a dancer. I'd love to be a famous dancer. I'm terrible at both of those things – I can't sing or dance! I guess that's why we have dreams, isn't it?

E: I would love to be a famous writer, or poet, like Shakespeare. I think it's a wonderful thing to be able to write a book that people all around the world want to read. To be able to speak to people in that way. Yes, I'd like to be remembered as a great writer. But I don't think that'll happen.

F: If I could be famous for anything, well, let me see ... for being beautiful! That would be good. One of those beautiful actresses who wins at the Oscars. If I was famous, I would be rich, live in a big house, and have all those clothes. Oh yes, that would be nice.

G: If I could be famous for anything, it would be for inventing something, like a medicine or a cure for cancer. Not for being an actor or a musician. If I invented something that made people's lives better, that would be good.

8
H: What would I want to be famous for? Hmm. I wouldn't like to be famous. If I was famous, I wouldn't be happy. No, I prefer just being me, thank you.

B: Hello. How are you?
A: Fine, thanks. What can I do for you?
B: I read that there's a local market in the area. Is it a food ...
A: The food market. Yes, it's a bit of a walk. Maybe thirty minutes.
B: Oh, that far?
A: Would you like me to call a taxi? It's about a five minute drive.
B: That would be wonderful.
A: OK, just a moment. I'll see if there's one waiting.
B: Thank you very much.

Conversation 3

A: Good morning.
B: Morning. I forgot my adaptor for the laptop. It's from the United States. Would it be possible to borrow one from the hotel?
A: An adaptor plug? Of course. Do you want me to send one up to your room?
B: Yes, please.
A: Can you give me a moment? I'll ask at the desk. It's just for a laptop?
B: Yeah, that's right. A U.S. laptop. I just forgot the adaptor.
A: OK, no problem. What's your room number?
B: Fourteen.
A: Room fourteen. OK.
B: Thanks a lot.

A: Hold on. Let me just check where it's playing. OK, here we are. Yes, shall I book the tickets for you? Do you have any preference about the seats?

B: Any seats. Two together.

A: Two together, yes. OK, and it starts at 7 o'clock. So you should have plenty of time, and if you'll just wait here while I ...

Lesson 12.4 Recording 12.7

I grew up by the sea. My father and my uncle are fishermen, and as a child I used to spend all my time on the beach. Every morning I watched the fishermen come in with their nets full of fish, and these men seemed so free and happy. So, I had this idea that I wanted to work on a boat. But the problem was: it was a very male profession. Only men did it, and fishermen didn't accept that women could go fishing. They thought we should stay at home and clean the house, do the cooking, have babies. I always asked my father to go on the boat with him and he always said no, stay at home and help your mother. Anyway, it's a long story, but eventually I became a cleaner in a hotel. And then one day I had the chance to work as a cleaner on a ship, one of the big cruise ships. It's a great job, and I've done it for the past six years. It's a dream come true because I spend a lot of time at sea. My next dream is to have a houseboat and actually live on the water. We'll see. I can make it happen!
